Seek local talent for T-V show and footlight booking

DO YOU HAVE ASPIRATIONS IN THE STAR-STUDDED FIELD OF TELEVISION AND FOOTLIGHT ENTERTAINMENT?

Chances for a professional career are being offered by TV Forecast magazine, Arlington Heights Herald and Mount Prospect Herald. A community-wide search is on right now, seeking out a talented star of these suburbs for the honor of a television appearance and prizes that include a professional engagement in a swank spa hotel.

TV Forecast will present the TV Talent Salute to the outstanding neighbor, 16 years on up, on Rubin's "Stars of Tomorrow," December 30, 9 p.m., WGN-TV. The amateur winner, after performing for thousands of Chicagoland TV viewers, will receive the prize of a free week end at the Michigan resort hotel, Whitcomb Sulphur Springs Spa, where his or her first professional appearance is scheduled for the evening of January 5.

All who are talented are eligible, 16 years on up, whether you are a vocalist, instrumentalist, novelty actor or dancer. Simply fill in the entry blank and mail it before December 11, to TV Forecast, Dept. Talent, 185 N. Wabash, Chicago 1, Ill. Or send in your entry letter, giving your full name, address, age, phone number, and description of your act. No coupons, box-tops or subscriptions are necessary.

Remember the deadline . . . December 11. Any resident of Arlington Heights or Mt. Prospect is eligible.

You will be notified by phone or mail directly to appear for the Arlington Heights and Mt. Prospect auditions. A professional board of judges seeking this community's top amateur star may pick you!

Yule home decorating contest to highlight holiday season

Christmas in Arlington Heights is going to mean as much to the adults this year as it does to the youngsters. While the latter patiently await the arrival of Santa, the adults can be working out plans for the Christmas home decorating contest being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

All homes in the area bounded by Wilke rd. to the west, Central rd. to the south, Waterman ave. to the east, and Thomas st. to the north, are eligible to enter. Three cash prizes are being offered, first $25, second $15, and third $8.

Judging will be based on originality, composition and over-all attractiveness. Anyone desiring to enter the contest is asked to fill out the entry blank on page 7 of this issue and mail to the Chamber of Commerce, 113 E. Davis st., Arlington Heights. All entries must be in by December 18, and any received after that date will not be accepted.

The contest will be judged December 21, between 6:30 and 11 p.m. All displays must be illuminated during these hours.

Shopping hours

Another bit of good news for adults is that all Arlington Heights stores will remain open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., from December 14 to 24, with the exception of Sundays. The stores will not close Wednesday afternoons during this period.

Yule music

Nothing is more soothing than old familiar Christmas carols when one is trying to finish up that last minute Christmas shopping. These songs are a tradition of the season and always help give a lift to that lagging step, which is bound to pop up, just before the big day arrives.

The Chamber of Commerce, which is doing a bang up job of making the holiday season in Arlington a gay one, has arranged to broadcast tape recordings of caroling done by local church and school music departments. This music will be aired from December 16 to 22. A schedule and names of choirs participating will be announced next week.

LEGION TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE, KOREAN VETERANS ELIGIBLE TO JOIN POST

Annual open house for all veterans will be held Tuesday night, December 11, at the American Legion home, Miner and Douglas sts., Arlington Heights. Cocktails will be served beginning at 7:30 p. m., followed by the meeting at 8:30 p. m. Refreshments will follow.

Korean veterans are now eligible for membership in the American Legion.

The Legion is 100 per cent behind the blood donors campaign, and the Post will furnish information to anyone in connection with this project.

Details are being worked out for a New Year's eve Monte Carlo party. Tickets will be limited; contact the senior vice-commander for reservations.

Skokie pilot unhurt in crash near Wheeling

A Skokie pilot escaped injury early Monday morning when his plane crashed shortly after taking off from Palwaukee airport at Milwaukee ave. and Palatine rd.

The pilot, Conrad Curele, told county police that ice formed in the carburetor caused the crash.

He told the officers that he managed to rise to 15 feet altitude, traveling at nearly 100 miles per hour, before the engine conked out.

The plane, owned by a St. Louis, Mo., firm, crashed down in a field one-half mile west of Wolf rd., north of Palatine rd. on property owned by Paul Schroeder of Box 274, Mt. Prospect.

Christmas concert at high school Sunday

A Christmas concert, complete with music, dancing and dramatics, will be presented Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, at Arlington Heights high school. Doors open at 3:30 p. m. and admission is free.

The music, dancing and dramatics departments of the high school have joined together to present this annual concert. There will be special settings for each section of the program, which will include ballet dancing to the festive muisc of the "Nutcracker Suite," played by the concert band; "Toyland" sequence by the orchestra, concert band and solo dancers; tableau scene of the "Christmas Story" by the dramatics department, choir, girls' chorus, orchestra and concert band, just to mention a few.

The program has so much variety that it is bound to delight everyone who attends.

SOUTHERN R. R. PRESIDENT STARTED CAREER AS OPERATOR IN A. H. IN 1900

A copy of the Evening Star, Washington, D. C., contains a story of the retirement of Ernest E. Norris as president of the Southern Railway. Mr. Norris started his railway career in 1900 as a telegraph operator for the Chicago & North Western Railway at Arlington Heights.

Chamber of Commerce favors lighting of entire 'loop' area

Fifty members of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce voted unanimously Thursday noon for the initation of special assessment proceedings to provide the entire business district with vapor street lighting, the modern system that is being installed in many progressive communities.

The secretary was directed to prepare a letter for presentation to the village board setting forth the attitude of the business men regarding an extension of the lights to be installed on S. Dunton ave.

The action of CC members came at an all-member noon day luncheon at Simson's restaurant and was a result of an inquiry as to the attitude of the business men present.

The inquirer told them that the installation of the lights might mean increased rents, but there was not a dissenting vote.

Walter Hansen, Chamber of Commerce executive secretary, presented figures obtained by him from neighboring towns who have made the installation within the past 18 months. Those figures indicated that a considerable saving per light could be made by a larger system than planned for Dunton ave., the revised figures for which is over $14,000 for the nine lights.

IF THE VILLAGE board adopts the suggestion, it will not be necessary for engineers to start from scratch. Files dusted off at the municipal office cover a system of lights even more extensive than would be required by the installation of vapor lights prepared by the present village engineers 10 years ago.

Under existing council rules delegations desiring to appear before the board must "make a date." This is understood to have been made by the chamber secretary.

Postmaster has suggestions to Christmas mailers

Postmaster Virginia F. Dodge has issued her annual appeal for early mailing of Christmas greeting cards and gift packages.

"It's later than you think!" the postmaster warned. "Most people wait too long before they give the increasingly heavy Christmas mails a second thought.

The postmaster expects the greatest flood of Yuletide mail in local history. She predicted it would exceed "by a considerable margin" the record-breaking 1950 holiday season.

"This year's deluge of Christmas mail will strain post office facilities severely," she stated. "But we'll get everything delivered by Christmas, if the public cooperates whole-heartedly."

CHRISTMAS packages for distant states should be mailed by December 5, she declared. All Yuletide parcel post should be on its way by December 10.

Christmas cards to friends and loved ones in other States should be deposited by December 15. Greetings for local delivery should be mailed at least a week before Christmas.

To keep Christmas mail on schedule, the postmaster asks that you —

1. Stop at the post office to purchase the extra stamps you're going to need, thus avoiding last-minute crowds. When buying stamps for Christmas cards, bear in mind the desirability of sending the cards by first-class mail. The rate for unsealed cards is 2c and cards mailed in this way do not rate forwarding or return services.

2. Check and revise your Christmas card address list this week end. Purchase your Christmas cards early and address and stamp them at once. Then put them in a convenient place for mailing at the proper time.

3. Lay in adequate supplies of heavy cardboard, sturdy outer paper, strong cord, and printed Fourth Class labels for wrapping parcel post. Packages are limited to 70 pounds in weight, and must not measure more than 100 inches in length and girth combined. Repeat the address inside the outer wrappings, in case they are damaged in transit.

"ABOVE ALL," the postmaster said, "please address plainly and completely. Give the full name, house number, street, name of city, zone, and state. And don't forget to write your return address on Christmas card envelopes. Authorities on etiquette say it's perfectly proper, because it helps people bring their address books up-to-date. But a return address is frequently even more helpful to us!"

Village Theatre to give 'Aladdin' December 15

A holiday season could not be complete without a special fairyland show for the kiddies. This year the Village Theatre of Arlington Heights, which delighted the children with "Sleeping Beauty" last year, will present an adaptation of the fairy tale of "Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp."

Two performances will be given December 15, at 2 and 4 p. m., at the Methodist church auditorium. The fantasy, written by Miss Joan Barry in collaboration with Paul Breitsprecher, is being sponsored by the Methodist Stage club. Miss Barry is directing the show, and Breitsprecher is serving as technical director.

Youngsters attending the various grade schools will receive flyers telling about the show next week.

Tickets will be sold at the school the latter part of the week and will also be available at the door.

Members of the cast are: Davey Crittenden, J. D. Crittenden, Edna Edelblute, Walter Edelblute, Alice Scheske, Patricia Daley, Pat Sullivan, Hazel McElhose, Alta Hutchinson, and Marian Malcolmson.

Thieves steal 10 guns in Des Plaines burglary

Burglars smashed their way into Johnson Electric store at 794 Lee st., Des Plaines early Monday and made off with ten pistols and revolvers. Nothing else was reported missing.

Police estimated the loss at $500.

Entrance to the store was gained by breaking a front display window with a small ball bat, found by police at the scene. The gun case was also broken.

The burglary was discovered shortly after 7 a. m.

That depot again

"I hope I never again will be required to enter the North Western depot at Arlington Heights. I would rather alight from the train at Palatine and use a taxi."

Those words, told to an Arlington Heights business man, were repeated to members of the Chamber of Commerce last Thursday noon.

The words brought immediate action. Member after member wanted to know what was being done about the present depot.

Nobody had a real answer, but all agreed that the condition of the depot is intolerable and that a remodeled building should be included in any land purchase negotiation.

Santa arrives Friday at 4:15

Good old St. Nick has had to resort to many different modes of transportation in his day, but we believe this is the first time he will arrive in Arlington Heights on a shiny red fire truck. What's more, he'll be in town a day earlier than announced in last week's paper.

Friday is the big day, and the kiddies can get their first glimpse of jolly old Santa at the corner of Davis st. and Dunton ave., at 4:15 p.m. His approach will be heralded with sirens and whistles. After giving a greeting to the small fry he will proceed to his headquarters at 113 E. Davis st., where he will personally accept all letters written to him by boys and girls in this area.

Santa, by the way, will be garbed from head to toe in a bright new fur trimmed red corduroy suit, matching hat, high black boots, complete with jingle bells, and a wide black belt, the entire outfit a gift to him from the Chamber of Commerce. Santa has promised to brush his beard till it glistens to match his new suit. Boys and girls may visit him at his headquarters from 4:15 to 9 p.m., Friday, and a little elf told us he's going to have a gift for each little visitor.

Any youngster who misses seeing Santa Friday will still have an opportunity, as he will return to Arlington December 14 and remain here until December 24. His headquarters will be at the chamber office, 113 E. Davis st., but he also plans to browse about the business district to be sure he gets to see all the youngsters. He'll be available for "consultations" with youngsters between 4 and 9 p.m. each day, except Sunday.

Sheriff station in Palatine is before Co. board

A new sub-station for county police may be located in a building now being erected at Algonquin and Medina rds. for the county highway department, it was learned this week.

Plans for the new station and additional police are now being discussed by Cook county commissioners.

Lt. Ed Witry made the recommendation that the space be allocated to the police.

"We would only need a small space—about the same size needed to park a dump truck," said Lt. Witry who heads the Milwaukee station.

Recently, Sheriff John Babb asked for 100 additional deputies and at the time reported the need of a sub-station in the Northwest suburbs. His request for more manpower was approved by a planning council.

The new highway building erected at a cost of an estimated $150,000, will be ready for occupancy within two weeks. It is designed as a "home" for county equipment used in the northwest towns. Provision is also made for offices for use of engineers and draftsmen, who at present are required to do most of their work either downtown or in crowded corners.

ARLINGTON A CITY OF WHITE COLLAR WORKERS

Motorist dies 'at wheel' from heart attack

William M. Langhorst, 65, of 115 S. Walnut ave., Arlington Heights, was fatally stricken Monday morning with a heart attack while driving his automobile on Northwest highway in Arlington Heights.

Mr. Langhorst, a trucker for Cook county highway department, was traveling west on Northwest highway and apparently stopped at the stoplight at State rd. when stricken. His car rolled backward down the incline and stopped in the ditch on the south side of the highway.

Firemen and police inhalator squads were called but failed to revive him.

A resident of Arlington Hts. for the past 12 years, he was born July 23, 1886 at Palatine, the son of William and Sophie Linnemann Langhorst.

In 1918 he was married at Palatine to Emma Hattendorf who survives.

He was a member of St. Peter's Lutheran church.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by a son, William of the home; two brothers, Henry and Arthur, and two sisters, Mrs Annabelle Schmoldt, Mrs. Ella Garms, and Mrs. Sophie Hayward.

Funeral services are being held at 1:30 p. m. Thursday, December 8, at Black's Memorial chapel with Rev. L. V. Stephan, pastor of St. Peter's, officiating. Burial Rand Hill cemetery.

Kiwanis to install 1952 officers, ladies to be guests at meeting

Arlington Heights Kiwanis club is installing its 1952 officers Thursday, December 6, at Ladies Night meeting, at Simson's restaurant.

Installing officer will be Geo Scharringhausen of Park Ridge, the Lieutenant Governor elect of Division 17 Kiwanis International. The 1952 officers are: president, E. W. Lindemann; vice-president, Dr. Leland L. Linn; secretary, Charles Barrett; and treasurer, William Paley. Board of directors include Don Hartman, Dr. H. Paul Carstens, Herb Carl, Walter Aronson, Dan Schueren, Nat Burfeind, William Lenheim and Dr. Robert Balfour.

Among the many activities planned by the newly elected officers is the special Son and Daughter Night for members and their children December 13. Highlight of the evening will be the showing of the film, "Christmas Carol," by the immortal Charles Dickens.

Engineering firm makes first report to Planning Commission

The first of a number of conferences took place Tuesday evening between members of the Arlington Heights Planning commission and Matthew Rockwell of the firm of Stanton and Rockwell, Inc., city planners.

Officially, it was a meeting of the Planning commission, with its chairman, Willard C. Walter, presiding. However, various members of the village board and others who came as spectators had the opportunity to participate in the question and answer period that followed Rockwell's presentation of the work-to-date.

AT PRESENT almost 40% of all industrial workers in Arlington Heights are drawn from outside the immediate village area. In commenting on that situation, Rockwell said, "Any increase in industrial activity in the village will emphasize this problem and is contrary to the trend of present village growth."

The northwest area is unusual in that respect, having a larger number of residents working in Chicago than even the north shore. The city planning firm has not yet had time to determine the extent of tax burden borne presently by industrial and residential areas, but is collecting data from the county assessor's office.

While 64% of inhabitants of the northwest area work in Chicago, over 81% of the new residents in Arlington Heights do so. Only 5% of those who moved here since July 1 have jobs today in Arlington.

THE PLANNING FIRM will not complete its work and be able to give a final report until late next spring. In the question-and-answer period, Rockwell admitted that he could not give at this time a definite industrial recommendation.

The planning commission and the others present were interested particularly in the "pros and cons" regarding the possible zoning of the Kirchhoff farm for industry and the effect it would have on the Arlington Heights of today.

Stanton & Rockwell, because of existing emergency, regarding the Roth Mfg. Co., devoted the earliest investigation along present industrial lines. Among the interesting figures covering existing Arlington industrial plants are the following:

Employed:
Men	73.0%
Women	27.0%
White collar workers	21.6%
Skilled workers	34.4%
Semi-skilled	46.0
Residence:
Arlington Heights	59.5%
Palatine	24.3%
Des Plaines	8.1%
Rural areas	8.1%

ADDITIONAL interesting figures is a breakdown as to the employment of the 127 new families which reveal that 6% are executives, 30% office workers, 26% salesmen, 22% professional, skilled and semi-skilled 10% and engaged in government work 5%.

Industrial planning is only one part of long range planning that is being covered by the firm. Other important problems are traffic, off-street parking, zoning, attractive shopping center, and the adoption of a capital expenditure program to accomplish the desired objectives.

IT WAS EVIDENT to those present that the taxwise part that present and future industry pays to the community is worthy of study. It was admitted that some of the larger firms in Arlington Heights today have low assessed valuation because of the age of their buildings.

Mr. Rockwell is a city planning engineer with many years experience. During the war he had charge of development of army camps in the midwest region. He is proud of the fact that after securing his master's degree from MIT, his first job was with the late Robert Kingery.

At the opening of the evening meeting, Chairman Walters announced that all regular business would be deferred. He took time to welcome the commission's new member, Architect Carl Teutsch. The commission has under consideration the vacating of streets west of Hickory st., a new subdivision on Euclid, and another north of Oakton.

Rifle cash register, thieves get $60 at cafe

Thieves broke into Rand Cafe on Rand rd. early Monday and made off with $60 taken from the cash register, county police reported.

Charles McCloud, owner of the cafe, said entrance was gained through a rear window after the putty had been removed from around the glass panes.

1952 vehicle tag honors George Klehm

The 1952 Vehicle Tags were placed on sale in Arlington Hts. last Saturday at the Municipal Office, 107 W. Davis st. There is no increase in price of the vehicle tags. They remain at $3.50 for passenger cars.

The vehicle tag is designed with a tree upon it, honoring George Klehm, the oldest native citizen living in Arlington Hts. The president and board of trustees presented Mr. Klehm with tag No. 89 for his 89th birthday, and a letter advising that this year's emblem is dedicated to him in honor of the service he has given to this community.

Mr. Klehm donated hundreds of trees to the schools, park district, and village of Arlington Heights, and is credited with having produced the Moline Elm, and the Globe Elm trees.

Village Clerk Forrest F. Davis said that the dog licenses will be on sale as soon as the tags are received, perhaps at the end of this week. The dog licenses remain at $2 for either male or female.

Former park board member suggests divided use of parks

Elmer Crane, a former member of Arlington Heights Park board, in the Fence Post this week gives his idea of a possible disposition of the railroad parks. It is his thought that the Park board purchase all of the north parks on which the board and village has spent several thousand dollars and let commercial interests take over the south parks.

The Fence Post this week also has a suggestion from George Schneberger, a former village trustee.

The thought of these two persons is to assist in bringing out into the open for general discussion the disposition of the parks.

There is no doubt that present members of the village and park district will be interested in learning the attitude of the general public.

Square dance Saturday

Square dancing sponsored by the Arlington Heights American Legion Post will be held at the Legion hall December 8 at 8 p.m. This is a community affair and is free to the public.

Wider lots, better streets on the way

A public hearing will be held in the near future to discuss an ordinance requiring a minimum of 66 feet width of lots at the building line in future subdivisions within the village of Arlington Heights. The ordinance, read at Monday night's village board meeting, was referred to the zoning board of appeals, which in turn will call the public hearing.

An ordinance amending minimum requirements for construction of new streets in Arlington Heights, had its first reading at the board meeting. The new ordinance, when passed, will require a street to have a nine inch waterbound macadam base, topped with two inches of plant mix, sub class I-11 or its equal.

THE BOARD turned thumbs down on Read Seal Homes, Inc., which sought to file Corporate Surety Bonds in lieu of a cash bond of $50 for each new home they build. The cash bond is to protect the village in event any damage is done to village curbs or sidewalks during construction.

A tentative subdivision plat of Windsor Heights was referred to the plan commission. The property includes 40 acres and is located north of Oakton, between Hickory and Dryden.

Five southside streets named in five-year street program

The village of Arlington Hts. passed a resolution Monday evening accepting the five year street improvement plan laid out by Consoer, Townsend & Associates.

Adoption of the plan does not obligate the village to the actual construction of the work, but does give such work priority over other streets. The streets, all south of the track, are:

Davis, from Highland to State.
Evergreen, from Davis to Sigwalt.
Dunton, from Davis to Sigwalt.
Campbell, from Chestnut to Vail.

Existing statutes require that all municipalities participating in gas tax funds file a plan covering the anticipated work to be performed the coming five years.

NOVEMBER BUILDING IN HEIGHTS TOTALS $443,381

Building permits issued during November totaled $443,381, according to a report by Building Commissioner Fred Hammer, read at Monday night's Arlington Heights village board meeting.

The permits included 11 single family homes, $137,000; three private garages, $2,404; one public school, $300,000; one addition to house, $3,127; and one alteration to home, $850.

Roth Mfg. Co. considers sites at Mount Prospect; seek amiable community

Roth Manufacturing Company, makers of heating systems for railroad cars, which has been negotiating with Arlington Heights for a location on the Kirchhoff farm, is anxious to locate their new plant in an amiable community, a company representative told the Mt. Prospect village trustees this week.

Appearing at Tuesday night's board meeting, W. C. Keeran described in detail the proposed plant, its products and the processes involved, its requirements, and its personnel.

The company is considering two tracts of land, one lying west of the Mt. Prospect village limits on the north side of Central rd., and the other on Prospect ave., south of the railroad and near the east village limits. Twenty acres of this tract lie within the village, and the owner has requested rezoning from residential to light industrial use. The request has been turned over to the zoning commission for a public hearing. Mt. Prospect would be affected if the company builds its plant at either location.

The products of the company are mainly steam generators and railroad car heating equipment. Electronic controls for aircraft and heating systems for street cars and buses are also made. The work consists of machining and assembling.

A large amount of water is used in testing the steam generators. Estimates are that 50,000 to 60,000 gallons a day would be needed. A reservoir is contemplated to store water during the night.

The proposed plant would be 250,000 square feet. Office space would require 50,000 square feet of this area. To spread the influx of people into the community, Roth plans to build the plant in sections, moving approximately one half its operation in the first step. They expect 75% of their employees would remain with the company.

Keeran quoted wage statistics and cited the large percentage of engineers and skilled workmen employed.

When he asked the next step his company should take to know the feeling of the community toward their proposal, he was told the village board would probably take action January 2 on whatever recommendation the zoning commission might make regarding the 20-acre tract.

Word has been received that a manufacturing company now located on the northwest side of Chicago is asking bids on a building they propose to build in Mt. Prospect. They have owned the property, west of Illinois Range company on Central rd., for several years. It is zoned for light industry.

Over 500 at annual session of farm bureau; elect new directors

More than 500 people reported at Eagles' hall, Blue Island, November 28 at 7:30 p.m. to attend the 31st annual meeting of the Cook county farm bureau. This was the largest crowd ever recorded in attendance at an annual meeting.

C. H. Mills, organization director, reported 5091 farm bureau members as of October 31, 1951, which is the largest membership ever recorded in the history of the organization. Cook county farm bureau is also unique in this respect that it has the largest farm bureau membership of any county in Illinois or the United States.

L. W. Pohlman, president, Elk Grove township, presided over the meeting. The secretary-treasurer's report was presented by A. G. Holste, Northfield township. Other reports presented were: Insurance, by J. L. Drake, general agent; extension activities, Carl F. Mees, farm adviser; youth activities, W. E. Schmidt, assistant farm adviser; Lake-Cook farm supply company, A. D. Smith, manager; tax services, J. P. O'Brien.

AT THE BUSINESS meeting the sale of the Blue Island building was approved by the membership since the construction of the new farm bureau building at Tinley Park is well under way. The following directors were elected from their townships to serve a two-year term on the board:

Maine, Henry Eichholz.
Wheeling, Martin Meyer.
Palos, Paul Sanders
Thornton, C. W. Paarlberg.
Leyden, August Sell.
Rich, Fred Niemeyer.
Schaumburg, John Freise.
Barrington, Louis Thies.
Orland, Chas. Erickson.

Herman Sternitzke of Lyons township was elected to serve the unexpired term of Henry Bulthuis who resigned.

OTHER MEMBERS who serve on the board are:

Elk Grove: L. W. Pohlman.
Northfield, A. G. Holste.
Worth, George DeVries.
Bloom, George Kloss.
Niles, Joe Brooks.
Hanover, William Wright.
Bremen, Carl Engelhardt.
Lemont, H. L. Cletcher.
Palatine, H. L. Moehling.

Entertainment was provided by the Reichert cousins, Chicago Heights, Carol Hedemark and Griff Pritchard, Prospect Heights, and Homer and Jethro from WLS.

Lunch was served following the meeting.

Our new neighbors

A little more than a month ago, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Meuser moved into their attractive new ranch home at 901 N. Harvard ave. They formerly owned their own home in Chicago.

Very much a member of the household is their year and a half old collie named Frisky, who is very affectionate and friendly.

Radio workshop gives Thanksgiving skit over Evanston FM

The Cardinals of the Air gave another fine program over station WEAW, Evanston, November 23. The fifteen minute program was enacted by the Arlington high school radio workshop class and was written by June Kritsch.

The setting for the skit was in the Plymouth colony in New England and opened with the first two pioneers off the Mayflower, William Brewster and John Alden, making plans for settling the territory. Brewster was portrayed by Ralph Allan, and Alden was characterized by Rod Peltier.

A year later those from the Mayflower had settled and the ship had returned to England. Under Governor Bradford's direction, Brewster called a colonial meeting to to celebrate a successful settlement by giving a feast welcoming everybody, including the Indians. This feast was the first Thanksgiving festival.

Others attending this feast were Priscilla (Carol Heiss), Mistress Brewster (Shirley Incapreo), Miles Standish (Blyth Morrow), Mary (Mary Ann Loeffler), Mistress Hopkins (Dorothy Carter), first woman (Charlotte Johnston), second woman (Dorothy Kirchvogel), and third woman (June Kritsch).

Marge Wimlinger acted as MC, and Mary Ann Loeffler was narrator. Marge also gave the local news events from Arlington high school, including the school's song of the week, "Shrimp Boats," sung by Jo Stafford.

The next broadcast, December 7, 6:15 p. m. station WEAW (FM), 105.1 on the dial, will be dedicated to Pearl Harbor.

Picture of a man making a smart decision

HERE is a man who's been doing a lot of thinking.

Someday, he's told himself, I'm going to turn in my old car and get a new one.

And he said, still talking to himself, when I do that I'm going to size up the field—give 'em all a real going over.

You see him here at the wheel of a Buick. He hasn't bought it—yet. It's a demonstrator, and he's trying it out.

But the more he tries it, the more he knows he's been wasting a lot of time.

From the moment he looked inside, he said: Here's the room—and the comfort—and the style I've been looking for.

Then he nudged its Fireball Engine into action. It's a high-compression valve-in-head, as you probably know.

He eased out into traffic. Stopped and started for a couple of traffic lights, and said something to the effect that this Dynaflow Drive* is a honey. Why don't they all build 'em this way?

He saw a bump ahead. Place where the pavement had been torn up. Other cars were braking down to a creep to cross it. He held back—rolled right across at regular speed with barely a bobble.

It's hard to believe, he said, but what they say about Buick's ride is right.

Ten minutes later he was out on an open stretch of road. Tried an experimental push on the gas treadle. Boy—what a take-off! You couldn't want more power than that.

Ten minutes more—and he knew something else. You don't really steer a Buick. It just about steers itself. Stays right on the beam on the straightaway. Even straightens itself out after a curve.

To make a long story short—he's found out that nothing else he's tried out can hold a candle—not even a little Christmas candle—to this bonnie beauty.

Back at the Buick showroom, he's going to get one more surprise. The price of a Buick is a lot less than he'd guessed it would be.

Moral: Smart Buy's Buick—right now.

*Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Attends home-ec meeting

Miss Mary S. Handlin, homemaking instructor at Arlington Heights township high school, will attend a meeting of the Home Economics Teacher-Training staff who are working in cooperation with the University of Illinois. The meeting will be held Thursday, December 6, at the University of Illinois.

Two students from the university, Martha Gswentner and Betty Kapraun, have been working under the direction of Miss Handlin for the past six weeks and will return to the campus December 10.

CIRCLING THE TOWN

BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

Offcially Christmas will come to Arlngiton Heights this Friday in the person of Santa Claus himself. He'll make his headquarters at the offices of the Chamber of Commerce, 113 E. Davis st., during the afternoon and evening and will receive all the letters local boys and girls want him to read after which he'll return to his North Pole home—but only until December 14 when he'll come back to Arlington for a 10-day stay.

Santa's visit Friday is but a forerunner of all the big things the Chamber of Commerce has planned for the holiday season. Christmas lighting is already being installed at intersections, and will span Northwest hwy. as well. There'll be Christmas music, too, broadcast over loudspeakers to help put shoppers in the spirit of the season.

And also in a musical vein, the music department of the high school will help inaugurate the Christmas season with their annual yuletime concert Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the high school gym. Every one is welcome to attend this free concert.

All sections of the music department will participate in the variety program, offering both sacred and secular music. Included on the program will be the popular "Night Before Christmas" with a narration accompanied by the concert band; the "Nutcracker" suite to be danced by members of Miss Patricia Schipper's group; the Christmas story in music and speech, and the moving "Hallelujah" chorus.

To the land of the rising sun

Monday's travel talk and film, brought this time by Bob Hall of Northbrook, took the armchair travelers of the high school course to post-war Japan, and showed the changes taking place in an occupied country.

Once completely ruled by a few overlords, the people take well and quickly to the processes of democracy, according to Hall. He praised the work of General MacArthur and his aides.

Pictures showed the devastated areas of Tokyo and other cities, the windowless buildings standing starkly, and for contrast the lush farms, usually not more than one or two acres in size but tended so carefully they yield a prodigious harvest.

Japan, its people and its land, was brought home vividly to many local people at this lecture, one of the series on the night school program.

A victory!

Before a gymnasium packed full of cheering enthusiasts the Arlington high school Cardinals opened their 1951-52 basketball season against Maine last Friday night. The first game was an exciting touch-and-go affair but with the Arlington frosh-sophs in the lead almost throughout the game. In the last few moments they pulled well ahead for the first time and won by several baskets.

Coach Klotz's smooth-working quintet was actually without a star, but the two freshmen on the squad, Wayne Mueller and Dennis Maher, and sophomore Dick Winterbauer, seemed, perhaps, a shade cooler in combat than their cohorts.

The varsity game was closely played throughout with rarely more than two points separating the teams. Maine won, finally, by a free throw after a foul was committed by an Arlington man just before the final whistle blew.

The capacity crowd, many of whom were adult fans, certainly received their money's worth, and from the looks of things, they're in for a fine season of basketball double headers on the high school courts.

Madrigal Singers to sing at Eleanor club in Chicago December 7

The Madrigal Singers from Arlington Heights township high school, under the direction of Miss June Leich, choral director, will sing for a meeting of the textile, clothing, and related arts forum to be held at the Central Eleanor club in Chicago December 7. The group will appear in their Elizabethan costumes and sing several madrigals, or light, gay after-dinner songs in the a cappella style. They will also sing a group of Christmas carols before the banquet.

Members of the Madrigal Singers are: Lois Goyke, Virginia Cowen, Betsy Jarrett, Hazel Mueller, Joyce Drewes, John Lee, Robert Rankin, Phil Knoeppel, Phil Wintergerst, James Ahmer, and Gilbert Haas.

Miss Mary S. Handlin, homemaking instructor at the high school, is program chairman for the forum.

Women of the Moose

At the open meeting November 29 of the Des Plaines chapter of the Women of the Moose, two new members, Leonia Stulgin and Ruth Enge, were initiated.

The book, "Rusty Wants A Dog," has been sent to the Mooseheart library as a gift from the Women of the Moose.

The Academy of Friendship will meet December 6 at the home of Marcia Cites at 8 p. m. All members are invited to attend.

Tickets are still available for the TV show, "Hi Ladies." The show will be followed by a luncheon at the Home Arts Guild. Contact Mrs. C. Ermerling or Mrs. J. Bielenski for tickets.

The next regular meeting of the Women of the Moose will be held December 13 at 8:30 p. m. This will be a closed meeting with ballotting on new candidates.

Nary a northwestsider is interested in purchase of gambling stamps

Only 18 persons in Cook county had the temerity to purchase federal gambling stamps before the deadline, Nov. 30. None of the 18 gave addresses in the northwest area.

The 153-man racket squad is expected to get to work against gamblers who are pining to figure in test cases or are just plain negligent concerning the possible $1,000 fine.

Illinois band director is a composer, too; at Glenbard Sunday

Mark H. Hindsley, professor of music and director of the University of Illinois concert band, which will appear in Glenbard high school, Glen Ellyn, this Sunday at 3 p. m., is a noted composer and author. In addition, he has a national reputation as guest conductor, judge, clinic leader and speaker.

Director Hindsley has taught at American university, Biarritz, France, summer courses at ten universities, and in the national music camp at Interlochen, Mich.

Director Hindsley will bring the 125 top student musicians from the U. of I. for the Glenbard concert Sunday.

East Maine Home Bureau

Because the regular date for the East Maine Home Bureau unit meeting came too close to the Christmas holidays, the date has been set for December 13. The Christmas party will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Dreyer, Talcott and Dee rds., Park Ridge, at 7:30 p. m.

After a short business meeting and a lesson on "How to Combat Worry," presented by Mrs. G. Jensen and Mrs. K. Kreissl, the party will begin. Games planned by the unit's recreation chairman, Mrs. O. Kallin, will feature grab bag gifts.

This year, as last, each person is asked to bring one dozen Christmas cookies which will provide trays of refreshments.

Gifts for the veterans will be collected at this time for distribution before the Christmas holidays.

Thieves get 2nd TV set from Mt. Prospect club

For the fourth time in ten months, burglars broke into the VFW club at 601 N. Main st., Mt. Prospect, Wednesday night, November 28, and made off with a television set—the second set taken in the series of robberies.

Chief of Police George Wittenberg said entrance was gained by breaking the panel in a rear door. Nothing else was reported missing.

According to Chief Wittenberg in the first burglary a television set and liquor were taken. Only liquor and cigarets were reported taken in the second and third burglaries.

Wittenberg said he believed that the TV set was carted away in a truck.

The burglary was discovered by a club member a short time after the club had closed at 11 p. m.

Chopping Blocks

To help keep your kitchen chopping block from staining and to prevent water from soaking in, use this idea. Give the wood, usually maple, two or three soaking coats of linseed oil. Apply liberally and after two hours WIPE OFF EXCESS. Rub well with coarse cloth. Allow about 48 hours to dry between each coat. After considerable use, another coat is usually necessary.

"Where Nests the Water Hen" by Gabrielle Roy. The river that flows out of Water Hen Lake in Manitoba Province is called the Little Water Hen. In that river is an island, and on the island live the Tousignant family — mother, father and eight children. It is a remote spot, cut off from contact with the outside world: the scenery is beautiful, but the educational facilities are nil. Mamma Tousignant never leaves there except for a solemn excursion once a year, from which she always returns bearing the same gift—a new member of the family. With this increasing brood, the problem of schooling has become acute, and Mamma Tousignant finally challenges the provincial government: she demands a school. Not since the publication of "Maria Chapdelaine" has there been a novel of Canada possessing such warmth, understanding, and distinction.

"The Wanderer" by Mika Waltari. One might as well try to summarize the intricate action and endless invention of Scheherazade as to enumerate the successive developments in this novel. Algiers, Istambus, Vienna, Buda, and Bagdad come glowingly to life. And the 16th century spins like a dervish as the followers of the Cross and the Crescent juggle the balance of power in Europe and the Near East. Far more like the "Egyptian" in that it follows a more cohesive pattern than "The Adventurer," this novel must surely add luster to the above best-sellers.

"When the Tree Flowered" by John G. Neihardt. This dramatic, moving novel of the Sioux is a story of adventures and of people, told with a poet's insight, and filled with humor, drama, and meaning. It is also a valuable record of Sioux culture and history by a man who has lived with the Indians and known them intimately, and is able to transmute their experiences into a moving and beautiful novel. Although presented as fiction, the tale is woven of authentic material, much of which is new, and should prove most revealing, to the white world. Mr. Neihardt has had many years' acquaintance with Plains Indians. He lived among the Omahas as assistant to Indian traders, later becoming intimate with the Sioux.

"Skygirl" by Mary F. Murray is a career handbook for the Airline Stewardess. This is the first book of its kind, and it will prove invaluable for the many American girls who, in its fact-filled pages, can find the key to an exciting and rewarding future. Being an airline stewardess involves a lot more than an interest in flying and a pleasing personality. It is a serious career for which applicants today are carefully trained, and in this book Mary Murray, director of stewardess training at the aviation training school in Boston, goes over all the steps in that career. In addition, a history of American commercial aviation and 32 pages of photographs showing skygirls in action, is included. Here, in one book, is everything the prospective air stewardess needs to know.

After several postponements (not unusual in Chicago courts) the mock trial at the Arlington Heights Lions club finally took place Tuesday night. It was a rollicking skit, better than a home talent show.

The idea of a trial grew out of a charge by "Slim" Davis that the club's tail twisters—Richard Black and Fred Jasper—were derelict in their duties in some instances and overstepped their authority in others. In reply City Clerk Davis was termed a minor politician, and the "battle" was on.

Lion Davis secured the services of A. C. Lewis, an associate of Lion Hugo Thal, as prosecuting attorney, and the defendants "imported a foreigner" from the Lake Geneva, Wis., Lions club, John McCollow, as their attorney. Judge Carl Behrens was appointed to judge the trial.

After all of the club members were sworn in as the jury, plaintiff attorney Lewis called several witnesses including Victor Beisler, C. S. Becker, Ray Lohr, Virgil Horath, Nick Lattof, William Reese and Quentin Ford.

Attorney McCollow kept the crowd in hearty laughter with his cross-examination and repartee with the judge. The defendants' only character witness, John Powers another "foreigner" from the Lake Geneva Lions club, tripped on some tricky cross-examination questions and was only questionably good to his friends.

DEFENSE attorney's motion for a mistrial because the jury had not been examined individually was refused because it was made too late.

There was considerable bickering about the fine, whether it should be 30c, $1 or menial labor. To settle this argument Attorney McCollow offered to pay the fines of a dollar each to wash his hands of the case.

During the serious part of the meeting six guests were introduced, including: L. J. Dahlgren, Earl A. Denton, A. J. Andersen, Gene Grewe, Herbert K. Hackbarth and David Meinecke.

New members, Milton Blohm, Curt Helbig, Tom Hildebrand and J. L. Kerins were presented with lapel buttons and membership cerificates.

The boys and girls committee reported that to date the financial drive for the Youth Center brought in $2,981. The club is cooperating with Boy Scout Troop 7, which it sponsors, with its Christmas party, and is donating canned goods for some underprivileged families here and in Chicago.

MERGING THE OUTDOORS AND THE CLASSROOM

by BILLIE BERSTONAS

Have you ever stopped to watch a five year old at play? There is nothing passive in his actions. No matter what he is doing he enters into the activity wholeheartedly, seemingly oblivious to his surrounding. Most kindergarten children are full of energy and, since their attention span is short, they still have a tendency to go from one thing to another during a typical day; therefore, they need plenty of play area.

The kindergarten play area at the North school is planned to meet the needs of a five year old. Equipment such as the jungle gym, slide and sand box, is useful in developing the large muscles and better coordination. At the same time they are learning to take turns and consider the rights of others.

When the kindergarten rooms were planned, the outdoor play area was constructed with a five year old in mind. It is composed of a wide area of tan bark and concrete, making the space useful in almost any weather.

Even the windows of the new kindergarten rooms are a vital part of the play area. They make possible the simultaneous supervision of indoor and outdoor activities. Thus, it is also possible for a child who has accumulated an abundance of energy from indoor confinement to go outdoors where more freedom of movement is permitted. In this kindergarten arrangement the architects have succeeded to a remarkable degree in bringing the outdoors into the classroom and, at the same time, in extending the boundaries of the classroom to include the outdoors on occasion.

Play is a large part of the kindergarten program. It is not play in the sense that each child indulges in activities pleasing only to him. He must learn to cooperate, to share and to develop habits acceptable to social living. It is during the period of free play that these qualities are best developed.

Arlington graduates make good showing at Carthage college

LeRoy J. Knoeppel, principal of Arlington Heights township high school, is in receipt of a letter from Clayton B. Peterson, director of Carthage college, congratulating him on the fine records made by graduates of Arlington Heights township high school.

The letter reads in part:

"In checking back through our files we find that your high school has contributed a number of outstanding people to our campus. I thought you might be interested in some of their achievements.

"Kathy Shanklin, a junior, was a member of the Court of Honor for the Homecoming Queen this year.

"Irene Hering, a junior, is a member of both the College choir and the Chapel choir, and a member of the Spanish club and Alpha Mu Gamma.

"Kenneth Schroeder, a sophomore, was a member of last year's tennis team.

"Lloyd Meyer, a junior, is a member of the basketball team and probably a varsity starter this year.

"Lloyd Busse, a senior, is a member of the Business club and Circle K (College branch of Kiwanis)."

Chicago man killed, 3 others injured in traffic crashes

A Chicago man was killed and three others injured Sunday in Northwest suburban traffic accidents, county highway police reported.

Killed was Elmer T. Nettenstorm, 66.

County police said Nettenstorm was killed apparently when he lost control of his car and careened off the highway on Oakton ave., west of Mt. Prospect rd.

Injured were Edna Shantill, 55; Gladys Perkins, 25, and Barbara Lee Perkins, 10 months. All were from Chicago.

Police said the injured were in cars driven by Edward L. Perkins, 25, and Paul S. Shantill, 65.

The accident occurred at Rand and Golf rds. after Perkins had stopped to make a left turn into Golf rd. The Shantill auto struck the rear of the Perkins' car, police reported.

CARD OF THANKS

Jaycees ratify constitution

Meeting in the Prospect Hts. fire house, members of the group organizing an area-wide Junior Chamber of Commerce chapter gave approval to a constitution and by-laws Tuesday evening, November 27.

Approval of this constitution does not yet officially establish a Jaycee chapter. It must next be approved by the state organization. After ratification by the state headquarters an official charter will be granted. The local group expects to receive its charter early in January.

THE OFFICIAL title of the group will be the Wheeling Township Junior Chamber of Commerce. The area represented by this chapter will include Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights, Prospect Meadows, and Wheeling. However, membership in the group is not restricted to men from these areas only. Any young man of good moral character between the ages of 21 and 35 inclusive who resides in the Wheeling or Elk Grove township area is invited to become a member.

The organization will, of course, devote its efforts for civic improvement to the aforementioned towns. Any qualified young man who wishes to become a member of this group is urged to contact Bruno Waara, Arlington Heights 489-W or Ted Seiler, Arlington Heights 7102-W.

This local group has already offered its services to the Arlington Heights Community Council in the forthcoming blood donor drive to be held in this area sometime after the first of the year.

The next meeting of the organization will be at 8 p. m., Thursday, December 6, at the Arlington Heights high school.

County spends half a million for right-of-way for N.W. Super Highway

It may be years before the Northwest Super Highway is actually constructed, but the project is very much alive. The county board last week authorized the purchase of various tracts, totaling $455,000 in property settlements.

The property being acquired extends as far west as Harlem. The highway is supposed to end at Route 83, near the O'Hara field, which may be the reason that the extension of the Tri-State Highway north is on the 1952 program of the county highway department.

Sheriff's deputies make 105 arrests during November

Two persons were killed and 37 persons were injured in 80 auto accidents investigated by county highway police during November, an annual monthly report shows.

In addition, the officers who answered 241 calls and made 232 investigations, assisted firemen at 13 fires.

Among the investigations made were five dealing with shooting cases and four burglaries.

The officers made 105 arrests, 59 on driving charges. Fines collected in police court totaled $351.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lokey

Renting the ranch home at 1000 N. Kennicott ave., Arlington Heights, are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lokey, who moved here October 24 from Waynesboro, Pa.

Mr. Lokey, who is superintendent of parts control at O'Hare Field for Fairchild Aircraft, was transferred here.

Their daughter, Jackie Dawn, is 9 years old and is in the fourth grade at the North school. Jackie likes school here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lokey attended college in Lubbock, Tex. She is interested in oil painting, and he likes to fish in his spare time.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Giuliani

New residents at 1120 N. Princeton ave., Arlington Hts., are Mr. and Mrs. Chester J. Giuliani, who moved here from Chicago August 15.

Mr. Giuliani is a patent attorney for the Universal Oil Products Co., which is moving to Des Plaines.

The Giulianis have a daughter, Jill, who is 10 years old and is in the fifth grade at the North school. Mrs. Giuliani said she thinks the schools in town are excellent, and she likes the town very much.

Mr. Giuliani majored in engineering at Michigan Tech and took his law work at DePauw university.

Mrs. Giuliani likes to sew and keep house and enjoys Girl Scout work. Both of them like golf and gardening.

Lady, a golden retriever, is the family pet.

Mr. and Mrs. James Mazzie

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Mazzie thought they would like Arlington Heights, so they moved into the ranch home at 545 S. Highland October 19. Mrs. Mazzie said she likes everything about Arlington Heights except the fact that they have no phone.

Walter Robert, who is 4½ years old, is the third member of the family. Pepper, who is just a dog, is Walter's pet.

Mr. Mazzie is office manager of the Appraisal Engineering corp. in Chicago.

Mrs. Mazzie likes to sew, work in her garden and play bridge, while Mr. Mazzie claims golf as his favorite hobby.

FFA holds grain show at high school

The Future Farmers of America chapter of Arlington Heights township high school sponsored a grain show at the high school November 18. Every member of the vocational agriculture class was invited to participate and to enter any crops that are grown at home which are not FFA projects.

The purpose of the show was to demonstrate to the ag students how a grain show is judged. Bill Stade acted as chairman and appointed Kenneth Allison, Marvin Engelking, Ed Linneman, and Don Wille as judges. In the entries for oats, first and second prizes were awarded to Berwyn Rascher and Walter Bruhn. In the shelled corn group, first and second prizes went to Kenneth Reckamp and Ken Jacobson. In the twelve ears of corn class, Charles Osborn won first and Bob Krause won second. Ethan Foss was awarded the first prize in wheat.

The local chapter of the FFA participated in the sectional grain show which was held at Gurnee November 16. The Arlington Heights group belongs to Section VI which comprises all schools in the area west to Belvidere and north to the Wisconsin state line. The judging system used was the modified Danish Judging System in which there are three classes of products, A, B, and C with a first, second, and third being granted for each class. All of the Arlington Heights entries were classified as "A," which is superior.

A first prize was awarded to Berwyn Rascher for his entry in oats, a first prize was awarded to Jerome Raupp for his entry in late cabbage, and a fifth prize was awarded to Ken Reckamp for his entry in corn.

Joseph Bryson, vocational agriculture instructor at the high school, is the FFA adviser. Bob Charles acts as FFA reporter.

LETTERS of Judge Banks

My dear Daughter:

This morning I was reading in the paper some figures that staggered me. What power you women possess, not only over men, but in finances!

The article stated that women control over 70 percent of the nation's wealth, and dominate 80 to 85 percent of the country's buying power. They own over half the stocks held in the United States, and outnumber men as owners of such stock as U.S. Steel, Du Pont, General Electric and International Harvester.

Therefore, they should have a knowledge of business and finance. In fact, I believe women should have as good an understanding of these matters as men.

For this reason, I'm going to send you weekly letters. They will inform you about the various phases of banking. Always remember that being an informed citizen is the AMERICAN WAY TO GET RESULTS.

Love, Dad

SHOPPING with SHARON

I was raving to a friend about Mario Lanza's new Christmas album and she said, "Oh, you're always selling something!" I suppose that's true but when it comes to listening to Lanza sing "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful," I'm stopped for words. To be perfectly factual, I've never been so moved by music in my life. That may give away my musical taste—or lack of it—but when Lanza opens his mouth and that lovely music pours out, it is truly a thrilling experience. I'm not going to list the songs but they're all the dear familiar ones — including the Lord's Prayer. I don't give a darn if you've got ten Christmas albums, you must get this one. It comes in all three speeds and I feel sure Arlington Radio and Record Shop, East Miner st. hasn't ordered enuf so get yours this week. Call and they'll hold it for you (Arl. Hts. 1333) if you can't get in.

If they put butter on the vegetables, they're OK with me. I mean it — any restaurant that serves food and is stingy with butter and whips the potatoes with skimmed milk—well, I don't think they should be running a place which serves food. Cora and Dell who own Cor-Del's Inn on Northwest hwy. are definitely in the right business. They do use butter, the beef is aged properly —and it's a right pleasant place to meet and greet your friends.

The Inn opens at four in the afternoon except on Tuesday but they will take private parties, luncheon meetings, etc. for earlier in the day. They also have a room where they can serve small groups privately during regular hours, too. You can work out a menu and Cora will see that it's cooked right! If your group likes a festive holiday drink, it's just another reason why you'll like Cor-Del's, 800 Northwest hwy.

Look over the handsome men's robes in gray gabardine with contrasting maroon reverses at the Squire Shop on Northwest hwy. All kinds of gifts for men are on display but their stock of robes is particularly extensive. The gabardines appealed to me but if you prefer the more conventional brocaded rayons—either fully or partially lined they have those, too. And the practical terry cloth robes—all year round favorites. If your man is taller than average, they have robes tailored just for the tall fellow.

Starting tomorrow, the Squire Shop's Santa is reporting for duty —he'll be enthroned daily from 11 to 12, 4 to 5, and 7 to 8.

"Train time" in Fairbanks, Alaska, meant that Shorty and I headed for the drugstore on Second ave. for a cup of coffee. The whistle of the one daily train was the signal. You may not hear the whistle here but it's train time at the Arlington Supply Store on the corner of Davis and State rds. They have all the Lionel trains in with their complicated switches, smoke puffs, and all.

Gifts suitable for every member of the family whether it be a gun or tools for Dad, a beautiful toaster or mixer for mother, the darling dollhouse, complete down to an awning for the side patio, for your little girl—and, of course, the Lionel trains for the whole family—all these things and many, many more are to be found at the Arlington Supply Store, right here in Arlington Heights. Wonderful place to shop.

Shorty and I got married during the war and just before Christmas. Our first Christmas together was one to remember, but, oh, did we have a mangy-looking Christmas tree. The only decorations we could get were colored glass — no sparkle. So every year I go a little berserk when I see the gorgeous ornaments now available.

Winkelman's Tire and Battery Shop have gotten their hands on lots of beautiful Christmas decorations. Pick them up early so you won't just get the leavings. And, of course, they have plenty of wreaths, electric lighting sets, Santa Clauses, birds, etc. Don't forget either that Winkelman's have the most extensive line of bikes, trikes, large toys, rockers, kiddie cars, etc. in town.

Get your order in now, folks. You salesmen, executives, business men who send a number of gifts for business reasons will find a happy solution to the perplexing problem of just what would be appropriate at the Arlington Heights Pharmacy. Candy which is famous in Chicago and candy which is famous all over the country is carried by this store. Really and truly, I'd heard of Fannie May's pixies before I ever came to Chicago and Blums Yums and Coffeetees and Mrs. Stevens Tom Thumbs will be a business plug for the Middle West and, of course, be a great pleasure to candy eaters. Whitman's freshest assortments are on display here, too. Phone in your order now—give such business to Arlington Heights merchants. You'll get more personal attention and service than anywhere else, I'll guarantee.

By the way, Arlington Heights Pharmacy have plenty of fine candy for the people not looking for great quantities, too. Treat your Aunt Mary in South Dakota to some of our famous Chicago brands.

Be sure and read Flaherty Jeweler's ad this week. Eek, what a bargain. Two wonderful gifts for the price of one. The way I get it is this—buy an Elgin American item costing $9.95 or more and you get a $12.50 strand of pearls which are very nice pearls. Now Elgin American has lots of glamorous and useful gifts. Everyone knows about their lovely compacts but did you know they sell dresser sets, table lighters, cigarette cases, military brush sets, too? The most beautiful things in their line this year are the Lite-O-Matics. It's a cigarette case and lighter combination for either men or women. But listen to how it works—open the case, take out a cigarette, close the case, the lighter flicks on automatically as the case clicks shut. This is really a lovely thing. Designs include the famous Elgin American gazelles, a new Swedish American geometric design, a plain stripe—all in gold or silver permanent type finishes.

And, naturally, with this Lite-O-Matic you get a $12.50 strand of pearls wrapped up to go along with it.

Are you scissors-shy? I used to be. After one unfortunate experience with hair cutting in a beauty salon, it was with fear and trepidation I decided to have mine snipped again. All my worry was in vain, I arrived back home and on the very first day I was completely satisfied with the cut. You know, women usually expect to look kind of miserable for a week or two until the hair grows a bit. Not so at Martin's Hairdressing Salon.

Mr. Martin says that a haircut is not a process of eliminating hair—but the carving of a style. And, oh, can he carve style.

By the way, wouldn't a certificate for one of Alfred Martin's superlative permanents be a wonderful Christmas gift. Consider it for a sister, mother, good friend—or for a huge hint to the husband for yourself.

Early last summer I went to the Furniture Show. A sister-in-law from Ohio was in town and a good friend of her's was displaying his line there. The exhibit which I found most interesting was the Lane Cedar Chest line. They've designed those chests in just about every wood imaginable —lined them with cedar—made them look like chests of drawers, buffets, etc. They're now handsome pieces of furniture which will be "right" for a hallway, a dining room, a bedroom. Not that Lane doesn't still make the plain chests—they do—but they make many double duty pieces, too. See these chests at Studtmann Bros. Furniture Store—right here in Arlington Heights.

Look over the well-known Samson bridge sets there which are such nice gifts, too. Four strong folding chairs and the table will make a portable dining room, sewing table, and, of course, the bridge set.

What kind of a sale would you call it when you want to clean out a lot of stock—especially the larger pieces—to make room to move around in. The new Antique Shop out on Northwest hwy. is in that predicament. If you're interested in something, you can dicker with Mrs. Pontarelli and you'll end up with a bargain since she's so eager to clear things out. Unusual and lovely pieces are going to go at cost—at least. Don't forget that antiques make very welcome Christmas gifts—especially if the recipient is an admirer of such things. I saw an English compote which would be very well received in our house.

If Mother's too cold and Father's too hot, there's nothing like an electric blanket with dual controls. She can turn her heat up and he can turn his down and they'll both be happy. An electric blanket is a wonderful invention anyway. As the room grows colder, the blanket gets warmer and you sleep relaxed—not spending the night competing with your husband for all the blankets. And for dwellers in twin beds, the electric blanket is a miracle if you like both fresh air pouring in the window and warm feet, too.

General Electric is famous for their quality products and in an electric blanket, of course, you'll want the best. Rhodes Appliances in Arlington Heights, Prospect Heights, and Palatine has a nice supply in for Christmas and in all colors—so see 'em this week.

All I want for Christmas is a pretty new robe—well, that really isn't all I want. It's kind of traditional to get a robe for Christmas, don't you think? At Pearce's in Palatine, you can get one both pretty and practical. If it's warmth you're interested in, consider the perky quilted cotton robes. The skirts stand out stiffly to make you look slim and charming. And for an evening of television, they look very respectable. Another warm robe is the corduroy—rather sporty and collegiate-looking.

If it's a real graceful, feminine robe you're after—look at their cotton challis robe with pajamas to match. The colors are the usual cream with tiny pink roses. Then they have the tailored silk traveling robes and duster length quilted navy robes in rayon. Robes at Pearce's, please—along with some pretty bags. I only glanced but in glancing, a small black sequin bag caught my eye. Can see it for cocktail outfits as well as dress.

Seen any of those tiny old-fashioned dolls with hand-crocheted dresses, hats, booties, etc. lately. They're not easy to come by but for some reason children adore them. Maybe it's their size. I remember I used to have one and this year Sauerland Florists have them. Fit nicely in a stocking and they're a "stocking gift" price. Hand-crocheted booties for the larger doll are on sale here, too.

See Sauerland's for toys and games (they have that fascinating Walkie-Talkie). Also see 'em for glittery table trees, Make-It-Snow, mantel pieces with Santas and sleighs, fancy candles, etc.—on S. State rd.

My Yankee Dad always said that if he had a store, each week he'd run a terrific special on which he just broke even—in order to get people in the habit of coming into the store. Apparently Mayfair Rugs subscribe to the same philosophy. Right now they're running a special deal on stair carpeting which is very nice. Now, Mr. Brown doesn't make much money on this but it gives him a chance to show you what he can do in the way of fine carpeting—at prices which can't be beaten anywhere in the northwest.

Mr. Brown is peculiarly concerned with the quality of the rugs he sells since he always gets them back for cleaning. And if he doesn't do a real good job with the cleaning, he can blame it on no one but himself. So, with his training, equipment and reputation at stake— you can rely on a superlative job—at competitive prices—when it comes to rug cleaning. From four to seven days the rug will be back on your floor and you can look spic-n-span for Christmas guests and entertaining.

After a hectic day of shopping, stop in at Stefanik's Delicatessen at 4 N. Dunton and pick up a nice dinner which can be eaten informally on the kitchen table. It'll save you the horrid task of racing around the kitchen on those aching feet. You can assemble a meal of hots and colds that will only require your unwrapping packages and setting the table. Their baked ham is darned good, for instance.

Christmas!

Say what you will, a homemaker's best friend is a good-cooking, good-looking GAS range. She spends more hours a day cooking than doing any other single thing ... so naturally she'll welcome a gleaming new GAS range to make meal-getting easier and more fun.

When you give her a modern GAS range you give her new hours of leisure. Controls are so accurate on today's ranges she won't have to worry ... she'll just set the temperature for the heat she wants and she'll know she'll get it. Some new ranges have automatic timing, too ... then she can pop a meal into the oven, set the controls, and dinner will cook itself!

Of course, you and the rest of the family will enjoy the gift of a new range, too! Chances are the family's favorite cook will be so delighted she'll turn out better-than-ever meals. And, best of all, it will be easier-than-ever for her!

VFW Auxiliary presents new American flag to firemen

Community Camera

A new American flag was presented to the Arlington Hts. Fire department and its Auxiliary by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary at the firemen's meeting November 16.

Mrs. June Nebel, president of the VFW Auxiliary, is pictured third from the left, and Miss Lorraine Schubert, secretary of the organization, is standing next to her.

Presenting new American flags where they are needed is one of the functions of the VFW Auxiliary.

St. Peter's Mothers' club to hold special meeting

The Mothers' club of St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Hts., will hold a special meeting December 7 at 7:30 p. m. in the school basement.

New kitchen plans will be presented, and a purchasing of equipment will be discussed. It is very important that all attend this meeting.

The regular meeting and Christmas party will be held December 14 at 8 p. m. in the school basement as scheduled

To make plans for Fathers' night when Mothers' club meets

Plans will be made for a Fathers' night pot-luck supper to be held in January at the meeting of the Mothers' club of St. James Catholic school, Arlington Heights, December 13 at the field house at 8:30 p. m.

The Brownie Troop of the third and fourth grades will present a special Christmas program.

The mothers of the fourth grade children will be hostesses for the evening. Mrs. Lawrence Austin will be chairman of the affair.

Presbyterians receive 75 new members

A class of 75 new members, the largest in its history, was received by the First Presbyterian church at its communion service December 2.

Although this class is larger by 15 than any previous group it is not merely the numbers gained by the church that is impressive. Several members of the session expressed happiness at the active experience in other churches which many of them reported in their applications, and all of them expressed a willingness to do one or more types of regular work in the church and church school.

Those who joined the local church by affirmation or reaffirmation of faith, or transfer, are: Miss Patricia Barr, Mr. and Mrs. R. Derek Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Bredehoft, Mrs. William Cary, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Damler, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fellingham, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Froyd, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gullicksen, Mr. and Mrs. Henri Halvorsen, Mrs. C. S. Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Halloway, Peter Todd and Jane Eleanor Halloway, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Holmgren, Mrs. Carl Johnson, Miss Elaine Johnson.

Mrs. Edna Viola Leek, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lisec, Mrs. Neva McArdell, Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair B. McCoy, Mrs. John F. McDonald, Russell W. Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. Engwerd Mommsen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pearson, Robert Edward Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Quackenbush, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Ross, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. F. Roth, Miss Barbara Roth, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sahlberg, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schwank, Mr. and Mrs. William Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Tierney, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Toffoli Jr., Mrs. Ida May Toppin, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Vancil, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wing, and Mrs. Dorothy Zimmerman.

Year is half gone and all is well

Few taxpayers would take the time to read one of the annual appropriation expenditure statements that are presented to the Arlington Heights village board each month, but a glance at the totals tells how good a job of financing that is being done by the municipality.

One half of the fiscal year is past and over half of the appropriation is unexpended. The total appropriation is $311,000; expended, $144,000; unexpended, $167,000.

Arlington Heights will not be affected by a new law on the statute books which prevents blanket tax levies much in excess of a tax limit. Arlington has always broken down its tax requirements.

November receipts were $36,000, of which $15,000 came from real estate taxes. Bills and payroll for the amount were $16,000.

Presbyterian women meet to hear child welfare worker Wednesday

At the December 12 meeting the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights will hear Mrs. Ann Lively, a children's welfare worker, speak on her activities with the Negro children at Grace Community House in Chicago.

Mrs. Lively has done volunteer service at the settlement house for two years. She is a graduate of the University of California and was formerly employed by the Council Against Racial and Religious Discrimination.

Each year the World Service committee of the Women's Association arranges a party for the children, for which the members provide candy, fruit, and cookies. The church school children bring presents to be wrapped individually, and the association purchases ice cream. This year the party will be given December 18 from 3:15 to 5 p. m.

Members should bring their contributions to the meeting or, in the case of perishable fruit, December 16. Children should also bring their unwrapped gifts to Sunday school December 16 to allow time for wrapping before Tuesday.

Mrs. Norman Tucker of Mt. Prospect, who is chairman of the World Service committee, says volunteers are needed to assist with the party.

Individual circles will meet at 11 a. m. December 12 and will then join for the business meeting. Mrs. Roy L. Hughes and Mrs. Robert Baron will present the Bible study, which will continue the study of Matthew.

The Christmas luncheon, which will follow at 12:30 p. m., is in charge of Circle 5. Reservations for the luncheon should be made through circle chairmen, and the price is 65 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. A nursery will be provided for children of pre-school age from 11 a. m. on.

Following the luncheon a scriptural program on the Christmas ideal will be led by Mrs. Albert Goldthwaite. The installation of several new officers will be made. Then a musical service will be given, under the direction of Mrs. Kurt Ziehm. Mrs. Ziehm and Mrs. Victor Beisler will sing Christmas carols after which the group will sing in unison. Mrs. Lively will then be introduced, and her talk will bring the meeting to a close.

The Evening Circles will meet December 19.

All members and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Faith church plans annual holiday programs

Many services and activities of special interest to the community are scheduled at Faith Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, in preparation for Christmas. Universal Bible Sunday will be observed December 9 at 10:45 a. m. in cooperation with the American Bible Society, and the importance of the Bible in the daily life of the individual and of the nation will receive particular emphasis.

Neighbors and friends are invited to see and hear a full-length feature sound-film entitled "All That I Have" December 12 at 8 p. m. This picture deals with an important phase of the Christian life.

Faith Christmas party is an annual event which attracts many grown-ups and children. For this gala affair December 14, the congregation will return to the field house where there are ample facilities for games for all age groups, Santa's gifts, carol singing, refreshments and other activities. The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. with the showing of a color Christmas film.

The first Christmas concert by the Junior and Senior choirs will be presented in Faith church December 16 at 7:45 p. m. The beloved Christmas carols and anthems will be sung by the two vested choirs, and the organists, Edward Setzer and Arthur Preuss, will render variations of favorite Christmas music. An instrumental trio of two violins and cello will feature three young members of the church who will play Buxtehude's "Lauda Salvatorem." This concert is being offered as a community service.

The little tots Christmas program December 19 at 7:30 p. m. will find the 135 children of the beginner and primary departments of Faith Sunday school in participation. The teachers and parents are busy with the children preparing them for their parts in telling the story of the birth of the little Lord Jesus in recitations, songs and pantomimes.

VFW Auxiliary to hold annual holiday party

The Arlington Heights Veterans of Foreign Wars Ladies' Auxiliary will hold its annual Christmas party at the village hall December 6 at 8 p. m.

Included on the entertainment program will be a toe dance to the "Doll Dance" by Sandy Schroeder, who is 5 years old, an accordion solo by Peggy Kacena, who is 10; a tap dance to "Pretty Baby" by Dawneen Nebel 5 years old, and an accordion solo by Larry Schroeder, 9 years old. Closing the program wil lbe "The Night Before Christmas" given by Dawneen Nebel.

Following this program will be a 30 minute film, "The Christmas Carol," sponsored by the courtesy of Lauterburg and Oehler funeral ohme.

Presentation of gifts, revealing of secret pals and a visit from Santa are among other expected events at the party.

Refreshments will be served.

Next week is the final deadline week for determining first place teams in all men's bowling leagues in Paddock Publications' area for the Inter-League Handicap. First place squads December 15 are eligible to compete for honors in the tournament January 6, 1952, at Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine.

Just how many teams, though eligible, will enter the meet is uncertain. Many bowlers have often spoken to Paddock Publications suggesting a tournament modeled after the golf meet that has been so popular the past two summers. The sports department took on the job this year of determining this area's champs.

ENTRY FEE of $15 per team, which will cover cost of bowling, plus prize money, is due the tournament secretary at Paddock Publications' office by December 22. A large team traveling trophy and five individual trophies have been ordered and will soon be on display.

Official league averages as of December 15 will be taken, with a 70% handicap, 500 pin limit prevailing. Eight cash prizes are up for grabs, with an additional $10 to go to high single team game, actual.

ESTABLISHMENTS from which teams will be selected include Trausch-Linden Recreation at Bensenville, Bowlwood at Wood Dale, Wheeling Recreation, Mt. Prospect Bowling Lanes, Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes, Palatine Bowling Lanes and Hi-Way Recreation at Palatine.

Three leagues have already determined their eligible squads. In the Arlington Heights Scratch league, L-Nor Cleaners has cinched a berth. In the House loop at Palatine Haseman's is on top, while Parkway league at Palatine has Pearson aggregation on top.

OTHER LOOPS with first place teams and leading margins:

Arlington Lions—Hintz by 1.
Arlington Thursday Men — Krause & Kehe by 5.
Itasca St. Luke—Mensching Dry Goods by 4.
Mt. Prospect Holy Name — Prospect Heights Pharmacy by 1.
Mt. Prospect Business Men — Haberkamp Flowers by 4.

Wheeling Thursday — Foote Brothers Tavern by 2.
Wheeling Major — Behm's by 3.
Palatine Community — Courtesy Service by 3.
Palatine Lutheran — Stan's Community club and Hapke's Feed Grinders tied.
Palatine Major — Coleman Drugs by 2.
Palatine Sportsman's — Nick & Al's by 4.

St. Paul's stretches dart ball lead

St. Paul, by taking two games from Faith, widened the gap between 1st and 2nd place in the dart ball league. St. Peter won two games from Immanuel and took a firmer possession of 3rd place.

The player averages published last week were only those with averages of .250 or better. Some 60 men play in these games, each team having approximately 15 players.

The next games will find St. Paul at Immanuel December 14. St. Peter's scheduled game at Faith has been advanced to December 7 instead of as previously scheduled.

The standings:

	W	L
St. Paul	9	3
Faith	6	6
St. Peter	5	7
Immanuel	4	8

Rate Berschet 'most improved' for Illini, Rose Bowl in offing

The Illinois football squad, Big Ten champion and Rose Bowl representative, chose "the most improved player" at its annual banquet, for the first time in history. The honor went to senior tackle Marv Berschet, former Arlington Heights star, and bulwark of the Illinois defensive line.

Moved up from the junior varsity this year to strengthen the weak tackle spot, the 6-2, 207-pound Berschet became a standout on the first-string defensive line that didn't yield a touchdown to Big Ten opponents.

BIG MARV, shot-putter and captain-elect of the 1952 Illini track squad, came into his own in the tense Wisconsin game. He kept the winning touchdown drive alive by recovering an Illini fumble, and did heroic work in the 14-10 victory. But the broad-shouldered left tackle had just begun to show his ability.

Marv and left end Andy Wodziak have formed a defensive combination on their side of the line that is stingy about giving touchdowns, and at Syracuse they combined to score one themselves. When the easterners were forced to punt in the second period, Berschet burst through to block the kick. Wodziak took the ball in the air at the 18-yard line of Syracuse and sprinted into the end zone.

BERSCHET was on the bottom of the pile when the left side of the Illini line stopped Washington on fourth down on the one-yard line in a 27-20 Illinois win. He was part of the defensive wall that blanked Indiana 21-0 to earn praise from Hoosier coach Clyde Smith.

When the Illinois defense rose to stop Michigan 7-0 in snow-swept Memorial Stadium, Marv was in the vanguard. Marv turned in one of his top performances and recovered a Wolverine fumble to start Illinois toward the goal.

THE DEFENSIVE battles at Ohio State and Northwestern gave Marv ample chance to throw his solid weight through opposing lines. His alert play in these two steps to the Rose Bowl earned him the "most improved" award from his Illini team mates.

Berschet, an all-around athlete at Arlington Heights high school, picked up nine prep letters in four sports.

The 21-year-old agriculture student who won his first varsity football letter this season, winds up his gridiron work for the Orange and Blue in Pasadena.

VERN RASCHER, Arlington Heights captain of the Illini golf team for next spring, lives just across route 58 from the Berschet home, south of Arlington Heights.

Another nearby student gaining honors this year is George O'Brien of Maine, captain-elect of the Wisconsin football squad for next year. He was all-conference and all-state in high school, and rated honorable mention on many of the Big Ten all-star picks this season.

HOPE NEW ARLINGTON GYM READY BY FEB. 1 FOR RIVERSIDE GAME

"The new Arlington Heights high school gym may be ready for use February 1 for the Riverside game." That was the hope expressed this week by principal LeRoy J. Knoeppel as workmen planned to start painting the ceiling (a two weeks' job) and the floor was scheduled to be completed December 20.

Athletic director Wally Grace is attempting to transpose some home-and-home contests in order that as many games as possible may be played on the new floor this year.

THE PRESENT GYM, while not as old as others in surrounding towns, hasn't kept pace with growth of the school. Enrollment of students has almost doubled since it was built with little room for adult fans at basketball games.

The recommended physical education program for all high schools has been held to a minimum with inter-school sports restricted by the lack of space. A new gymnasium, plus band and choral departments, enlarged cafeteria, and additional classrooms were needed. This $1,040,000 project was the answer.

Here is a brief summary of what is included in the project, with all of it hoped to be in use by spring:

THE GROUND FLOOR (half in, half out) includes varsity and frosh-soph dressing rooms, first aid room, two coaches offices, towel and equipment room with forced air dryers, two physical education locker rooms, towel room, six shower rooms, three athletic equipment storage rooms, and the high school laundry, which started operation Monday of this week as a demonstration. Towels and equipment can be washed and dried in a hurry this way.

The cafeteria is also in the basement with seating capacity for 800 students, a large kitchen including five separate units for preparation of different foods (old cafeteria will become the library), and a 104'x11' room for archery, shuffleboard or rifle range in case ROTC is ever started at the local school.

THE GYMNASIUM playing court on the first floor measures 84'x50', regulation size, with rollaway bleachers providing two north-to-south practice courts 44' x 84'. The foyer through which fans will pass to attend games is 36' x 80', large enough for wrestling.

Behind a 13' wall along each side of the main gym floor are additional rollaway bleachers with auxiliary areas measuring 22'x92' for other types of activity in the physical education program. Then still farther up is the second balcony with five rows of permanent bleachers. Total seating capacity will be 4,000.

ON THE EAST end of the gym is the 62'x36' stage with a 56' opening, planned as a band room during the daytime, overlooked by the band director's office. Connecting with the stage are four small sound proof practice rooms, music library, and instrument storage room.

Also on the third level are the athletic director's office, coaches' offices, large choral room with three practice rooms, director's office, music library and gown storage, speech correction room and three teachers' rest rooms.

IN ADDITION there are five commercial classrooms, four large home economics classrooms, agricultural classroom with small soil testing laboratory, 15 janitor's closets and four fan rooms. Ventilation in the addition is such that the air can be completely changed in five minutes.

Passage of students from the old building to the new is provided by tunnels connecting each floor. The entire layout has been made to make use of every possible foot of space, including the electrical power room under the steps of the entrance to the gymnasium.

Opening of the new gym makes it possible to hold some of the state cage tournaments, band contests, etc., at Arlington Heights.

Arlington at York Friday, back home vs West Aurora Sat.

by BOB PADDOCK

Arlington's cagers travel to York Friday night still in quest of their first West Suburban conference victory, then return home to meet West Aurora.

York, which finished third last year with a 7-5 slate, already has four games under its belt. They trounced Leyden, 39-25, lost to Elgin, 61-50, then fell before Thornton Saturday night, 47-28.

THE ELMHURST five is definitely the favorite Friday night in spite of the seven lettermen graduated last year. Two regulars are back this season (one more than Heights) with Walter Kirk and Dave Nygren both junior forwards.

Coaching the York aggregations are Dave Koch and Forrest Birks. The frosh-sophs, by the way, eked out a 31-28 win over Elgin Friday night, in a rough and tumble affair that saw the score tied six times.

Coach Maurice Klotz' yearlings, leading the West Suburban loop (by virtue of one game played and the alphabet) will be out to defend that lead.

SATURDAY NIGHT West Aurora comes to Arlington for the completion of a two year contract started in 1949. Last season the two teams couldn't settle on a date, so skipped the season's competition.

Back in '49 the Fox River team won handily, 35-23. The squad went to the state finals that season, with standout Beaver showing the way.

The West Aurora game is the second of ten home doubleheaders, starting at 7:15 p. m. Admission to all games is 75c and 50c. Following Friday, December 14, Heights plays host to Downers Grove.

IN OTHER league play LaGrange opens at Maine, Hinsdale journeys to Riverside and Glenbard plays host to Downers Grove. The latter school has three lettermen back, Jim Lake, 6'1" forward, senior, and Bob Lyons, 6' forward were both regulars last season, while Paul Fister at 5'9" is a senior guard.

Downers lacks size, isn't too fast, and lacks experience. Half the squad are juniors. To date the five have lost to Naperville, 75-48, and Bloom, 62-37, then took West Aurora, 36-32. Mentoring the Downers' five is Dick Kucera.

HINSDALE, which tied York for third in conference play last season, then went on as the cinderella team in the Sweet Sixteen by upsetting LaGrange and Morton, has anything but a bright outlook this year.

Only center Art Zitka is with the squad losing three of four warmup contests. Oak Park mauled Hinsdale, 60-34, November 21. Just after Thanksgiving Naperville squeezed by, 43-41, with the West Suburban school finally copping a victory against Geneva Friday night, 40-29, then losing to East Rockford.

Wheeling 'Hawks win their league opener, then lose

Last Thursday evening the Wheeling Blackhawks won their opening game in the North Shore league when they defeated R&B from Winnetka, 38 to 37. However, this thrilling victory was over-shadowed when an inspired St. Peter's team virtually routed the Hawks Sunday in Northbrook, 45 to 24.

Player-coach Chuck Fischer scoring 24 points on 10 field goals and four penalty shots, led the Blackhawks to their first league victory Thursday evening at the Winnetka community house. The Hawks trailed 16-15 at the half, but gained the lead at the end of the third quarter, 26-24.

With 2:30 left to play in the final period, the Hawks regained the lead when Fischer hit a jump shot. R&B's put the ball back in play, but Dick Sander recovered the rebound and the Hawks stalled the remaining time.

St. Peter's five from Northbrook ended a four game winning streak of the Hawks by shellacking them 45 to 24 Sunday at St. Peters. The winners were paced by Barnes, who tallied 13 points. The Hawks' weak attack was led by Fischer and Don Koelper, each scoring six tallies. Season record for the Hawks is four and one loss.

The Hawks travelled to Cary, Ill., to take on the Lions Wednesday, December 5. Thursday, December 6, the Hawks play their second league game, when they meet Pfiester Oilers at Winnetka. Friday, December 7, the Hawks return to Wheeling to take on the Arlington Heights basketeers.

Good teams at Arlington Heights are a year or two away in basketball just as in football but meanwhile the Cards are going to make the very best showing possible in the new tough West Suburban conference. Arlington's record in football games won and lost was very poor but we were impressed with the spirit of the teams and the fact that in most cases they gave the opposition closer games than had been anticipated. Their first year of football in the league was nothing to be ashamed of. Basketball, like football, is below the usual Arlington standard but quite a few schools of the conference are also below par if non-league scores are any indication.

Arlington is lucky to have an experienced center of the height of Jay Vawter for those six-feet-seven inches can be a big help to otherwise mediocre material. No one in Arlington who views sports in a sensible and sane manner can expect Coach DeGreeff to produce a winner in West Suburban basketball this year. The season will be judged on the improvement shown by the boys instead of in the won and lost standings. Teams of younger boys, just as in football, probably will account for the major share of Arlington's cage victories this season.

Meeting at Lake Forest might realign schools in conference

When this issue of Paddock Publications has gone to press a meeting will have been held by Northwest and North Suburban conferences with a number of independents to discuss realignment of schools. Whether anything definite will have come from this Wednesday meeting is questionable for school people usually are conservative and delay commitments until all possibilities have been carefully explored. The metropolitan press, using the information given last week in this column, checked enrollments and came up with a guess in Tuesday night's paper that the three largest Northwest schools, Grant, Barrington, and Palatine, might join the North Suburban in exchange for their two small schools, Grayslake and Warren. They also guessed that McHenry, Marengo, and Harvard would be added to the Northwest.

This reasoning is faulty in some respects. We doubt if the Northwest would consider schools as far away as Marengo and Harvard. McHenry, we understand, wants in the North Suburban and has some support. Grayslake wants in the Northwest and has strong support. This is the only thing definite in the whole matter.

Grant, though the largest Northwest school, is handicapped

Schrage's 39 pts. for Palatine new total for NW conference

Palatine moved into a tie for second place in both divisions of the Northwest conference Friday night with a double victory at Northbrook. Coach "Gene" Moylan's varsity team had 88 shots from the field and snowed under the Vikings 75-44. The frosh-sophs after a tie at the half ran away to a 49-17 victory.

Led by little Paul Schrage who set a new conference scoring record with 39 points, Palatine had Northbrook on the ropes at the start. Big six foot seven Don Buenzow hit five out of six shots in the first period while Schrage was sinking 10 points to give the Pirates a 22-10 margin at the quarter. The barrage of Palatine shots continued in the second period as Schrage warmed up even more with 13 points and "Tinker" Meyer and Don Zoellick got four apiece. The half time count was 43-19. Schrage and Buenzow hit three field goals apiece in the third quarter and the Pirates led 59-29.

SCHRAGE'S record total included 15 field goals in 29 shots and nine out of 10 free throws. The diminutive Palatine guard scored most of his baskets on jump shots from just outside the free throw area. Don Buenzow tallied 16 points for Palatine before fouling out. Palatine was charged with 33 fouls and Northbrook 26 for close to a league record of penalties.

Palatine had 31 baskets in 88 shots for a 35.2 percentage from the field while Northbrook made 11 out of 38 for 28.9. Art Landwehr, all conference performer last year for Northbrook, was held to five shots and one basket but got 10 out of 15 free throws for a total of 12 points. It was Palatine's second league victory in the week as Ela-Vernon was downed 46-44 in an overtime on Tuesday.

AFTER A FIRST half tie of 13-13 Palatine's frosh-sophs ran away with their game. A 32-17 lead was racked up in the third period as Abramson scored eight points and McElroy and Burtzlaff four apiece. Then Abrahamson got six, Hahn five, and McElroy four in the last quarter to increase the margin.

"Tinker" Meyer, star guard, was moved up to the varsity but the Palatine frosh-sophs made out all right without him. Pete Abramson had a 16 point total, McElroy got 12, Ken Hahn seven, and Harry Burtzlaff six for the Palatine sophomores. Bruno had 11 and Bizer 10 for Northbrook. The Palatine boys shot 33.9% from the field to 20% for Northbrook.

Win letters at Lake Forest college

Lake Forest college will award varsity monograms to 31 football players at the annual lettermen's banquet Thursday, December 6, at Calvin Durand Commons on the campus.

John Gaspar

Highlight of the evening will be the announcement of the winner of the "most valuable" player award. Voting for the award took place two weeks ago. The announcement will be made by head football coach, John Breen.

Among the 31 receiving awards Thursday will be nine seniors. Six freshmen also earned varsity awards. The letter winners included John Gaspar, Bensenville.

Ela frosh whip Palatine in 53-50 tussle

Ela-Vernon's freshman team opened the season last Thursday at home with a 53-50 victory over Palatine in a free scoring game which set a Northwest conference record for total points in a frosh contest.

Ela led all the way but Palatine, led by 21 points collected by Goetz, made a strong bid for victory in the final quarter.

Glenbard wins thriller from Naperville, 34-30

Spearheaded by a quick 9-1 lead in the opening minutes of the game, Glenbard's varsity renewed their threat in the West Suburban conference by upsetting a heavily favored Naperville squad, 34-30, on their home court Friday night in their second non-conference game of the season.

Paced by center Bob Frost, the Hilltoppers were able to maintain a scant lead for most of the game. Frost, although bothered by a jammed finger on his left hand, spearheaded the Glenbard attack by pumping through ten points during the conquest. However, Naperville's Wehrli took scoring honors when he pushed five baskets through the hoop and connected on four charity tosses.

GLENBARD went to work right off the bat, hitting for nine points in the first four minutes. Co-captain John Wise swished both a basket and a free throw to set the Bards out in front. Forward Wehrli of the Redskins avoided having the visiting team shut out in the first frame when he cashed in on two free-throws.

The Hilltoppers continued at a fast pace as Walker, Harp and Frost each contributed baskets in the initial period.

The Naperville team bounced back in the second frame and came within two points of tieing the Hilltoppers. Owens drove in to push through a basket while teammate Myers hooked in another two-pointer and added a pair of charity tosses.

RONNIE WILLIS gave the Glenbard fans some assurance after the Naperville squad had rallied to collect seven straight points blt it was cut short as Wehrli and Knosher of the Redskins pumped in another two baskets to knot up the contest.

The Glenbard squad staged a short rally which assured them of a half-time lead when Al Harp charged in to chalk up another basket.

Dick Weichenhain intercepted a Naperville pass and turned the Redskins misque into a two-pointer when he passed the ball to Frost who netted another two-pointer. Frost, who was fouled on the play, swished his free-throw to give the Bards an 18-13 halftime lead.

ALWAYS WITHIN a few points of the underdog Glenbard squad and continually narrowing down the margin, the Redskins threatened early in the second half when they put the game into another deadlock when Wherli, Knosher, and Owens all picked up baskets.

Owens tied it up with a long shot from the side while Knosher set the Redskins out in front for the first time with a jump-shot.

Glenbard bounced back as Frost whipped in a basket to knot up the game again while Wise pushed through another basket to put the Bards out in front once again as the third period came to end with the score-board reading 24-22 with the Bards on the long end.

A see-saw battle ensued all the way up to the closing minutes of the onslaught. Weichenhain swished another two-pointer for Glenbard increasing the winning margin to four points. Walsh connected on a long shot to narrow down the lead and Wehrli brought the Redskins within one point of the Glenbard five when he potted a free-throw.

A short spurt set the Hilltopper fans at ease as they laced up five more points. With only 2:30 minutes left, the Bards put the game on ice when they froze the ball.

A REVIVED Glenbard Pony squad made a startling comeback in the opening game as they pumped through forty points in their first victory of the season, 40-28.

Newkirk and Kent of Glenbard led the offensive attack, each racking up five baskets in their first conquest. Cook chalked up eight points while Peters hit for seven.

Myers was the only Redskin to dent the Glenbard defense—this being for only seven points.

State semi-pro baseball meet at Elgin again

The national baseball congress announced that the 17th annual Illinois state championship baseball tournament will be staged at Elgin, starting July 10, under the sponsorship of the Elgin Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A minimum of eight district tournaments will be franchised throughout Illinois to certify their leaders into the starting field of the state championship event.

The winner of the Elgin state tournament will meet the Indiana titlists in a bi-state playoff with the victor being certified into the 18th annual National Tournament at Wichita, starting August 15.

How many can you name?

Plenty of 'Sweet 16' vets on Illini cage squad

A University of Illinois basketball squad which Coach Harry Combes terms "more experienced, taller, and just as fast" as his Big Ten champions of last year, will open the 1951-52 campaign December 8 opposing Butler at Indianapolis.

A combination of four juniors and a senior will probably carry the load in the 22-game campaign.

Capt. Rod Fletcher, 6-4, from Champaign, is the senior and will hold down a guard position where he has no peer in the Western conference as a rebounder.

Teaming with him will be Jim Bredar, Salem junior, the team's "little man" at 5-10. Bredar is a speedy, ball-hawking type of player, a hard driver who hopes to emulate departed Don Sunderlage with the current team.

AT CENTER Bob Peterson, 6-8, 240-pound junior from Elgin, is showing vast improvement over last season. He has shown more speed, more agility, and has much more confidence in his shooting. Combes still maintains, "Peterson can be just as great as he desires to be."

The forward posts are occupied by Irv Bemoras, 6-3 junior from Chicago (Marshall), and Clive Follmer, 6-4 junior from Forrest. Both played regularly last year. Bemoras scored 95 points in conference games, Follmer pushed in 122 and hit .385 percentage of his efforts from the field.

Contending for positions in spirited competition during practice are two seniors, two juniors, and a couple of sophomores who might break into the lineup at any time.

RED-HAIRED John Kerr, 6-9 sophomore from Tilden Tech high in Chicago, will push Peterson for the center spot and may also be employed at forward should Combes desire maximum height.

In the same category is Max Hooper, another sophomore. The former Mt. Vernon star who stands 6-5 can perform either at the pivot or at forward and has consistently proved his ability as a scorer.

Jim Schuldt, a junior from Dundee who came through numerous times as a spot reserve last spring, is contending with a brace of seniors for a guard spot. They are Herb Gerecke, hard-driving, 6-2 veteran from Pekin, and Mack Follmer, 6-4 converted center from Forrest.

Four topnotch freshmen have shown excellent talent but may be lacking experience necessary to step into Big Ten play. They are Ed Makovsky, 6-5 center from Morton high of Cicero; Walt Moore, 6-3 guard from Mt. Vernon; Jim Dutcher, 6-2 forward from Downers Grove, and Elmer Plew, 6-0 forward from Paris.

by very poor athletic facilities and is on half-day sessions due to failure of a bond issue for building purposes. Barrington is the only Northwest school which could join the North Suburban and be a championship contender in sports. Palatine would most certainly not consider a shift unless some other Northwest schools were shifted with them.

Northbrook, the question mark in the whole business, will likely as not be closed next year due to lack of a place to hold classes. When, and if this is announced officially, there will be some changes in alignment for certain. We may have some news on realignment in a week or two.

A year of tall players but the shortest one sets scoring record

The Northwest conference has the tallest players in its long history. There are eight who stand six-foot-five and over, and most of them are hard boys to stop when it comes to scoring. Palatine has the tallest in the league in six-foot-seven Don Buenzow and, likewise, the shortest regular player in five-foot-seven inch Paul Schrage. Yet with all this height around the circuit and good centers who usually get the most shots, and certainly have a scoring edge due to rebounds, it is a coincidence that the smallest player should hold the single game scoring record.

Last Friday at Northbrook little Paul Schrage, the Palatine junior guard, scored 39 points, the most made in the long 30 year history of the circuit. Schrage's favorite is a one hand jump shot from about 15 feet out. He hit 15 out of 29 and was a dead eye at the charity line with nine out of 10. His scoring was consistent through the game and by quarters was 10, 13, 7, and 9.

In the last quarter of Tuesday's game with Ela, Schrage really started this hot streak getting 11 points in eight minutes and then three more in the overtime. He cooled off Saturday night against Dundee, making three baskets in 18 shots but that was to have been expected. Schrage's total overshadowed six-foot-seven Don Buenzow, who really had a big week end and is really finding himself this year. Don got 16 at Northbrook and 23 against Dundee.

Stob and Nolan scoring at a record pace

If Northwest scoring continues the dizzy pace set for the first three games a new mark for the season may be set, replacing Tholander's 264. Last year Bob Nolan of Wauconda hit a 19 point average and was four points shy of the mark. So far John Stob of Grant has 69 points for a 23 average and Nolan has 68 for 22.7.

Schrage of Palatine, who sat with his girl friend at the Bensenville game as a disciplinary measure, has 57 points in two games averaging 28.5. This certainly indicates that Schrage likes to play basketball better than watch it. Lowell Palm of Bensenville is another good scorer who missed a game at Grant due to illness but has a 19 point average. Fred Cochran, Barrington's spark plug junior guard, has 55 points for an 18.3 average and Art Landwehr of winless Northbrook has 53 for 17.7.

Arlington loses in final seconds to Maine, 32-31

Stipetic's free throw with just two seconds remaining brought grief to Arlington Heights cagers Friday night when the local school bowed to Maine in a thriller, 32-31.

The game was a close affair with Arlington behind at the quarter, 8-7, and at the half, 18-16. Game was tied at 24-all going into the final period.

THAT LAST quarter, the important one for Coach Ray DeGreeff's charges in their initial encounter for the year, found the locals matching Maine's three buckets, one by one, but Eakins' foul after a trio of usually easy Heights shots from the field missed the bucket, brought the winning marker.

Lack of experience told the tale for Heights. Big Jay Vawter is the only regular of last year in the starting group, and he performed creditably for the cardinal and white until fouling out the final period. He sank seven shots from the field, and added two charities to be high point man for both squads.

SEVEN BOYS scored for Arlington, a bright spot for Heights except that just three free throws of 14 attempts were made. Maine's efforts at the charity line netted 14 of 26 attempts.

The frosh-soph encounter found Heights leading all the way, though Maine brought the count to 24-22 with three minutes left. Coach Maurice Klotz' aggregation then pushed through five points to put the game on ice.

Turner's 11 scores was tops for the Arlington yearlings, with Winterbauer and Mueller adding nine and six. Seven boys scored for the losers. The locals' five point lead, first period was cut to a pair at halftime, then stretched to five in the third segment.

Heimerdinger's passing yardage tops again

Bob Heimerdinger's claim to the total offense championship of the nation's small colleges became official Monday with the final release from the national collegiate athletic bureau in New York.

The Northern Illinois State star quarterback compiled 1,775 yards in nine games, 120 yards ahead of his nearest competitor, White of Western New Mexico, who also played nine games.

Central Michigan's Andy MacDonald, the only passer to file more completions than Heimerdinger, was third offensively with 1,505 yards.

Heimerdinger thus became the first small college passer to win the title two seasons running, while MacDonald duplicated this feat in the passing department while setting a record of 114 completes this fall.

For the second straight time, Heimerdinger finished second to Andy in passing with 103 connections. Heimerdinger and MacDonald are two of the four small college passers in history to throw over 100 completions, and both have done this for two seasons running.

Coaches' confab at Illinois December 20

High school basketball coaches of the state will hold their annual one-day basketball clinic Dec. 20, Coach Harry Combes announced.

The clinic is sponsored jointly by University of Illinois athletic association and the Illinois high school coaches association.

Abe Saperstein, coach and owner of the famed Harlem Globetrotters professional team; Tom Scott, head coach at North Carolina university, and William Healey, head coach at Eastern Illinois Teachers college, Charleston, will be headline speakers for the clinic program.

All coaches attending the clinic will be guests of the athletic association at the Illinois-North Carolina basketball game in Huff gym at 8 p.m., December 20.

Karras falls one short of Grange record

All-American Johnny Karras, held scoreless in the 3-0 victory over Northwestern, fell one touchdown short of the Illinois one-season scoring record. Karras crossed the goal on 12 occasions, gained 592 yards rushing, and 164 on the receiving end of Illini passes.

Leading rusher in yards-pertry for the Big Ten champions is fleet halfback Don Stevens. The senior ball-carrier averaged 6.2 on 62 carries for 383 yards.

THE TOMMY O'Connell-Rex Smith passing combination accounted for most of the yards in that department. Sophomore quarterback O'Connell completed 56 of 106 tosses, six of them touchdown throws, for 625 yards through the air. Smith, his favorite receiver and former Chicago (South Shore) teammate, caught 21 passes for 331 yards and one touchdown.

On the other side of the line, big Joe Vernasco snared 11 tosses good for 220 yards and 4 touchdowns. Karras' 164 yards and one touchdown catch placed him third in the final tabulation.

SOPHOMORE punter Ken Miller, who kicked well under pressure in several Illini victories, finished the season with a 36.2 average over 50 punts.

Shaded by their opponents in passing, 948 yards to 987, the Big Ten Rose Bowl representatives out-rushed their opposition 1837 to 967. Illinois' total offense figure stands at 2785 yards. Opponents ran and passed for 1954.

Rice Cultivation

From South Carolina rice growing moved into North Carolina and Georgia, and later into Alabama, Mississippi and Florida. Up to about 1849, most was grown in North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia. The Civil War was the beginning of the end for rice growing in the Carolinas, and those states now are out of the picture, but it resulted in a rapid increase in rice acreage along the Mississippi River in Louisiana. Then the cultivation of rice was extended to the prairies of Texas and Arkansas. The first experiment in growing rice in California took place in 1908 and that state has joined Louisiana, Texas and Arkansas as a major rice producing state.

Dundee runs up 20 point margin over Palatine

Palatine's basketball teams played good ball Saturday night but Dundee was still the Dundee of other years and won both games handily. The visiting varsity teams, lacking the height of the usual deLacey coached teams, had trouble with Palatine at the start but once in high gear ran up a 62-42 victory. The frosh-sophs had it all over Palatine on height and rebounded their way to a 59-32 win.

With big Don Buenzow a real puzzle for the Dundee team the Pirates held the Card-u-nals to an 11-11 tie at the quarter. Buenzow scored all Palatine's points in this first eight minute session. Midway in the second period Palatine was still on even terms with Dundee but then the visitors bombarded the basket with short shots on quick breaks down the court and ran up a 35-23 lead at the intermission.

DUNDEE PUT two men on Buenzow in the second half and though he got plenty of shots, his timing was off and only one field goal hit. The Pirates battled all the way and appeared much improved over games of the previous week.

Allen with 20 points and Brettschneider with 15 led Dundee's scoring. Buenzow tallied 23 points for Palatine. Dundee shot 32.8 and Palatine 24.3% of field goal attempts.

PALATINE'S frosh-sophs likewise stayed in the game for a quarter but fell way behind 37-18 at the half. Dundee's rebounding was the big difference in the two teams. Abramson scored nine and Kolze and McElroy each seven points for Palatine. Schuring had 17 and Lagerstrom 11 for Dundee. The winners had an unusual shooting percentage of 42.8 from the field to Palatine's 25%.

The game was a sell out and the doors were closed with a capacity house at 7:30.

Ex-major leaguers at baseball clinic

Three ex-major league baseball players are on the program of the baseball clinic of the Chicago Undergraduate Division of the University of Illinois to be held December 29 at Navy Pier.

Johnny Mostil, former all-time great outfielder of the Chicago White Sox and presently chief of the White Sox scouts, will be one of the guest instructors. He will join Ira Hutchinson, who played with the White Sox, Boston Braves, and Brooklyn team for many years and is presently manager of the Wisconsin Rapids team.

Lew Fonseca, another White Sox, will also be on the program. He is presently promotion director of the American and National Leagues Professional baseball clubs.

All coaches and players wishing to attend the clinic are urged to contact Les Miller, University of Illinois, Navy Pier, Chicago.

Bensenville drops two close ones to Wauconda

Coach Navotny's Bensenville Bisons led all the way until the final three minutes Friday, then lost, 49-48, to invading Wauconda. Going into the last period the Bisons held a 36-32 lead.

Big all-conference Bob Nolan, Wauconda center, led the Bulldogs to their second victory with 12 field goals and four free throws for 28 points. Lowell Palm, Bison center, who missed the Grant game, almost kept pace with Nolan by dumping in 10 baskets and three free ones for 23 counters.

Bensenville's frosh-sophs lost their third straight game 38-35.

GRANT TOOK a 16-4 lead in the first quarter and had things their own way to beat Ela-Vernon at Lake Zurich, 44-27. John Stob, Grant's six-foot-five center, scored 19 points while his six-foot-two teammate, Art Smejkal, sank seven goals and two charity shots for 16 points. Cusceden's eight points was best for Ela.

Making only four field goals, Ela's frosh-soph dropped their first game of the season to Grant, 38-25, in the preliminary.

BARRINGTON rolled on to their third straight Northwest conference victory Friday night beating Antioch, 62-37, in a game which was a rout after a 25-15 first half. Fred Cochran scored 16 points and McGowan collected 18 to lead the Bronchos. Stahmer got 13 for Coach Scott's Antioch Sequoits.

Barrington's frosh-sophs stayed on top with their third vicory against no defeats winning 44-27.

All-star bowling meet at Coliseum Saturday

Chicago becomes the bowling capital of America, starting Saturday, December 8, when the 11th annual All-Star tournament opens at the Coliseum, 15th and South Wabash ave., with 224 of the nation's finest bowlers seeking the national individual match game championships for men and women.

The tournament, involving 160 men and 64 women stars, will continue for nine days on the brilliant set of 16 new alleys installed at the Coliseum specially for this event.

Dick Hoover of Akron, Ohio, the youngest (21) bowler ever to win the all-star, will defend the men's title, while Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., will be seeking a third consecutive victory in the women's division.

The Chicago area's powerful delegation of challengers will be led by Joe Wilman, Buddy Bomar and Junie McMahon, all former men's champions.

Shirley Garms of Palatine is entered in the women's division.

Picks Illinois by 41

Tod Cyrus, former Des Plaines bandsman with Lew Diamond, now a newspaperman, reports this week from his Watseka, Ill., bomb shelter on how to save trip to California:

Illinois whipped UCLA, 27-13; UCLA thumped California 21-7; California whipped Stanford, 20-7. Therefore, Illinois will win by 41 points in the Rose Bowl.

Bisons vs. Glenbard

Arlington to meet Joliet in Hinsdale Xmas tourney

Arlington Heights will meet Joliet in the coming Hinsdale holiday tournament, it was announced Monday of this week. The four-day meet opens Wednesday, Dec. 26, with semi-finals Saturday afternoon and finals that evening.

Seven conferences will be represented in the tourney. The West Suburban heads the list with Downers Grove, Glenbard, Arlington Heights and host Hinsdale involved. The Big 8 league is next with Elgin, Joliet and West Aurora entered.

FROM SUBURBAN league circles will come Highland Park, Proviso and Evanston, Wheaton and Naperville will represent the Little Seven loop, while Argo from the South Suburban will also show.

Crystal Lake, Bensenville and Lemont are all single entries from their respective leagues. The Bisons, coached by Frank Navotny, will oppose Glenbard in "a natural" contest Wednesday night, Dec. 26, at 7:15.

FOR ARLINGTON it will be the first year in the Hinsdale affair. The locals have competed in other holiday affairs at DeKalb and Palatine, losing to DeKalb last year, 44-40. Coach DeGreeff's boys will have nothing to lose and everything to gain if they can come through.

Pairings:

Wednesday, Dec. 26

Crystal Lake vs. Proviso, 2:00.
Hinsdale vs. Lemont, 3:30.
Glenbard vs. Bensenville, 7:15.
Evanston vs. Naperville, 8:45.

Thursday, Dec. 27

Highland Park vs. East Aurora, 2:00.
Joliet vs. Arlington Heights, 3:30.
Elgin vs. Argo, 7:15.
Downers Grove vs. Wheaton, 8:45.

Friday, Dec. 28

Quarterfinals at 2:00, 3:30, 7:15 and 8:45.

Saturday, Dec. 29

Semi-finals at 2:00 and 3:30.
Finals at 7:15 and 8:30.

Athletic director Harvey Dickinson of Hinsdale will be heard on "Let's Look at Sports" with Tom Duggan, Monday night at 10:30, (WNBQ-5), telling of the tournament.

Hope Summers at Woodstock in 'Suspect'

"To work with an ensemble group in a challenging role is the desire of every actor," explains Hope Summers of her appearance with Carl Staha Productions in "Suspect" at the Woodstock Opera House, December 7, 8, 9.

Miss Summers, currently featured as Belinda Catherwood on TV's "Hawkins Falls," arranged her busy schedule to star in the psychological drama by Percy and Denham, playwrights of the hit "Ladies in Retirement."

"Suspect" is the final play on the McHenry county theatre guild pre-Christmas series. Carl Stehn announces the next 5 week series will commence Friday, January 11, when such Broadway hits as "Bell, Book and Candle" and "Kid from Brooklyn" are planned. M. David Samples remembered for his outstanding performances last year in "Harvey" and "Duet for Two Hands" will continue as director. In "Suspect" he returns to the boards in a comedy part and Carl Stehn takes over the directorial chores. Ronald Temme will be seen in his first character role of the season

Mature tree gift may be answer to Yule problem

Do your Christmas shopping early is particularly apt for those planning to plant outdoor trees that will be a permanent asset.

While it is possible to move fairly mature trees in right up to the Yuletide holidays, it is much better to plant them right now. So says Billy White, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

Although deciduous trees are now denuded, the nurseryman or tree expert can judge their health accurately. In moving trees now, especially evergreens, there is one prime precaution: protect roots from severe freezing. Experienced tree men have transplanting down to a science and can perform the moving with a minimum of injury to root systems.

While moving of a well-established tree is not inexpensive, many couples find solution to the holiday problem by gifting themselves with the landscape improvement. Average price for a healthy deciduous or evergreen tree, about 15 years old and with a five or six inch trunk diameter, will range from $100 up. Price depends greatly upon how far the tree has to be transported and upon the planting conditions, as well as the kind of tree itself.

SOME PICKIN'S?

An unusually large cotton crop near Edinburg, Texas, this year brought beauties clad in swim suits to the fields to help relieve the labor shortage. While brunette Betty Zane Lane, a local beauty, helps gather the fluffy white cotton fiber, she acquires a glamorous sun tan to boot.

Eighteen-year-olds must register within five days of birthday

Young men becoming 18 years old must register with Selective Service within five days of their birthday, and failure to do so makes the delinquent liable to penalty, it was pointed out by Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois state director of selective service.

However, if a man happens to be away from home at the time, it is not necessary for him to return, Colonel Armstrong explained. He may register at the nearest local board and the record will be sent to the local board having jurisdiction over his place of permanent residence, even though the latter is in another state. After he registers, it is mandatory that a registrant keep his local board informed of any new address or other change in his status, and this applies after he becomes 26 years of age as well as before.

Colonel Armstrong said that non-citizens entering the United States on a permanent basis are required to register at a local board within six months following the date of their entry.

The maximum penalty for violation of any of the provisions of the Selective Service law, Colonel Armstrong said, is five years in prison or a fine of $10,000, or both.

No Better Bargain Than A Want Ad For $1

Self-employed should apply now for numbers

Self-employed persons should apply now for their social security account number, urged Ellen McGuire, manager of the 5306 W. Lawrence Ave., Chicago, social security field office. Although self-employed persons are not required to report their 1951 earnings until they file their income tax returns early in 1952, Miss McGuire said that every self-employed person who does not have a social security account-number should apply for one now to be certain he had the account number when the tax report is made. Applications for account numbers can be obtained from the local post office, or by contacting the Chicago Northwest social security office, located at 5306 W. Lawrence Ave., Chicago.

Most owners or partners in a trade or business who have net earnings of $400 or more a year are required by the new social security law to pay in full the tax of 2¼% of their net earnings, up to the first $3,600 earned in the year, at the time the combined income tax and social security tax form is filed. This coverage of the self-employed is not voluntary, Miss McGuire emphasized. Participation is required by the law unless net earnings from self-employment are less than $400 a year, or if the income is derived from the ownership or operation of a farm or from certain professions excluded by the law; such as, physicians, lawyers, dentists, professional engineers, public accountants, and some others.

A new booklet entitled "Do You Work For Yourself?" which gives a clear explanation of the new social security law applying to the self-employed, can be had at no cost by writing to, or calling at, the Social Security Administration field office, located at 5306 W. Lawrence Ave., Chicago, Miss McGuire concluded.

In the future

New for the Christmas trade is a plastic-base "snow" packaged in a pressurized can. Just press a button and it sprays a coating of the "snow" on your tree . . . An aqueous wax emulsion which, when used as a lubricant for power hack saws and routers, greatly extends the life of these tools has been perfected by the makers of Johnson's Wax. The coolant is non-inflammable and has excellent cooling properties. It is especially effective in extending the life of blades, and it not only reduces the wear of router bits but eliminates much of the burring on routed edges . . . In use on industrial structures for many years, a harmless substance that repels pigeons is now being made available for homecomers . . . There's a new typewriter for the blind, designed to operate quietly and efficiently and with special keys for sensitive fingers . . . Activities About Wheeling

MRS. HAROLD UTPADEL — Phone Wheeling 37

The mixed 500 club met last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Koeller in Des Plaines. Guest players were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Galitz, former members of the club. Prize winners were, men's first, E. J. Galitz; men's second, William Laurance; ladies' first, Mrs. Henry Grandt; ladies' second, Mrs. E. J. Galitz.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott and family and Mrs. Johanna Hoffman recently visited the John Hoffmans at Urbana, Mo., and spent a few days with them. They found them all in good health and they were happy to see Wheeling people again. Joanne Hoffman and Janet Utpadel left Tuesday to spend their vacations there.

Horatio Gardens

We are beginning our Christmas shopping, cleaning, and preparing and from now until after the New Year, things won't be quite normal in the homes and living of a large percentage of the human race. It will be a bit difficult to keep up with, and informed of, all the comings and goings of pre-Christmas activities. The children are beginning to learn their parts for the school or church programs and making plans for their holiday vacations and having trouble concentrating on lessons.

The local Men's Improvement association is to meet at the George Schuetz home Wednesday evening for their December get-together and election of new officials.

The H. G. Neighbors club was entertained by Mrs. William Speckin recently. Plans were made for the ladies' Christmas dinner party. Mrs. Ruth Emmerick of Buffalo Grove is to be hostess.

Katherine Speckin, 3 year old daughter of the William Speckins, was sick last week with flu. Her mother became ill Saturday and was in Chicago to see her doctor Monday. Wednesday Mrs. Schuetz drove Mrs. Speckins to a Chicago hospital where she had x-rays taken. Also on the sick list is Mrs. Agnes Heidenreich, who has a bad cold. She was considerably improved Sunday when Mr. and Mrs. Clarence DeBoest and Mr. and Mrs. G. Schuetz were guests there.

Robert Scott attended a Disston Saw convention at the Bismarck hotel in Chicago last Friday. The convention was for all the dealers in Illinois and the surrounding states.

Billy Wiest is leaving Friday to be with Uncle Sam's army for a while.

Infant Welfare will be held Monday from 1 to 3 p. m. at the Wheeling school.

Mrs. John Bornhoff, who recently underwent surgery, came home from the hospital Friday and is getting along nicely.

An Ordinance

To increase the maximum tax rate limit of the Village of Wheeling, Cook County, Illinois, for corporate fund by 10%

WHEREAS, the Sixty-seventh General Assembly, by House Bill No. 650, provided that the governing body of each city and village should establish by ordinance or resolution the tax rate for each fund for which taxes may be levied.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Wheeling, Cook County, Illinois, that:

SECTION 1: The maximum tax rate limit for the general corporate fund of the Village of Wheeling shall be established at .2499 per cent of full, fair cash value of the assessed value of all taxable value in the municipality as ascertained and set by law.

SECTION 2: A certified copy of this ordinance shall be filed with the County Clerk within twenty (20) days after its adoption.

SECTION 3: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval, and publication as provided by law.

PASSED this 3rd day of December, 1951.

AYES: 6; NAYS: None; ABSENT: None.

APPROVED this 3rd day of December, 1951.

PUBLISHED this 7th day of December, 1951.

Arthur Ortegel,
President of the Village of Wheeling.

ATTESTED AND FILED IN my office this 3rd day of Dec. 1951.

Adeline Schneider,
Village Clerk.

The ladies' birthday pinochle club met at the home of Mable Schmidt last Wednesday. Mrs. Betty Hallen was guest player. Winners were Betty Hallen, first; Gladys Fritze, second; Edna Dueball, 3rd, and Betty Schmidt, consolation.

There was a double birthday celebration at the home of the Anton Welzens, Mundelein, Sunday, when Allen Welzen, who was one year old November 22, and Terry Welzen, who was two years old December 2, celebrated their birthdays. Attending the celebration were their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Heppner, Mr. and Mrs. George Barthule of Wheeling, Mrs. Willard Meier of Mt. Prospect and Mr. and Mrs. Al Eichels.

Mrs. Ed Bellmore had a Stanley demonstration at her home last Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Earl Camm and Mrs. C. M. Lurch celebrated their birthdays by having a birthday cake at the Ladies of the Lions meeting Monday night.

Mrs. John Schmidt resumed her duties as cook at the Wheeling school hot lunch program December 3. Because of ill health, she was unable to work at the beginning of the term, but has now sufficiently recovered to take over. Mrs. Francis Gloden substituted for her during her absence.

NEWCOMERS AT HOME

Clarence Hoffmans
Milwaukee ave.

The family of Clarence Hoffman moved to Wheeling recently from Burlington, Wis., into the house on Milwaukee ave., formerly occupied by the Carl Geffes. The Hoffmans are not strictly newcomers to Wheeling, both Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman having spent the greater part of their lives here, having moved away about 17 years ago to Burlington, where Mr. Hoffman was employed at that time. The family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman and their two sons, David, who is now attending Arlington Heights high school, and Richard, 19, who was born in Wheeling, and who is now working.

Their many friends and relatives here are happy to have them back again.

Walter Diens
First street

The Walter Diens moved into their new home, located on First st. in September. Mr. Dien works for the National Biscuit co. in Chicago. They have two sons, 4-year-old Richard and Robert, 9, who goes to the Wheeling school and is in the fourth grade.

They are already becoming acquainted with the folks in Wheeling, having joined the Wheeling school PTA and Robert belongs to the Cub Scouts. They like the village very much, especially the wide open spaces, however wish there were more recreation facilities for the children.

They are affiliated with the Lutheran church.

Hans Jensens
Wolf road

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Jensen moved to Wheeling August 5, into the home formerly owned by the John Hoffmans, Dundee and Wolf rds. They have done extensive remodeling and decorating on the home and haven't completed it as yet. They came to Wheeling to live because they wanted to live in a small community.

They have a son, 23, in college, who was married in June of 1951.

A. E. Gardellas
Wille ave.

Lt. and Mrs. A. E. Gardella moved into the ranch type home on Wille ave., which was formerly owned by the Scruggs, about seven months ago. Lt. Gardella was transferred from Norfolk, Va., to the naval base at Glenview.

Wheeling bowling news

by ED WELFLIN

This last week the performance of one man stood out way above everybody else's and rightly should. This man was Del Dobbins who hit a 214-267-160—641 series. This 641 series was the highest series I have ever been honored to report in the last three years of reporting. Del's second game of 267 was also the highest game bowled on Wheeling alleys in many a year. So our hats are off to you "Dell Dobbins."

The second biggest thing that happened last week was when the Firemen, of the Tuesday night's men's league, swept a three game series from the league leading Amvet five. This tremendous victory moved the Firemen five to only one game behind the Amvets. John Forke paced the Firemen with a good 555 series. In the other contest of the night the Lion five made it seven victories in a row by sweeping their three game series from the Chamber five. This week the Amvets face the Lions and hope to be able to protect their slim one game lead, but those roaring Lions have carnivorous ideas in mind. The Firemen, meanwhile, plan to have an easy time with last place Chamber of Commerce, but boys watch out, you might get burned.

Last week, in the Ladies Wednesday night league, the two leaders, Geest and Riviera fives, took a good beating for a change. Third place McIntyres took all three games from Riviera while last place Northbrook auxiliary took two out of three from Geest and Co. As a result of last week's happenings we find a very good three team race shaping up with all three teams about neck and neck at present.

In the Men's Wednesday night league we find the Nottie Pine Inn team going down in league standings and the Welflin Grocery five staying down. Last week McIntyres kept up their torrid pace and won two out of three from the Inn team while league leading Wards took two from Welflin's without hardly trying.

Footes again led by their team captain, Biff Foote, got back in their winning ways, last week by winning all three games in their match with Borchardts. Along with the fact that second place Red's Garage took but two out of three games from Wheelum Battery we now find Foote Tavern five, two full games in the lead of the Men's Thursday night league. By the way, Biff Foote hit a 500 series even.

The Friday night major league followers besides witnessing Del Dobbins' 641 series saw the two teams leading the league romp over their opponents with little effort. Behms with Dels' 641 and a team series of 2633 took three from last place Zeman Beer who hit 2362. Second place Millers' High Life meanwhile hit 2370 which was good enough to take three games from the third place McIntyre five who hit a lowly 2245.

Young arsonists set blaze which damages 60 new refrigerators

Three young arsonists set a fire in Park Ridge which caused extensive damaged to 60 refrigerators stored in the basement of the new apartment building being constructed at Touhy and Greenwood.

The children, an 8-year-old boy and two 9-year-olds, started the costly fire by poking firebrands into crates where the refrigerators were stored in the basement of the building.

Circumstances leading to the fire led police to find out who the young fire-starters were. The boys and their parents have reported to the Park Ridge police for a conference with the juvenile officer.

Children Remember

Children remember more about motion pictures than adults, and for a longer length of time, according to tests reported by Childcraft books. Action is remembered best, especially when it is connected with types of activity that are familiar to the child. All children tend to accept as true everything seen in the movies, unless it is clearly shown to be false.

Country Frolic a success; 200 attend

The Country Frolic dance given last Friday by the Wheeling Lions and Ladies of the Lions was a huge success. Close to 200 people attended.

All of the animals in the "country store" went to nice homes, to people who appreciated them.

Jack Palmer, 906 N. Princeton, Arlington Heights, was presented with a special gift during the evening.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

A full meal baked in one dish, which is certain to appeal to many a busy housewife, is the recipe shared with us today by Mrs. G. A. McElroy of 254 N. Hale, Palatine.

This casserole, simple and quick to make, is called hamburger pie. It contains all of the ingredients for a complete dinner—browned ground beef, cooked green beans and tomato soup, and is topped by mashed potatoes.

The whole concoction is baked for only 30 minutes and then your meal is ready to serve.

Mrs. McElroy, who is the wife of the Palatine high school principal and mother of three children, enjoys cooking and collecting good recipes.

Another favorite of hers, an excellent dessert to top off a dinner of hamburger pie, is baked fudge.

This is a recipe for chewy brownies, which Mrs. McElroy says are absolutely foolproof to make and are a delicious taste treat as well.

Hamburger pie

1 medium-sized onion chopped
2 tablespoons fat
1 pound ground beef
½ lb. cooked green beans or 1 No. 2 can (2½ cups) drained
1 10½-ounce can condensed tomato soup
5 medium-sized potatoes, cooked
½ cup warm milk
1 beaten egg
½ to 1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper

Brown onion in hot fat; add meat and seasonings; brown. Add beans and soup and pour into a greased casserole.

Mash potatoes; add milk, egg and seasoning.

Spoon potatoes to form mounds or spread over meat mixture.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Serves 6.

Baked fudge

2 ounces chocolate
¼ cup milk
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
½ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup nut meats
1/3 cup butter

Cut the chocolate into pieces and put it and the milk in a small sauce pan. Stir and cook over a low flame until a smooth thick paste is formed.

Beat the eggs and then add the sugar. Stir until it is dissolved in the eggs.

Cool the chocolate paste, then add it to the egg and sugar mixture.

Measure the flour after sifting once. Add the salt and sift again into the above mixture. Then add the vanilla and chopped nut meats. Stir well.

Melt the butter and add to the other ingredients. Beat well and turn into a greased 9-inch square pan.

Bake at 350 degrees for 40-45 minutes. Cool and cut into squares. Yield: 16 squares.

'String Trio' to entertain music group

Three Arlington Heights women, who call themselves the "String Trio," will present a program of chamber music before the music study group of the Arlington Heights Woman's club December 12 at 1:15 p. m.

The group will meet in the home of Mrs. Frank C. Carr, 102 Pine ave., Jewel Park, Barrington. Mrs. S. A. Hollinger and Mrs. Frank Kroll will serve as co-hostesses.

The string trio consists of Mrs. Victor Beisler, violinist; Mrs. Lyle Ewing, pianist, and Mrs. John Flodin, cellist. Their program will feature the Mendelssohn Trio in D Minor, as well as a piano solo by Mrs. Ewing and a violin solo by Mrs. Beisler.

Mrs. Beisler studied at the Chicago College of Music.

Mrs. Ewing, who was born in Panama, started her music studies there under Mrs. William Needham, a graduate of the Oxford School of Music in London. At the present time she is a student of Valdis Treimanis of the Arlington School of Music.

Mrs. Flodin is a former member of the Barrington Music Club Orchestra and is currently studying with Mrs. Margaret Kree Evans of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

To sponsor Yule party and supper

A Christmas party and potluck supper will be sponsored by the Mr. and Mrs. club of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church December 14 at 6:45 p. m. at the church.

A film of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" will also be shown.

Each man is asked to bring a 25 cent gift item for a man for the grab bag and the women should do the same for the women.

The singing of Christmas carols will conclude the evening.

Tell betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Francis K. Wilton of 211 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, announce the engagement of their daughter, Gladys, to Wilbur Ridgeway Pownall, of 812 N. Kasper st., Arlington Heights, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Otis Howard Pownall of Marion, Ind.

Plans are being made for an April wedding.

Barbershop singers seek engagements for Yule caroling

Arlington Heights Chapter of SPEBSQSA has been rehearsing Christmas carols, in addition to strictly barber shop numbers, and are ready to accept invitations to sing for any civic or religious organization or groups in the village who would like to include them in their programs.

The Four Hoarsemen, the quartet consisting of Stan Myers, Fred Jasper, Dan Krebsback and Barney Erickson, have sung for the Parent Teacher association of Palatine, at the annual banquet of the Faith Lutheran church, father and sons banquet at the Evangelical and Reformed church at Palatine, the golden wedding anniversary banquet of Mr. and Mrs. Duro, in the Crystal ball room of the Blackston hotel, a program for the St. John Evangelical Lutheran, the paraplegic ward at Vaughn hospital and the Lions club ladies-night party.

The entire chorus will travel to Chicago December 14 to attend and sing at the first area meeting of chapters in Area No. 11.

December 17, the members of the Arlington chapter will entertain their ladies at a party to be held in the Legion home.

The members of this group invite any and all men singers to join them in this civic project of harmony and good will. Rehearsals are held each Monday evening, usually in the field house from 8 to 10:30 p. m. Come and join in the singing or just listen.

Call Eber Cline, secretary, if your organization would like to have the chorus sing at your party or meeting.

Additional quartets are practicing and will be glad to sing upon any occasion or perhaps without occasion, if all members of the quartet are available on the particular date. Any organization who would like to have the quartet sing at its meeting should call Eber Cline, secretary of SPEBSQSA.

Rev. E. I. Stevens to speak before Junior Women

In keeping with the forthcoming holiday season, Rev. E. I. Stevens of the Mt. Prospect South church will give a presentation of the Christmas story at the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club meeting December 11.

This meeting will be held at the Arlington Heights field house at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

Another important part of the meeting will be the formation of final plans for the bake sale to be held at Shelkop's Radio and Television store December 15. The bake sale, a district project, is being held to secure funds for the Trail Rangers This is a worthwhile institution which specializes in the rehabilitation of wayward boys.

The club wishes to extend an invitation to all members and guests to attend this meeting. (AM

Mary Frances White and Robert Jacobs take vows

St. Mary's Catholic church, Buffalo Grove, was the scene November 22 of the wedding of Miss Mary Frances White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Latzke of 332 Central rd., Arlington Heights, and Robert W. Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jacobs of 1211 N. Belmont ave., Arlington Heights.

Father Ballweber officiated at the cermony held at 4:30 p. m. Giant white mums and snapdragons decorated the altar.

The bride wore a blush pink ballerina length gown fashioned with a fitted lace bodice and a full skirt of net over satin, a sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. Her blush fingertip length veil edged with lace was held in place by a lace cloche trimmed with seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white camellias and baby mums tied with pink ribbon.

Miss Vlasta B. Tyser of Engstrom Studio Downers Grove was the maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of gray embroidered net over pink taffeta and carried a bouquet of baby split mums.

Miss Elvira Moehling of Palatine was the bridesmaid, and Miss Arline Andres of Arlington Heights was the junior bridesmaid. The attendants' gowns matched that of the maid of honor.

LeRoy Jacobs of Arlington Heights, brother of the groom, was best man. Theodore Shahoda of Arlington Heights was the usher.

A reception and dinner for 150 guests was held at St. Mary's auditorium, Buffalo Grove.

The couple honeymooned at Lake of the Ozarks and Osage Beach, Mo., and are now making their home at 332 Central rd., Arlington Heights.

AAUW to sponsor play to aid fellowship setup

Mrs. R. M. Dunlap, fellowship chairman of the Northwest Suburban branch of the American Association of University Women, joins more than 1000 fellowship chairmen in AAUW branches from coast to coast in a drive for funds to maintain the national fellowship and international study grants program during 1952-53. Nearly $7,000 of the $127,000 raised nationally last year was contributed by the 54 Illinois branches.

The Northwest Suburban branch of AAUW will contribute to the fellowship program by sponsoring the Des Plaines Theater guild's production, "Little Foxes," Friday and Saturday evenings, December 7 and 8, at the Rand Park guild room in Des Plaines.

In 1890 AAUW instituted a fellowship program to promote higher education for women. This program now includes international grants as well as fellowships for American students.

Twenty-seven fellowships, with stipends totalling $41,950, were awarded for the 1951-52 academic year. Half of these American AAUW fellows are using their award for study in the United States while the others are studying in foreign countries. Some of the students are completing work for their doctorate degree, and 12 already have their doctor's degree and are doing post-doctorate research.

SINCE V-E DAY, more than 200 students have come to the United States on the international study grant program inaugurated by AAUW as a contribution to postwar reconstruction. Five women from abroad who hold grants for 1951-52 are studying at universities in Illinois.

Because these grants are given on a competitive basis, without personal or political favor, officials of the United States government have placed a high value on these awards, stating that they not only serve as an expression of friendship, but also help in a concrete way to build understanding between nations. The students, who interpret their native land to Americans while here, return to their own countries with a clearer perception of the Ameican way of life.

Donations will be $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

Engaged

Mrs. Arthur Windheim of Arlington Heights is announcing the engagement of her daughter, Dolores, to William Sapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Sapp of Mt. Prospect.

Mr. Sapp is a student at Illinois Wesleyan university, Bloomington, Ill.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bryson of 1620 N. State rd., Arlington Hts., announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Ruth, to William Hamilton Minshull Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton Minshull of Lake Geneva, former residents of Mt Prospect.

The wedding will take place in the near future.

Install Katheryn Newberg, H. Hastings as OES leaders

The public installation of officers of Arlington Heights Chapter 992, Order of the Eastern Star of Illinois, was held November 29 at the Presbyterian hall, Arlington Heights, at 8 p. m.

The following officers were installed: Katheryn Newberg, worthy matron; Harold A. Hastings, worthy patron; Gertrude Schroeder, associate matron; Florence Luckner, secretary; Dorothy Voss, treasurer; Magdalena Nuss, conductress; Minda Newberg, chaplain; Veve Allen, marshal; Minnie Barnum, organist; Irene Lamprecht, Adah; Agnes Skadberg, Ruth; Mary M. Reed, Esther; Ruth Louden, Martha; Etta Reschke, Electa; Marie Bolte, Warder, and Jessie Hastings, sentinel.

The installing officers were: Rita T. Johnson, associate grand matron of OES of Illinois, installing grand officer; Florence Luckner, chaplain; Lillian Wolf, marshal; Ellen Schoppe, organist, and Rose Krivanek, soloist.

Herbert Olson was color bearer, and the Ode to the Flag was given by Ross C. Newberg. Myrtle L. Frey, grand lecturer, was the mistress of ceremonies, and Maybelle C. Jasper was in charge of special courtesies.

The installation was well attended by members, friends and visitors from neighboring chapters. During the course of the evening, Marshall Crane, nephew of Harold Hastings, newly installed worthy patron, gave several selections on the accordion.

Myrtle L. Frey was introduced as instructress of the chapter, and Gladys Leicht, as the correspondent for the ensuing year.

At the close of the installation ceremonies, the officers had a retiring march and were then greeted by friends in the dining room, where refreshments were served by Mary Peters, chairman, and her committee.

Kappa alumnae to meet, complete Christmas project

Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae in the northwest suburban area will meet December 11 at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Fred W. Reitze, 12 W. Willow rd., Prospect Heights.

The group will complete work on Christmas gifts for the children in the Women's and Children's hospital, Chicago.

A regular project of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Chicago Intercollegiate Alumnae Association is the support of a psychiatric department for children in this hospital.

Mrs. W. W. Askew, Cumberland, is chairman of the Christmas project, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Cushman, also of Cumberland.

All alumnae of this sorority in the northwest area are welcome at the meetings held the second Tuesday of each month.

Roberta Dye becomes bride of Donald Newhouse

Miss Roberta Dye of Des Plaines, former resident of Arlington Heights, became the bride of M/Sgt. Donald E. Newhouse of Chicago, son of Mrs. Rosemond Williams of Williams Park, Ill., November 22. The ceremony was held at O'Hare field chapel at 5 p. m.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis DeLaney of Oakridge, Tenn., wore a white gown and a fingertip length veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Florence Bergschneider of Des Plaines was the maid of honor. She wore a pink gown and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

S/Sgt. Ray Quaze of O'Hare field was the best man.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the non-commissioned officers' club at O'Hare field. The couple are now making their home in Des Plaines.

Owners of Hilltop Studios have new line of samples

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Mook, owners of Hilltop Studios, 1718 E. Northwest hwy., have just returned from a buying trip in New York City.

The Mooks left for New York City two days after they discovered their studio had been burglarized. The trip east had been planned and reservations made, so the burglary, while unfortunate, did not alter their plans.

They visited many fabric and furniture showrooms and returned with many advanced ideas on the latest trends from the world's decorating center.

The Mooks met their son, Robert, former Northwestern university student and graduate of Arlington high school, for Thanksgiving. He is serving in the United States coast guard and had just returned from a weather patrol trip between Labrador and Greenland.

While in New York the Mooks purchased a complete new line of samples to replace those stolen. Business is going on as usual.

Teachers to discuss NATO countries before AAUW group

Two Maine township high school faculty members will discuss economic and political situations in the North Atlantic Treaty countries before members of the international relations group of American Association of University Women, December 12 at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. R. Schwenke, 954 Prairie, Des Plaines.

Miss Mary Jane Little, social science instructor, and Miss Mary Kesgen of the home economics faculty, travelled for three months last summer through Europe. Their special interest was the NATO countries and participation in the mutual defense pact.

The teachers will illustrate their talk with colored slides made from photographs of their trip.

This will be an open meeting and all women in the northwest suburban communities are invited. Membership in the group is open to both members and non-members of AAUW.

Co-hostess for the December 12 meeting will be Mrs. R. E. Miller. Chairman of the group is Mrs. Roy Mount. (B4

Mixed Choral Society to sing at Prospect Heights grade school

The Prospect Heights Mixed Choral Society will present a Christmas recital in conjunction with the children of the Prospect Heights school December 18 at 8 p. m. at the school.

Mrs. Phyllis Snetsinger is the director of the group.

Those who would like to join the group can do so by contacting Mrs. Robert Randolph, Prospect Heights, or Mrs. Roger Kellogg, Arlington Heights.

Members are now working on this recital.

Pi Beta Phi alumnae celebrate Yule season

The Pi Beta Phi Alumni club of the northwest suburban area Christmas party was held Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. R. E. Whiteley, 102 Eastwood, Mt. Prospect. Mrs. E. D. Elliott, Mrs. Roscoe Batts and Mrs. Ralph Mabbs were co-hostesses.

As each guest arrived she was given a hat depicting the name of a song. Members' husbands were guests for the evening of games followed by refreshments.

Members brought gifts for the children of the Pi Beta Phi Settlement school at Gatlinburg, Tenn. (B4

Director of social service to address WSCS Tuesday

In keeping with the spirit of Christmas, program chairman, Mrs. H. P. Gregg, announces that Mrs. Katherine Williams, social service director of Wesley Memorial hospital, will discuss phases of her work before the Woman's Society of Christian Service Tuesday at 1 p. m. at the Arlington Heights Methodist church.

Identified with Wesley hospital in Chicago for many years, Mrs. Williams will tell of Wesley's free-bed care given to more than 1,200 patients this year; during that year the hospital also provided more than 17,000 patient days of free care.

MRS. WILLIAMS will be accompanied to this meeting by John Kinsey, public relations chairman of Wesley hospital.

As a preface to the afternoon's program, a 1 p. m. covered-dish luncheon is being planned by Mrs. R. H. Barbour's circle of which Mrs. Ralph Claubaugh is co-chairman.

Mrs. Maynard W. Whitelaw, president of the local Woman's Society, will conduct the business of the organization.

Mrs. R. Robert Ismay, spiritual life leader, will present a devotional talk.

Special Christmas music will be presented by music students of the Arlington Heights township high school.

Sorority alumnae to hold Yule party

The Northwest Suburban Alumnae Association of Kappa Delta will hold its Christmas party December 10 at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Donald Thompson, 316 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. C. F. Close and Mrs. W. E. Trude will be co-hostesses. All alumnae in the area are invited to this annual card party.

Those planning to attend are asked to call Arlington Heights 2235-J by December 8.

The November 21st issue of duo-pian... carried a rather tation as lea... having reference when they play... the C&NW ano recital with alm... k areas accord.

Their repertoire ranged thro... original music for two keyboards through the best transcribed works to new scores by leading composers written especially for them.

THE AUDIENCE expressed pleasure when the artists played as encores such favorites as Liszt's "Liebestraum," Gluck's "Eighteenth Century Gavotte," and Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

Mozart's "Sonata in D Major" and Brahms' waltzes and Hungarian dances represented original two-piano works which were exquisitely played. Their final number, "Fantasy on Themes" from Strauss' "Die Fledermaus," was a brilliantly played selection which blended those wonderful waltz-rhythms.

The third concert of the series to be offered to Community Concert association members this season will be played in February by Ossy Renardy, violinist. Mr. Renardy is making an extensive tour of the main European capitals this year and next January. He is resuming his American tour in February.

Baptisms

Vess Duro

Vess Duro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Duro of 510 Banbury rd., Arlington Heights, was baptized Sunday at St. James Catholic church at 3 p. m. Rev. Richard Rosemeyer officiated.

Power From Coal

Electric power plants used 92 million tons of coal in 1950.

In appreciation

We certainly want to thank all the wonderful people who helped make our annual spaghetti supper the big success it was. Also, we want to show our appreciation to those who helped out so greatly by donating their ...me to help with the work in... books, and those who contribut... teresting ...y necessary items ...laity, relating ...d, health subjects. ...re inconvenient.

These books, selected out, we committee of the club under... chairmanship of Miss Lillian MacLeish, will be further screened by the librarian before they will be made available to the public.

ANOTHER important contribution on the part of the president, as a representative of the club, was the plea to the village trustees for larger accommodations for the lending closet equipment. Community interest in this project was emphasized when petitions bearing more than 1,200 signatures were produced asking that the board give serious consideration to the need for additional space when the library is moved from its present quarters to the new building. Mrs. Albert Peters, program chairman, arranged programs which were educational, entertaining and stimulating. The educational programs comprised a report on the use of and progress of research of ACTHAR and cortisone given by Dr. John H. Glynn, technical director of the Armour laboratories, and a film especially prepared for nurses on cancer diagnosis. The film was shown to the club members by Miss Audrey Campbell, director of public education of the Illinois Division of the American Cancer Society.

THE ENTHUSIASM with which the film was received prompted the Nurses' club to co-sponsor the showing of the film, "Breast Self-Examination," to women of the community. Three public and three private showings permitted more than 900 women to see the film. According to statistics of the American Cancer Society four per cent of women viewing this film have been saved from cancer fatality.

Mrs. Harold Weiss, chairman of the ways and means committee, was congratulated on the returns shown by members of her committee.

Mrs. Frank Sachs, lending closet chairman, reported that 115 articles were loaned out during 1951. To fill requests the club has purchased two wheel chairs, a commode, an automatic electric vaporizer and various smaller articles.

Several donations have also been made. Harry Knaack donated a booth at the Chamber of Commerce Home Show in May to display the lending closet equipment.

Mrs. Richard Bradford, membership chairman, reported that 13 new members have been added to the club's list.

NEW OFFICERS elected were: Mrs. Richard Chambers, president; Mrs. Vincent Hofeling, vice-president; Mrs. Geo. Reinhardt, secretary, and Mrs. F. R. Schwanke, re-elected treasurer.

Mrs. Chambers called a board meeting November 26, and new standing committee chairmen were selected and appointments confirmed.

They are as follows: Mrs. Fred Weber, program; Mrs. R. Bradford, membership; Mrs. C. Bloecker, ways and means; Mrs. R. Duderstadt, roll call; Mrs. Paul Carroll, education; Mrs. Ed Corcoran, publicity; Mrs. E. Plank, hospitality; Miss Fae Kent, constitution and by-laws; Mrs. Murphy, courtesy; Mrs. William Newmann and Mrs. R. Ford, auditing; Mrs. Vincent Hofeling, parliamentarian; Mrs. C. Stacey, public welfare; Mrs. A. C. Peters, year book; Mrs. L. MacLeish, historian, and Mrs. C. Frederickson, lending closet.

The Nurses' club annual Christmas party will be held December 20 at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. F. R. Schanwke, 415 E. Rockwell. Following the short business meeting, there will be a surprise treat, exchange of gifts and revealing of secret pals.

The Christmas boxes to be filled for Oak Forest Infirmary should be left with Mrs. Peters or Mrs. Weber before December 12. They will be sent to Mrs. Jane Hodges, chairman of the Oak Forest Christmas box project of the South church, Mt. Prospect.

Business sorority plans holiday project and social activities

Alpha Epsilon chapter of Sigma Alpha Sigma, national business woman's sorority, met at the home of Miss Adeline Kerschke in Mt. Prospect November 28.

This meeting opened the four month pledge period for Misses Evelyn Hoch, Marlene Holmes, Mildred Olson and Jane Page of Mt. Prospect, and Miss Betty Jean McCall of Arlington Hts.

The national Christmas project, the making and filling stockings for the wards of the juvenile court of Chicago, was announced. In addition to the national project, toys were collected and were sent to the Addison orphanage.

The Kentucky Derby trip, the winter week end in King's Gateway in February and the winter formal, also in February, were discussed. The chapter plans to participate in these national activities.

Games and refreshments followed the meeting. (B4

In a double ring ceremony November 23 Miss June Landwehr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Landwehr of Elgin, became the bride of David Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Miller of Dundee.

Rev. Benjamin Freese officiated at the ceremony held at Immanuel Evangelical church, Bartlett, at 7:30 p. m. Palms, seasonal flowers and candelabra decorated the altar. Miss Lois Boncasky, soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. B. F. Freese at the organ.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with an illusion neckline outlined with sequins and a peplum of lace extending into a cathedral train. Her net fingertip veil edged with lace was held in place by a headpiece trimmed with sequins. She carried a shower bouquet of white chysanthemums and pompons.

Mrs. Ruth Rosenwinkel, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an aqua gown of brocaded satin fashioned with a mandarin collar, and she carried a bouquet of bronze mums.

Mrs. Carol Bahr, Mrs. Marge Drendel and Mrs. Donna Richert were the bridesmaids. They wore matching fuchsia gowns of brocaded satin and carried bouquets of yellow pompons.

Miss Marlene Rosenwinkel of Bartlett and Miss Diane Drendel of Huntley, nieces of the bride, were the flower girls. They wore yellow taffeta gowns trimmed with lace and carried baskets of flower petals.

George Borhart of Huntley, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Raymond Eggert, Ervin Landwehr and Harvey Richert were the ushers.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue dress, and the groom's mother wore a gray dress. Both wore carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception for 500 guests was held at the Blue Moon in Elgin.

For her going away outfit the bride chose a wine suit with black accessories. Following a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will make their home with the groom's parents.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

A full meal baked in one dish, which is certain to appeal to many a busy housewife, is the recipe shared with us today by Mrs. G. A. McElroy of 254 N. Hale, Palatine.

This casserole, simple and quick to make, is called hamburger pie. It contains all of the ingredients for a complete dinner—browned ground beef, cooked green beans and tomato soup, and is topped by mashed potatoes.

The whole concoction is baked for only 30 minutes and then your meal is ready to serve.

Mrs. McElroy, who is the wife of the Palatine high school principal and mother of three children, enjoys cooking and collecting good recipes.

Another favorite of hers, an excellent dessert to top off a dinner of hamburger pie, is baked fudge.

This is a recipe for chewy brownies, which Mrs. McElroy says are absolutely foolproof to make and are a delicious taste treat as well.

Hamburger pie

1 medium-sized onion chopped
2 tablespoons fat
1 pound ground beef
½ lb. cooked green beans or 1 No. 2 can (2½ cups) drained
1 10½-ounce can condensed tomato soup
5 medium-sized potatoes, cooked
½ cup warm milk
1 beaten egg
½ to 1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper

Brown onion in hot fat; add meat and seasonings; brown. Add beans and soup and pour into a greased casserole.

Mash potatoes; add milk, egg and seasoning.

Spoon potatoes to form mounds or spread over meat mixture.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Serves 6.

Baked fudge

2 ounces chocolate
¼ cup milk
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
½ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup nut meats
1/3 cup butter

Cut the chocolate into pieces and put it and the milk in a small sauce pan. Stir and cook over a low flame until a smooth thick paste is formed.

Beat the eggs and then add the sugar. Stir until it is dissolved in the eggs.

Cool the chocolate paste, then add it to the egg and sugar mixture.

Measure the flour after sifting once. Add the salt and sift again into the above mixture. Then add the vanilla and chopped nut meats. Stir well.

Melt the butter and add to the other ingredients. Beat well and turn into a greased 9-inch square pan.

Bake at 350 degrees for 40-45 minutes. Cool and cut into squares. Yield: 16 squares.

'String Trio' to entertain music group

Three Arlington Heights women, who call themselves the "String Trio," will present a program of chamber music before the music study group of the Arlington Heights Woman's club December 12 at 1:15 p. m.

The group will meet in the home of Mrs. Frank C. Carr, 102 Pine ave., Jewel Park, Barrington. Mrs. S. A. Hollinger and Mrs. Frank Kroll will serve as co-hostesses.

The string trio consists of Mrs. Victor Beisler, violinist; Mrs. Lyle Ewing, pianist, and Mrs. John Flodin, cellist. Their program will feature the Mendelssohn Trio in D Minor, as well as a piano solo by Mrs. Ewing and a violin solo by Mrs. Beisler.

Mrs. Beisler studied at the Chicago College of Music.

Mrs. Ewing, who was born in Panama, started her music studies there under Mrs. William Needham, a graduate of the Oxford School of Music in London. At the present time she is a student of Valdis Treimanis of the Arlington School of Music.

Mrs. Flodin is a former member of the Barrington Music Club Orchestra and is currently studying with Mrs. Margaret Kree Evans of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

To sponsor Yule party and supper

A Christmas party and potluck supper will be sponsored by the Mr. and Mrs. club of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church December 14 at 6:45 p. m. at the church.

A film of Dickens' "Christmas Carol" will also be shown.

Each man is asked to bring a 25 cent gift item for a man for the grab bag and the women should do the same for the women.

The singing of Christmas carols will conclude the evening.

Tell betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Francis K. Wilton of 211 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, announce the engagement of their daughter, Gladys, to Wilbur Ridgeway Pownall, of 812 N. Kasper st., Arlington Heights, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Otis Howard Pownall of Marion, Ind.

Plans are being made for an April wedding.

Barbershop singers seek engagements for Yule caroling

Arlington Heights Chapter of SPEBSQSA has been rehearsing Christmas carols, in addition to strictly barber shop numbers, and are ready to accept invitations to sing for any civic or religious organization or groups in the village who would like to include them in their programs.

The Four Hoarsemen, the quartet consisting of Stan Myers, Fred Jasper, Dan Krebsback and Barney Erickson, have sung for the Parent Teacher association of Palatine, at the annual banquet of the Faith Lutheran church, father and sons banquet at the Evangelical and Reformed church at Palatine, the golden wedding anniversary banquet of Mr. and Mrs. Duro, in the Crystal ball room of the Blackston hotel, a program for the St. John Evangelical Lutheran, the paraplegic ward at Vaughn hospital and the Lions club ladies-night party.

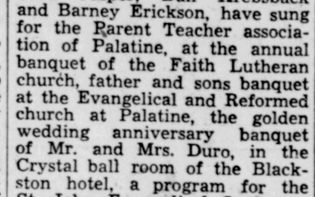
The entire chorus will travel to Chicago December 14 to attend and sing at the first area meeting of chapters in Area No. 11.

December 17, the members of the Arlington chapter will entertain their ladies at a party to be held in the Legion home.

The members of this group invite any and all men singers to join them in this civic project of harmony and good will. Rehearsals are held each Monday evening, usually in the field house from 8 to 10:30 p. m. Come and join in the singing or just listen.

Call Eber Cline, secretary, if your organization would like to have the chorus sing at your party or meeting.

Additional quartets are practicing and will be glad to sing upon any occasion or perhaps without occasion, if all members of the quartet are available on the particular date. Any organization who would like to have the quartet sing at its meeting should call Eber Cline, secretary of SPEBSQSA.



Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nebel of S. State rd., Arlington Heights, are parents of a daughter, Sandy Kay, born November 27 at Sherman hospital, Elgin, weighing 8 pounds 10 ounces. Sandy has a brother, Gary Lynn. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nebel of Arlington Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fell of Beloit, Wis., are the grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Vancil of Arlington Heights are parents of a son, Paul Robert, born October 15 at St. Francis hospital, Evanston, weighing 8 pounds 5 ounces. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Vancil of Kewanee, Ill., and Mrs. R. D. Whitmore of Nyack, N. Y.

Parents of a son, Craig Timothy, are Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Hesness of Arlington Heights. The baby was born November 12 at Sherman hospital, Elgin, weighing 7 pounds 2 ounces. He has two sisters, Ann and Janet. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Olson of Wautoma, Wis., and O. Hagen of Arlington Heights are the grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Goodrich of 713 S. Highland ave., Arlington Heights, are parents of a son, Charles Rex, born November 25 at Evanston hospital, weighing 6 pounds 11 ounces. The baby has a brother, Bruce, and a sister, Alice. The children are better known as "Butch" and "Sandy."

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schoepke of Chicago are parents of a son born December 11 at St. Anne's hospital, Chicago, weighing 8 pounds 11 ounces. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Einweck of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. William Schoepke Sr. of Arlington Hts. are the baby's grandparents. Lt. John Buckley of Chicago is the baby's maternal great-grandfather. Mr. Schoepke is an employee of Paddock Publications.

Rev. E. I. Stevens to speak before Junior Women

In keeping with the forthcoming holiday season, Rev. E. I. Stevens of the Mt. Prospect South church will give a presentation of the Christmas story at the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club meeting December 11.

This meeting will be held at the Arlington Heights field house at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

Another important part of the meeting will be the formation of final plans for the bake sale to be held at Shelkop's Radio and Television store December 15. The bake sale, a district project, is being held to secure funds for the Trail Rangers. This is a worthwhile institution which specializes in the rehabilitation of wayward boys.

The club wishes to extend an invitation to all members and guests to attend this meeting.

Mary Frances White and Robert Jacobs take vows

St. Mary's Catholic church, Buffalo Grove, was the scene November 22 of the wedding of Miss Mary Frances White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Latzke of 332 Central rd., Arlington Heights, and Robert W. Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jacobs of 1211 N. Belmont ave., Arlington Heights.

Father Ballweber officiated at the cermony held at 4:30 p. m. Giant white mums and snapdragons decorated the altar.

The bride wore a blush pink ballerina length gown fashioned with a fitted lace bodice and a full skirt of net over satin, a sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. Her blush fingertip length veil edged with lace was held in place by a lace cloche trimmed with seed pearls. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white camellias and baby mums tied with pink ribbon.

Miss Vlasta B. Tyser of Engstrom Studio Downers Grove was the maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of gray embroidered net over pink taffeta and carried a bouquet of baby split mums.

Miss Elvira Moehling of Palatine was the bridesmaid, and Miss Arline Andres of Arlington Heights was the junior bridesmaid. The attendants' gowns matched that of the maid of honor.

LeRoy Jacobs of Arlington Heights, brother of the groom, was best man. Theodore Shahoda of Arlington Heights was the usher.

A reception and dinner for 150 guests was held at St. Mary's auditorium, Buffalo Grove.

The couple honeymooned at Lake of the Ozarks and Osage Beach, Mo., and are now making their home at 332 Central rd., Arlington Heights.

AAUW to sponsor play to aid fellowship setup

Mrs. R. M. Dunlap, fellowship chairman of the Northwest Suburban branch of the American Association of University Women, joins more than 1000 fellowship chairmen in AAUW branches from coast to coast in a drive for funds to maintain the national fellowship and international study grants program during 1952-53. Nearly $7,000 of the $127,000 raised nationally last year was contributed by the 54 Illinois branches.

The Northwest Suburban branch of AAUW will contribute to the fellowship program by sponsoring the Des Plaines Theater guild's production, "Little Foxes," Friday and Saturday evenings, December 7 and 8, at the Rand Park guild room in Des Plaines.

In 1890 AAUW instituted a fellowship program to promote higher education for women. This program now includes international grants as well as fellowships for American students.

Twenty-seven fellowships, with stipends totalling $41,950, were awarded for the 1951-52 academic year. Half of these American AAUW fellows are using their award for study in the United States while the others are studying in foreign countries. Some of the students are completing work for their doctorate degree, and 12 already have their doctor's degree and are doing post-doctorate research.

SINCE V-E DAY, more than 200 students have come to the United States on the international study grant program inaugurated by AAUW as a contribution to postwar reconstruction. Five women from abroad who hold grants for 1951-52 are studying at universities in Illinois.

Because these grants are given on a competitive basis, without personal or political favor, officials of the United States government have placed a high value on these awards, stating that they not only serve as an expression of friendship, but also help in a concrete way to build understanding between nations. The students, who interpret their native land to Americans while here, return to their own countries with a clearer perception of the Ameican way of life.

St. Matthew's church to hold holiday party

The Ladies Aid of St. Matthew's Lutheran church on Milwaukee ave., north of Ballard rd., will sponsor a Christmas party and pot-luck supper December 7 at 5 p. m. Everyone is welcome.

Donations will be $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

Reed, Esther; Ruth Louden, Martha; Etta Reschke, Electa; Marie Bolte, Warder, and Jessie Hastings, sentinel.

The installing officers were: Rita T. Johnson, associate grand matron of OES of Illinois, installing grand officer; Florence Luckner, chaplain; Lillian Wolf, marshal; Ellen Schoppe, organist, and Rose Krivanek, soloist.

Herbert Olson was color bearer, and the Ode to the Flag was given by Ross C. Newberg. Myrtle L. Frey, grand lecturer, was the mistress of ceremonies, and Maybelle C. Jasper was in charge of special courtesies.

The installation was well attended by members, friends and visitors from neighboring chapters. During the course of the evening, Marshall Crane, nephew of Harold Hastings, newly installed worthy patron, gave several selections on the accordion.

Myrtle L. Frey was introduced as instructress of the chapter, and Gladys Leicht, as the correspondent for the ensuing year.

At the close of the installation ceremonies, the officers had a retiring march and were then greeted by friends in the dining room, where refreshments were served by Mary Peters, chairman, and her committee.

Kappa alumnae to meet, complete Christmas project

Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae in the northwest suburban area will meet December 11 at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Fred W. Reitze, 12 W. Willow rd., Prospect Heights.

The group will complete work on Christmas gifts for the children in the Women's and Children's hospital, Chicago.

A regular project of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Chicago Intercollegiate Alumnae Association is the support of a psychiatric department for children in this hospital.

Mrs. W. W. Askew, Cumberland, is chairman of the Christmas project, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Robert Cushman, also of Cumberland.

All alumnae of this sorority in the northwest area are welcome at the meetings held the second Tuesday of each month.

Roberta Dye becomes bride of Donald Newhouse

Miss Roberta Dye of Des Plaines, former resident of Arlington Heights, became the bride of M/Sgt. Donald E. Newhouse of Chicago, son of Mrs. Rosemond Williams of Williams Park, Ill., November 22. The ceremony was held at O'Hare field chapel at 5 p. m.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis DeLaney of Oakridge, Tenn., wore a white gown and a fingertip length veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Florence Bergschneider of Des Plaines was the maid of honor. She wore a pink gown and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

S/Sgt. Ray Quaze of O'Hare field was the best man.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the non-commissioned officers' club at O'Hare field. The couple are now making their home in Des Plaines.

Owners of Hilltop Studios have new line of samples

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Mook, owners of Hilltop Studios, 1718 E. Northwest hwy., have just returned from a buying trip in New York City.

The Mooks left for New York City two days after they discovered their studio had been burglarized. The trip east had been planned and reservations made, so the burglary, while unfortunate, did not alter their plans.

They visited many fabric and furniture showrooms and returned with many advanced ideas on the latest trends from the world's decorating center.

The Mooks met their son, Robert, former Northwestern university student and graduate of Arlington high school, for Thanksgiving. He is serving in the United States coast guard and had just returned from a weather patrol trip between Labrador and Greenland.

While in New York the Mooks purchased a complete new line of samples to replace those stolen. Business is going on as usual.

Teachers to discuss NATO countries before AAUW group

Two Maine township high school faculty members will discuss economic and political situations in the North Atlantic Treaty countries before members of the international relations group of American Association of University Women, December 12 at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. R. Schwenke, 954 Prairie, Des Plaines.

Miss Mary Jane Little, social science instructor, and Miss Mary Kesgen of the home economics faculty, travelled for three months last summer through Europe. Their special interest was the NATO countries and participation in the mutual defense pact.

The teachers will illustrate their talk with colored slides made from photographs of their trip.

This will be an open meeting and all women in the northwest suburban communities are invited. Membership in the group is open to both members and non-members of AAUW.

Co-hostess for the December 12 meeting will be Mrs. R. E. Miller. Chairman of the group is Mrs. Roy Mount.

Mixed Choral Society to sing at Prospect Heights grade school

The Prospect Heights Mixed Choral Society will present a Christmas recital in conjunction with the children of the Prospect Heights school December 18 at 3 p. m. at the school.

Mrs. Phyllis Snetsinger is the director of the group.

Those who would like to join the group can do so by contacting Mrs. Robert Randolph, Prospect Heights, or Mrs. Roger Kellogg, Arlington Heights.

Members are now working on this recital.

Pi Beta Phi alumnae celebrate Yule season

The Pi Beta Phi Alumni club of the northwest suburban area Christmas party was held Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. R. E. Whiteley, 102 Eastwood, Mt. Prospect. Mrs. E. D. Elliott, Mrs. Roscoe Batts and Mrs. Ralph Mabbs were co-hostesses.

As each guest arrived she was given a hat depicting the name of a song. Members' husbands were guests for the evening of games followed by refreshments.

Members brought gifts for the children of the Pi Beta Phi Settlement school at Gatlinburg, Tenn.

Director of social service to address WSCS Tuesday

In keeping with the spirit of Christmas, program chairman, Mrs. H. P. Gregg, announces that Mrs. Katherine Williams, social service director of Wesley Memorial hospital, will discuss phases of her work before the Woman's Society of Christian Service Tuesday at 1 p. m. at the Arlington Heights Methodist church.

Identified with Wesley hospital in Chicago for many years, Mrs. Williams will tell of Wesley's free-bed care given to more than 1,200 patients this year; during that year the hospital also provided more than 17,000 patient days of free care.

MRS. WILLIAMS will be accompanied to this meeting by John Kinsey, public relations chairman of Wesley hospital.

As a preface to the afternoon's program, a 1 p. m. covered-dish luncheon is being planned by Mrs. R. H. Barbour's circle of which Mrs. Ralph Claubaugh is co-chairman.

Mrs. Maynard W. Whitelaw, president of the local Woman's Society, will conduct the business of the organization.

Mrs. R. Robert Ismay, spiritual life leader, will present a devotional talk.

Special Christmas music will be presented by music students of the Arlington Heights township high school.

Sorority alumnae to hold Yule party

The Northwest Suburban Alumnae Association of Kappa Delta will hold its Christmas party December 10 at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Donald Thompson, 316 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. C. F. Close and Mrs. W. E. Trude will be co-hostesses. All alumnae in the area are invited to this annual card party.

Those planning to attend are asked to call Arlington Heights 2235-J by December 8.

June Landwehr becomes bride of David Miller

In a double ring ceremony November 23 Miss June Landwehr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Landwehr of Elgin, became the bride of David Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Miller of Dundee.

Rev. Benjamin Freese officiated at the ceremony held at Immanuel Evangelical church, Bartlett, at 7:30 p. m. Palms, seasonal flowers and candelabra decorated the altar. Miss Lois Boncasky, soloist, was accompanied by Mrs. B. F. Freese at the organ.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with an illusion neckline outlined with sequins and a peplum of lace extending into a cathedral train. Her net fingertip veil edged with lace was held in place by a headpiece trimmed with sequins. She carried a shower bouquet of white chysanthemums and pompons.

Mrs. Ruth Rosenwinkel, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an aqua gown of brocaded satin fashioned with a mandarin collar, and she carried a bouquet of bronze mums.

Mrs. Carol Bahr, Mrs. Marge Drendel and Mrs. Donna Richert were the bridesmaids. They wore matching fuchsia gowns of brocaded satin and carried bouquets of yellow pompons.

Miss Marlene Rosenwinkel of Bartlett and Miss Diane Drendel of Huntley, nieces of the bride, were the flower girls. They wore yellow taffeta gowns trimmed with lace and carried baskets of flower petals.

George Borhart of Huntley, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man. Raymond Eggert, Ervin Landwehr and Harvey Richert were the ushers.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue dress, and the groom's mother wore a gray dress. Both wore carnation corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception for 500 guests was held at the Blue Moon in Elgin.

For her going away outfit the bride chose a wine suit with black accessories. Following a wedding trip to Florida, the couple will make their home with the groom's parents.

Community Concert members hear famous duo-pianists

The Community Concert association brought to this area a program of two-piano music last Thursday evening at the Arlington Heights township high school when Ethel Bartlett and Rae Robertson appeared before a large audience.

These internationally famous duo-pianists upheld their reputation as leaders in their field when they played their duo-piano recital with almost psychic accord.

Their repertoire ranged from original music for two keyboards through the best transcribed works to new scores by leading composers written especially for them.

THE AUDIENCE expressed pleasure when the artists played as encores such favorites as Liszt's "Liebestraum," Gluck's "Eighteenth Century Gavotte," and Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring."

Mozart's "Sonata in D Major" and Brahms' waltzes and Hungarian dances represented original two-piano works which were exquisitely played. Their final number, "Fantasy on Themes" from Strauss' "Die Fledermaus," was a brilliantly played selection which blended those wonderful waltz-rhythms.

The third concert of the series to be offered to Community Concert association members this season will be played in February by Ossy Renardy, violinist. Mr. Renardy is making an extensive tour of the main European capitals this year and next January. He is resuming his American tour in February.

Baptisms

Vess Duro

Vess Duro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Duro of 510 Banbury rd., Arlington Heights, was baptized Sunday at St. James Catholic church at 3 p. m. Rev. Richard Rosemeyer officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Seminatore of Arlington Heights were the baby's sponsors.

Following the ceremony the Duros held open house. Guests from Arlington Heights included the Junior and Senior Jerry Duros, Mr. and Mrs. John Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Dahlgren, Mr. and Mrs. A. Balducci and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dillon.

Rick Allen Hahn

Rick Alen Hahn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hahn of Des Plaines, was baptized November 18 at St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, at 3 p. m. Rev. Luther V. Stephan officiated.

The baby's sponsors were Miss Jean Heidorn, his aunt; Mrs. E. Heidorn, the baby's grandmother, and G. P. Hahn, his grandfather.

A family dinner was held at the Heidorn home following the ceremony.

Virginia Lee Palmer

Virginia Lee Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer, S. Meacham rd., Palatine, was baptized Sunday during the regular worship service at the Palatine First Methodist church. Pastor William Harry Fetz officiated.

Power From Coal

Electric power plants used 92 million tons of coal in 1950.

Nurses' club meets, elects new officers

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Arlington Heights Nurses' club was held November 16 at the home of Mrs. S. P. Dykstra, 510 Beverley lane.

Competently guided through a year of varied activities with Mrs. Peery Duderstadt as president, plans for additional services to the community have been made. These include filling two shelves in the new library with books, factual and fictional, interesting and appealing to the laity, relating to medical and health subjects.

These books, selected by a committee of the club under the chairmanship of Miss Lillian MacLeish, will be further screened by the librarian before they will be made available to the public.

ANOTHER important contribution on the part of the president, as a representative of the club, was the plea to the village trustees for larger accommodations for the lending closet equipment. Community interest in this project was emphasized when petitions bearing more than 1,200 signatures were produced asking that the board give serious consideration to the need for additional space when the library is moved from its present quarters to the new building. Mrs. Albert Peters, program chairman, arranged programs which were educational, entertaining and stimulating. The educational programs comprised a report on the use of and progress of research of ACTHAR and cortisone given by Dr. John H. Glynn, technical director of the Armour laboratories, and a film especially prepared for nurses on cancer diagnosis. The film was shown to the club members by Miss Audrey Campbell, director of public education of the Illinois Division of the American Cancer Society.

THE ENTHUSIASM with which the film was received prompted the Nurses' club to co-sponsor the showing of the film, "Breast Self-Examination," to women of the community. Three public and three private showings permitted more than 900 women to see the film. According to statistics of the American Cancer Society four per cent of women viewing this film have been saved from cancer fatality.

Mrs. Harold Weiss, chairman of the ways and means committee, was congratulated on the returns shown by members of her committee.

Mrs. Frank Sachs, lending closet chairman, reported that 115 articles were loaned out during 1951. To fill requests the club has purchased two wheel chairs, a commode, an automatic electric vaporizer and various smaller articles.

Several donations have also been made. Harry Knaack donated a booth at the Chamber of Commerce Home Show in May to display the lending closet equipment.

Mrs. Richard Bradford, membership chairman, reported that 13 new members have been added to the club's list.

NEW OFFICERS elected were: Mrs. Richard Chambers, president; Mrs. Vincent Hofeling, vice-president; Mrs. Geo. Reinhardt, secretary, and Mrs. F. R. Schwanke, re-elected treasurer.

Mrs. Chambers called a board meeting November 26, and new standing committee chairmen were selected and appointments confirmed.

They are as follows: Mrs. Fred Weber, program; Mrs. R. Bradford, membership; Mrs. C. Bloecker, ways and means; Mrs. R. Duderstadt, roll call; Mrs. Paul Carroll, education; Mrs. Ed Corcoran, publicity; Mrs. E. Plank, hospitality; Miss Fae Kent, constitution and by-laws; Mrs. Murphy, courtesy; Mrs. William Newmann and Mrs. R. Ford, auditing; Mrs. Vincent Hofeling, parliamentarian; Mrs. C. Stacey, public welfare; Mrs. A. C. Peters, year book; Mrs. L. MacLeish, historian, and Mrs. C. Frederickson, lending closet.

The Nurses' club annual Christmas party will be held December 20 at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. F. R. Schanwke, 415 E. Rockwell. Following the short business meeting, there will be a surprise treat, exchange of gifts and revealing of secret pals.

The Christmas boxes to be filled for Oak Forest Infirmary should be left with Mrs. Peters or Mrs. Weber before December 12. They will be sent to Mrs. Jane Hodges, chairman of the Oak Forest Christmas box project of the South church, Mt. Prospect.

Business sorority plans holiday project and social activities

Alpha Epsilon chapter of Sigma Alpha Sigma, national business woman's sorority, met at the home of Miss Adeline Kerschke in Mt. Prospect November 28.

This meeting opened the four month pledge period for Misses Evelyn Hoch, Marlene Holmes, Mildred Olson and Jane Page of Mt. Prospect, and Miss Betty Jean McCall of Arlington Hts.

The national Christmas project, the making and filling stockings for the wards of the juvenile court of Chicago, was announced. In addition to the national project, toys were collected and were sent to the Addison orphanage.

The Kentucky Derby trip, the winter week end in King's Gateway in February and the winter formal, also in February, were discussed. The chapter plans to participate in these national activities.

Games and refreshments followed the meeting.

At Orchestra Hall

Two American artists, Todd Duncan and Jorge Bolet, will share the solo spotlight in debuts at the Chicago Symphony Orchestra's mid-week concert pair Thursday evening and Friday afternoon (December 6 and 7) at Orchestra Hall this week, under the baton of Rafael Kubelik.

Duncan, the baritone who has made a concert reputation equal to his fame as the creator of the role of Porgy, will be heard in four Richard Strauss songs: "Allerseelen," "Heimliche Aufforderung," "Ich trage meine Minne," and "Zueignung." The last two are first performances at these concerts.

Bolet, Havana-born pianist whose training was in the United States and his success gained in music capitals throughout the world, will perform Gershwin's Concerto in F.

Additional junior high

Plans for a second junior high school building were announced by Walter Zenner, president of the Des Plaines grade school board, following approval by the board of the east 20 acres of the Carl Lagerhausen estate on the south side of Algonquin rd. near Second ave. as the site.

The site is part of a 40 acre tract recently purchased by Herzog construction co. of Des Plaines on which the firm plans to erect 170 houses. However, plan commission and city council have pigeon-holed Herzog's subdivision plat "until details of a transfer of a portion of the tract . . . to the school board can be effected."

Lutherans plan expansion in '52

"Sunday, March 23, 1952, will be the biggest day in the 300-year history of American Lutheranism," states Dr John C. Baur, director of the $10,000,000 extra-budgetary offering of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod to be gathered on that day.

Selected numbers of 5000 Lutheran congregations in the 48 states and Canada will make a house-to-house canvass of their 1,800,000 fellow members March 23, 1952, to receive their gifts for the expansion of the mission and education program of the church.

More than six and a half million of the proposed ten-million dollar fund will be used by the Lutherans to establish a new senior college and to expand their ministerial education system which now includes fourteen colleges and seminaries. Location of the new college will be decided upon at the close of this year.

Three and a half million of the proposed offering is allocated for the expansion of mission work currently being carried on throughout the world.

Membership in the church has increased by almost 150,000 during the post-World-War-II years to a total of 1,810,000 baptized members.

One of the questions that is often asked is how to make the most effective use of a minimum of lighting equipment. One of the best ways, of course, is to concentrate on color in both lighting effect and decoration.

Here's an unusual holiday doorway arrangement that requires only a couple of strands of outdoor lights, a 150-watt projector spotlight, a couple of "homemade" snowmen and cutout lettering for the door.

As shown in the sketch at the left, station a pair of snowmen (made from covered wire frames) at each side of the doorway to greet guests. Fashion your own individual holiday message from glittering cutout letters and attach it to the doorway.

If the doorway is slightly recessed, outline the front edge of the porch roof with festoons using S-11 or C-9½ bulbs.

To create your color effect, use red and white bulbs in the festooning and a blue color lens on a 150-watt projector spotlight to highlight the doorway.

Santa's boots on the doorstep provide the theme for the clever holiday decorating arrangement sketched at the right.

Naturally, to be most effective, Santa's boots should be "oversize" so make them over simple wire frames covered with shiny red oilcloth. Use cotton-batten for white "fur" around the top.

Fill boots with crumpled newspaper and top off with some discarded or inexpensive toys as sketched at the right.

Complete the decoration by tacking a panel of dark green oilcloth with painted or cutout letters to form word "greetings" on the outside of the door. Focus attention on the decoration by spotlighting it with a projector spotlight 150 watts in an outdoor-type holder placed on the lawn below the door.

If you're fortunate enough to find aluminum foil fringe by the yard in your favorite store, here's an idea for a striking holiday doorway arrangement.

As sketched at the left, outline the top and sides of the door frame with fringe. Choose fringe at least six inches wide and stitched down the center for best results. The wind will not only flutter the double-edged fringe but there'll be a faint tinkling sound to your decoration.

For a dramatic yet dignified effect, General Electric holiday lighting specialists suggest floodlighting the doorway with blue light. Simply conceal a 150-watt projector floodlight with a blue color cap behind shrubbery near the entrance and aim it on the doorway.

Large picture windows offer an ideal setting for a holiday decoration. If you'd like something different from the usual Christmas tree in the front window, here's an idea for a lighted wreath that may be mounted on the outside as part of your outdoor decorating and at the same time add color indoors, too.

Fashion a large circular frame from the baling wire, which you can find at most hardware stores. Let the size of your window govern the size of the frame as shown in the sketch at the right. Then mount a string of outdoor Christmas tree lights in the front side of the wire frame, using C-7½ type outdoor bulbs in varied color. Twine another string of lights on the inside spacing them for the most attractive effect from indoors.

Fill the frame with fresh holiday greens or holly sprigs depending upon which is most plentiful in your area.

Finish off with a large plastic bell. General Electric holiday lighting specialists have found that these bells may be lighted effectively by drilling a hole in the top of the bell and inserting a socket on an extension cord. Use a 25-watt red bulb for a clapper. Finally, attach the wreath to the outside of the window frame.

Changes in automobile laws in license booklet

Important changes in Illinois traffic laws are emphasized in a safety pamphlet which will accompany 1952 passenger automobile license plates, secretary of state Edward J. Barrett said. The pamphlet summarizes changes made by the last two sessions of the general assembly. Mailing of the plates and pamphlets is scheduled to begin December 1.

Any blind person carrying a white cane in a raised or extended position, or being guided by a dog, shall have the right of way in crossing any street or highway whether or not traffic is controlled by traffic signals. The driver of a vehicle must come to a full stop and take such precautions as may be necessary to avoid injury to the blind person.

The pamphlet also points out that "at any intersection where traffic control signals are not in place, or in operation, the driver of a vehicle shall yield the right of way to any pedestrian within a marked or unmarked crosswalk."

Other changes listed, Secretary Barrett said, have to do with left-turns at intersections, revocation of driver licenses, speed limits, use of blue flashing lights, and damages in death cases. A change in connection with making accident reports provides that damage must be in excess of $100, instead of $50, before a report is required.

Lighted Star Over Door Easy To Make

There's no better way to express your holiday spirit than with a lighted star over your front doorway.

There are many ready-made commercial stars in the stores but for those who enjoy making their own here are a few tips from General Electric lighting specialists.

The lighted star shown in the picture above is made of composition board and crinkled foil, as shown in the sketch at the right. Notice how the star is made on two planes to give it depth. Lighting specialists recommend painting all surfaces of the star white to reflect greatest amount of light from the 25-watt bulb.

A graceful loop of greens lighting with outdoor Christmas bulbs over the doorway and two large candles complete the arrangement.

In the future

For the homeowner or the small-town street department, a new snow cleaner is hand operated, clears a ton of snow per minute and throws the snow 65 feet in any direction you wish . . . The strictly amateur photographer will like a new camera that is supplied already loaded with film—in a mailing unit that can be returned to the manufacturer for developing and printing . . . For overweight persons, an appetite-killer that combines amphetamine with a package of vitamins is intended to offset any deficiencies that may arise out of reduced diet . . . An insecticide that can be mixed with paint to bring certain death to insects for the life of the paint.

About Your Health

Deaths from appendicitis have decreased steadily in recent years, but the disease is still common, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society observes in a Health Talk.

The appendix is a small, apparently useless organ. Jutting out from the beginning of the large intestine, it varies in length, ranging from two to three inches long, though rare specimens up to nine inches have been found. Normally located in the lower right forward part of the abdomen, it is sometimes displaced from its normal position and may be found nearer the back. When that occurs, the appendicitis patient complains of a back pain instead of the usual distress in the abdomen.

WHEN THE ORGAN becomes inflamed, caused by the blocking of the appendix by foreign matter or by infection, there is pain, with nausea or vomiting. The pain may be dull or sharp, the abdomen is sensitive to touch, particularly over the appendiceal area, and the temperature rises. A white blood count shows a great increase in white blood cells, a condition which indicates infection.

Ignorance is responsible for many deaths from appendicitis. Because the pain and distress associated with the disease closely resemble the symptoms brought on by constipation, patients sometimes resort to laxatives. Laxatives increase peristalsis, the movement by which the contents of the intestine are moved along. This increased pressure may extend the swelling and cause rupture of the appendix, spreading the infection to the peritoneum, the lining of the abdominal cavity.

THIS CONDITION, called peritonitis, is always dangerous, even though drugs such as the sulfonamides, penicillin and streptomycin have materially reduced the probability of death. If peritonitis occurs, however, the road to recovery is long, because of the rapidity with which the infection spreads throughout the system.

Because modern surgery has yielded improved technics, the operation to remove the appendix is now done with greater safety than formerly. Indeed, if it is performed early when the symptoms are mild and before complications set in, the patient is frequently walking about the second or third day and back at home within a week.

Prevention of disease is the important factor in its control. While there is no way to prevent appendicitis, serious complications can be averted if the physician is called immediately on the appearance of mild symptoms of gastrointestinal discomfort, soreness of the abdomen or pain, whether it be sharp or dull. It is not wise to ignore recurrent attacks, because the irritation produced by each leaves the appendix more susceptible to the final "blow up," which may result in death.

SOME PERSONS may live through life without an attack of appendicitis. Others may develop the condition in childhood.

The first thing to do is call your physician when severe pain appears in the lower right quadrant of the abdomen. Let him decide what the trouble is and what to do about it. Do not take laxatives, cathartics or "physics." Do not apply ice packs or heat to the painful area. Do not rub or massage the abdomen. Do not swallow anything except water until you have consulted a physician.

If your physician decides that an operation is essential, trust him. Ignoring his advice may cost you your life. Once the appendix bursts, the damage caused by spreading infection is more difficult to repair.

City manager changes

City manager DeSoto McCabe Jr., who released the news of his resignation Nov. 14, has been persuaded to stay on as city manager of Park Ridge.

McCabe was given a vote of confidence by the city council and asked to remain as city manager at an increase in salary to $10,500 a year.

The city's first manager had earlier accepted the position of Administrative head of the conversion and rehabilitation of the aircraft plant facilities at O'Hare field.

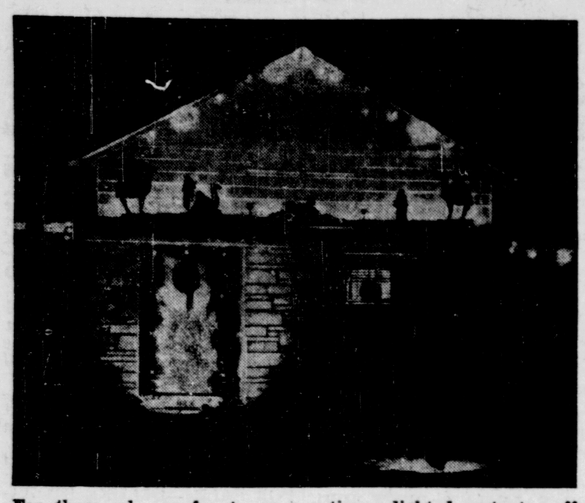
Tips for Christmas lighting

LIGHTED CUTOUTS PORTRAY TRUE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT



For those who prefer to express the deeper significance of Christmas in their holiday decorations, lighted cutouts offer many possibilities.

A string of colored lights were arranged behind the figures to give them depth and to light the background.

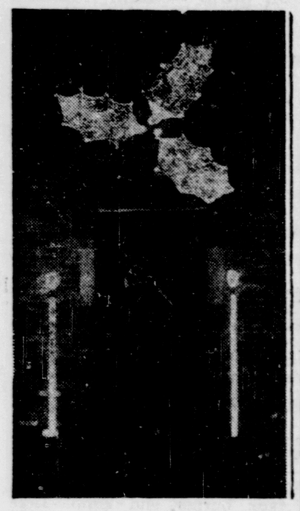
General Electric lighting specialists recommend placing cutouts against light colored backgrounds as was done in this arrangement, for best results.

You may have to study the picture closely to see how stars were painted on a triangle of construction board at the top of the gable. Before the paint was dry, star designs were sprinkled with flitters to make them sparkle.

To complete this simple but effective design, strings of outdoor colored bulbs were strung along the lower eaves of the house, atop the gable and entwined in greens on the front door.

A floodlight, 150-watt outdoor projector type in an outdoor holder, placed on the lawn in front of the house, was used to highlight the whole arrangement.

Decorate Your Doorway



If you enjoy making your own outdoor holiday decorations, you may want to try the giant holly leaves shown in the photograph above.

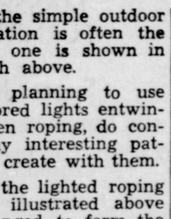
The leaves were first fashioned from chicken fence fire to form a holly leaf. Next, outdoor electrical wiring was woven around the edges of each frame and pin-type sockets attached to the wires at the tip of each leaf. For a realistic effect, green bulbs (C-7½) were used on the leaves. Next, crinkled foil was shaped over the leaf frame. Three 25-watt red enameled bulbs were clustered in the center of the arrangement to give the effect of berries.

In the picture above, a pair of 40-watt red fluorescent lamps was used as candles on each side of the doorway. General Electric lighting specialists suggest that other types of candles which present fewer wiring difficulties would be equally effective. In fact, candles can be fashioned from iron pipe, anchored in a crock or jug-type holder and wired with a 25-watt bulb at the top for a flame.

Apartment Dwellers Can Decorate For Christmas, Too

Apartment dwellers needn't miss the fun of extending holiday greetings to the world simply because they can't go all-out for exterior decorating.

Try painting a yuletide design on a couple of inexpensive window shades, as shown in the sketch and light them from behind. General Electric lighting specialists suggest that a 150 - watt PAR flood lamp in an approved adjustable holder be placed on a table or the floor and aimed at the window to make the blind luminous on the outside. Be sure to choose light colored shades so that the light can penetrate.



If you enjoy decorating the outside of your house for the holidays, you'll be glad to find so many new lighted devices available this year.

Of course, you'll find plenty of weatherproof outdoor lighting sets to help you carry out your Christmas lighting plans.

Among lighted devices you'll want to consider are sprays of lighted bells for the doorway, lighted wreaths for windows, any number of designs in lighted stars, lighted crosses, and candles. All of these units are safely wired and need only be plugged into an electrical outlet to operate.

Several types of convenient holders for weatherproof spot and flood lights are also available.

Children will love to see life - like Santa cutouts spotlighted. Illuminated Santa faces offer many possibilities in your decorating plan.

Whether you use commercially available lighted devices or design your own, General Electric holiday lighting specialists recommend that you start planning decorations early so you can take advantage of any good weather to set up your display.

PICTURE WINDOWS IDEAL FOR HOLIDAY DECORATIONS

Picture windows are all the name implies when they're artistically decorated for the holidays.

Don't let the fact that you're not artistically inclined keep you from trying your hand at a holiday picture window.

As you can see in the photograph above, paper cutouts and a lighted live Christmas tree were the basis for the attractive holiday window design.

Bright gold foil paper cutouts of prancing reindeer flank each side of the window. To emphasize the shape of the live Christmas tree, notice how it is outlined with bands of gold paper. Sparkling snowflake designs hung by long threads complete the design.

Don't miss the clever doorway decoration which ties in with the window motif. A large panel of gold foil paper, decorated with snowflakes and a season's greetings message has been tacked to the door. General Electric lighting specialists point out how a tiny tree with colored lights completes the overall design.

Notice, too, how the whole "picture" design is highlighted by outdoor-type projector floodlights, aimed on both the door and window.

For added color, a string of outdoor Christmas tree lights were entwined in green boughs underneath the picture window.

New tricks for outdoor tree lighting

If you belong to the school of Christmas tree trimmers who put lights on hit and miss fashion, here's an idea that will make your outdoor lighted trees outstanding this year.

Try lighting short stock trees which have a heavy base growth by arranging strings of lights in straight vertical lines, as shown in tree A in the sketch above. For a really spectacular effect, use bulbs of one color. General Electric holiday lighting specialists suggest the use of all yellow bulbs to give the tree a golden effect.

Another unusual treatment for taller trees, drape strings of outdoor Christmas tree lights diagonally as shown in sketch B above to emphasize the symetry of the tree.

Tall trees, too, will take on added glamor if bulbs of one color are used.

If you are planning to use strings of colored lights entwined in evergreen roping, do consider the many interesting patterns you can create with them.

Notice how the lighted roping on the house illustrated above has been arranged to form the outline of a Christmas tree on each of the front windows. Lighted roping around the entrance and on the tiny gable gives a feling of unity to the arrangement. To focus attention on the silhouette figures above the door, notice how a 150-watt projector floodlight in an outdoor holder is placed at the bottom of the steps.

General Electric holiday lighting specialists suggest that floodlights be concealed behind shrubbery or mounds of snow to make the source of light inconspicuous.

Perry and Soybeans

In 1853, when Commodore Matthew Perry sailed from China with the American fleet, he had a vegetable in his sea chest which was to prove of extraordinary character some sixty years later. This vegetable—the soybean—had long been treasured in the Orient as a food. Today it is used in the manufacture of shortenings, bake goods, confectionery, cereal, beverages, paper, animal foods, cosmetics and innumerable other products. The oil from this bean is also used extensively by paint manufacturers in the production of fine paints and varnishes.

High school addition to go before Ela-Vernon voters Sat., Dec. 15

Since the formation of the Ela-Vernon high school district, with its high school plant in Lake Zurich, the enrollment has jumped to over 300. The present school was erected for 100 students over 20 years ago.

A year ago the voters turned down a building program. Today the crowded condition is very much greater and something must be done unless the district is prepared to transfer some of their pupils to neighboring high schools which would require payment of thousands of dollars in tuition fees.

The new program calls for bonds totaling $961,000. The election will be held Saturday, Dec. 15. Voters of the township of Vernon will vote in the Vernon town hall. Ela voters will go to the high school building.

The enrollment had gradually increased to 175 in 1948, but jumped 50 pupils in 1950 and will be 75 more next September. Indications are that the enrollment will reach 375 by 1954 and 450 by 1958.

THE OPERATION of a modern high school is being handicapped by the lack of sufficient class rooms and laboratories. Shop facilities are practically non-existent. There is no farm, shop, music room, or cafeteria.

The physical education requirement is taxing the small gmnasium today. Physical training for all students is a must under state law if the school is to participate in state funds.

The high school district has an assessed valuation of 25 million. It is estimated that the bond issue will cost about $15 a year for the average householder who has a $5,000 assessed valuation.

The school board thinks that the taxpayers and parents are aware of the inadequacies of the present school building and are making every effort to acquaint them with their plans to relieve the situation.

● GARDENERS CHRISTMAS

Most folks who like vegetable and flower gardens also like to see something growing and blooming inside during the long winter season. Something green and bright seems to shorten the winter and bring back the outdoor days to the garden fan. And along about Christmas time a cheerful, daily decorated Christmas tree adds a lot to the cheerfulness of the season and brings a touch of the great outdoors into the home.

This year R. C. Knupper and Mrs. Knupper who run the Knupper Nursery and Garden shop out on Rand road, the folks who during the spring and summer sell you all sorts of trees, shrubs, seeds, vegetable and flower plants, tools, fertilizer, insecticides, etc., are making a special effort to take care of their gardener customers and friends during the Christmas season.

If R. C. is not too busy when you call maybe he will light up those candles that start the heralds and angles spinning around and set off the angel chimes.

● IT CAME

Some folks begin to talk about Indian summer as soon as we have a few nice fall days any time after Labor day, but according to the old legends the real Indian summer comes in November, after we have had a touch of early blustery winter weather which the legends call "squaw winter."

This season that squaw winter was extra severe and lasted longer than usual, but it finally broke up and Indian summer arrived. Now we have had our squaw winter and our Indian summer and are ready for that "open" winter that the squirrels, the corn husks, etc., have been forecasting for us—that is, we will be ready for it when winter really officially arrives. We still have a couple of weeks of fall left.

● ON THE WAY

"One down and two to go," remarked a fellow at the coffee club the day after Thanksgiving. "One holiday is out of the way; now when we get Christmas and New Year's over with we'll be on the way toward spring."

And lots of people feel the same way about it. After New Year's at least we can look toward the downgrade to spring. With an exceptionally cold and snowy November out of the way, and with the shortest days of the year fast approaching, it won't be so long until the days begin to get a little longer and the hope of another coming spring stirs in folks who look forward to life in the great outdoors.

● HUNTERS

Anyone who happened to be in Palatine police court Friday night would have wondered what on earth was going on when officers Jost and Betts came parading into the court room loaded down with eight shot guns. When the court cases were called, however, it all was made plain. There were eight hunters charged with hunting within the village limits.

Three young fellows who were taken near Oak street had come

Arthritis

The Illinois chapter of the arthritis and rheumatism foundation has launched its program of direct patient care to indigent arthritics. This medical rehabilitation plan, hailed as a great step forward in medical history, will be financed by funds raised in the arthritis foundation's current campaign for $350,000 in Illinois and $3,500,000 nationally.

Victims of arthritis, the oldest and most prevalent disease known to man, were among the medically "forgotten" before the establishment of the arthritis and rheumatism foundation less than four years ago. Since that time, thousands have been released from a life of tortured, crippled confinement through the miracle drugs. Although continuing research to find a cure for arthritis will still remain a prime project of the foundation, the plan to release arthritic breadwinners from dependency and relief rolls will help those believed helpless against arthritis because of lack of funds.

Print it

I say news about robberies, accidents and sex offenders should be printed. This will be a service to your readers because we can be on guard for such happenings.

I have small children and if there are any sex morons in my community I would like to know it. How else can a new resident know these things if not by reading it in the local newspaper?

You can't say you serve the public when you print social events and other small talk just to fill the pages.

Thank you

The Evening Guild of St. John's Episcopal Church, Mt. Prospect, wishes to thank you very much for your cooperation and very generous donation of space for all the publicity we received for our recent dance held on November 23 at the Elmhurst country club. I am sure it was a great factor in the ultimate success of the affair.

Thank you

The Chamber of Commerce sincerely appreciates the cooperation received from the organizations, churches, schools and the many citizens who assisted and contributed so generously to the "Clothing for Korea" drive. Approximately one ton of clothing was received—thanks again.

Our parks

The November 21st issue of your paper carried a rather lengthy article having reference to the disposition by the C&NW Railway Co. of the park areas adjacent to the C&NW Railway tracks extending on both sides of the railway from the parks immediately west of Vail street to the parks extending to State road on the east.

This is a subject of particular concern to the citizens of this community.

These parks have been leased by the Arlington Heights Park District from the C&NW railway since June 1925 and considerable sums of money have been expended for their maintenance, and also for the landscaping which has recently been installed.

Having served the people of this community for a period of approximately 18 years on the Arlington Heights Park Board, naturally, this matter has a certain interest to one who has the improvement of our village at heart, and also the development which has taken place in this village since the inception of the Park District.

PARKS ON THE north side of the C&NW railway represent the front yard of this village to people passing through the village both by rail and by motor, and partly because of this, several new families have purchased homes in Arlington Heights and have become citizens by virtue of that fact as well as "boosters" for the entire community.

It is not expected that everyone will agree with the remarks in this article; however, in the interest of the future development of our present park system, the improvement of our community and the attraction of additional citizens and proper business interests to our village, the following suggestions are offered for consideration by the citizens of Arlington Heights and their elected officers now serving as members of the Arlington Heights Park Board and Village Board:

1. That the Arlington Heights Park Board take the necessary steps toward the purchase of the park areas located north of and adjacent to the C&NW Railway from the west line of the park west of Vail street to the east line of the park west of State road.

2. That a thorough search by competent real estate authorities be made to establish the legality of the sale of these parks and their original intended use.

3. That the parks located south of and adjacent to the C&NW Railway extending between the lines specified in suggestion number 1 be zoned for business only, and that an ordinance be passed and published prohibiting the use of railroad side track deliveries between Vail street and State road.

THE REASON for suggestion 3 is obvious because not only would additional business space be provided thereby, but by proper procedure, additional parking facilities could be realized should that suggestion receive favorable consideration.

It is hoped that this article will result in at least favorable consideration of the suggestion that the parks located north of the C&NW Railway be purchased by the Arlington Heights Park District for the same purpose for which they are now serving.

In fairness to the C&NW Railway, it should be remembered that they are one of, if not the largest tax payers in this community and that according to our tax system they are paying and bearing their share of the taxes which are imposed for the betterment of our community.

In appreciation

We certainly want to thank all the wonderful people who helped make our annual spaghetti supper the big success it was. Also, we want to show our appreciation to those who helped out so greatly by donating their time to help with the work involved and those who contributed the many necessary items that were needed.

To those who were inconvenienced by the huge turnout, we give our sincere apology. Thanks again to everyone, and here's hoping we may have the pleasure of entertaining you at some of our basketball games throughout this season.

That new depot

It would appear that the time is propitious for the park and village boards to get together and settle once and for all, the question of the railroad parks.

I believe also, that this controversy should be settled at a joint meeting of both boards—not by one of them making a proposition that the other must accept. Such a crisis occurred in connection with the building of the field house and playgrounds back in the WPA days.

Might I be so brash as to make a suggestion to these boards regarding the purchase of these parcels of park property. When dickering for the purchase of this property with the C&NW Railroad Co., make them agree that the money paid by the taxing bodies must be used in the building of a new depot.

The Arlington Heights chamber of commerce and the village board have worked hard to get a new depot. The railroad company has promised the mayor and the chamber that $27,000 has been set aside for remodeling. This figure has been upped to as high as $60,000, but still no action—just promises.

The two boards are in a position to bargain—to swap land for a new depot. The two boards will have the solid backing of the 200 members of the chamber of commerce, plus at least 90% of the 10,000 residents of Arlington Heights. We want no buildings marring the beauty of the present parks—not even the pig sty called a depot.

Eighty-five year old cattle dealer recalls days of cheap cows and cheaper milk

COW — FRESH COWS

I have just received a car load of choice fresh cows from Iowa, which I will sell Saturday and Monday, July 11 and 13, at private sale at my place in the village of Arlington Heights. Call and see them.

FRANK WAYMAN

—Cook Co. Herald July 6, 1904.

The above advertisement announcing the arrival of Iowa cows appeared in Paddock Publications almost weekly during the years 1901-1906.

The advertiser, Frank Wayman, now residing at 17 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, is probably the last of the cattle dealers who a half century ago kept the milk producers and farmers of this area supplied with fresh cows.

THE VALUE of the animals was so small that their farm owners made little concerted effort to raise their own stock. They were more interested in getting fresh cows to increase their milk production for which they were paid from $1.10 to $1.50 per hundred lbs., up to 3c a quart.

Those were the days before the tuberculin test was insisted upon by the Chicago Health department, which farmers claimed at that time would wreck the dairy industry by the culling of existing herds. Some farmers lost half of their herds when they were tested.

MR. WAYMAN, who was bron May 20, 1866, is today over 85 years old. He has as keen a mind as ever. He still has his ledger showing cost of all cows purchased and the cost of freight and other expenses. There were no income tax inspectors in those days, but Frank believed in good bookkeeping.

Heifers (milk cows) cost between $35 and $38; steers from $28 to $40; boars from $20 up. Freight charges were between $45 and $50 for a carload of cattle of 30 animals. Wayman was satisfied if he sold at $10 more than the cost of a cow.

When asked how he found his customers, Frank replied, "Paddock's newspaper." "Sometimes," said Wayman, "the advertisement would sell the cows before I arrived home."

Frank Wayman, 85, who in 1900 was satisfied with a $10 profit on each animal sold.

A BROTHER, Sam Wayman, who lived in Waucoma, Iowa, would contact the farmers and when Frank arrived on the scene the two would drive from farm to farm in a horse and buggy, directing the cow owners to have the purchases at the cattle loading chute on a certain day.

With the carload, Frank took passage home in the caboose, seeing that his purchases had proper care on the way to Itasca or Arlington Heights.

During his earlier operations Mr. Waymen disposed of his cattle by auction. The man who cried the sale was the late Abe Blum and the clerk was the late John Russel.

EVERY RAILROAD station had a cattle yard with a chute leading from the car door to the ground. Arlington Heights yard was on the site of the present property of Arlington Elevator & Coal Co.

The stench and the noise of the animals being loaded and unloaded was "something to smell and talk about."

The late Waldemar Krause was in similar business as Wayman, but while they were competitors, they were close friends.

Among the souvenirs of early days, Mr. Wayman has a copy of the Chicago Daily Drovers Journal of Nov. 2, 1903, which records sales at the following prices:

Cows (canners) $1.20 up per 100 lbs.; heifers $1.90 to $4.00; bulls $2.10 to $3.50; calves $2.50 to $6.50.

CHICAGO STOCK yard prices today for good grade cattle are from $19 to $23, per cwt., while calves sell from $30 to $37.

Milk cow prices today are from $375 to $425 each, according to Forke Bros., of Itasca, who are supplying many milk producers of this area with Wisconsin cows. These cows are TB and Bangs tested.

HARVEY AND RAY FORKE, whose father, the late Geo. Forke, started in the cattle business about 1910, recall that during the 1930 depression years, cattle were as cheap as in the 1900's, selling for $32 to $40 each.

"Regardless of the stories you year about the big money that farmers are making," says Harvey Forke, "milk producers today are not satisfied with the milk price, although they are receiving an average of $3.65 per 100 lbs."

A young man who wants to become a farmer has difficulties in finding a farm to rent. The few farms for rent bring $17 to $25 an acre. Owners prefer having their farms worked on shares.

In 1955 no milk producer can have in his herd any cows that are not Bangs tested.

TAX FACTS

By George S. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

If the Federal government doesn't have the money and can't borrow the money, it can't spend it!

The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois will therefore fight the proposal of Treasury Secretary Snyder to have Congress increase the present ceiling on Federal debt which is now limited to 275 billion dollars.

The present debt limit gives the people of the United States the greatest opportunity that they have had in many years to strike an effective blow for economy in government and to stabilize the purchasing power of the dollar. If Congress refuses to increase the debt limit, and refuses to vote new or increased taxes, the Federal government will have to reduce spending for non-defense purposes. The Taxpayers' Federation intends to do all in its power to see that the Illinois members of Congress take advantage of this opportunity to halt America's plunge down the road to the welfare state which has already resulted in catastrophe for Great Britain.

THE FEDERAL debt as of November 27 had already passed the 259 billion dollar mark, an increase of 2½ billion over a year ago. Federal indebtedness is just beginning to increase rapidly as a result of increased spending for defense and non-defense purposes previously authorized by Congress. It is expected that the Federal debt will pass the 275 billion mark by 1953, if Congress can be persuaded to increase the debt limit to 300 billion dollars as proposed by treasury secretary Snyder.

Every dollar increase in the federal debt means an increase in the price of bread and milk and meat and everything else that we buy. Every analysis of federal spending has shown that literally billions of dollars can be saved by eliminating waste, inefficiency and duplication of services. Congress and the administration have failed to take advantage of almost half of the recommendations of the Hoover commission. There can be no question in anyone's mind that the federal government can live within the present debt limit from present tax sources without impairing national defense or any other essential services, if it will only begin to practice economy. Now at last, through the federal debt limit, the people have it in their power to force the practice of economy by letting their members of Congress know that they want the debt limit left where it is, with no new or increased taxes.

It is hoped that the local taxpayer organizations, local chambers of commerce, local industrial associations and local junior chambers of commerce will unite in this campaign to have the Illinois delegation in Congress stand firm against any proposal to increase the debt limit, against any proposal to further increase taxes.

Tales of the Street

in from route 53 and claimed they hadn't seen any signs. These defendants pleaded guilty, were given a lecture on hunting ethics and the minimum fine of $25 and costs each.

Four others who were captured on the railroad tracks near Chicago ave. and in back of Tibbets-Cameron's lumber yard were given a more severe lecture for coming almost into the center of the village and their fines were set at $30 and costs each.

One defendant had requested a week's continuance, possibly in an effort to get some political pressure to working, his early efforts along that line having availed nothing. Officer Jost had himself quite a busy few minutes when he picked up the five near the center of town. He had just taken the guns from the two on the railroad tracks when bang-bang-bang went a bombardment in the nearby brush.

By the time he rounded up the three hunters, he had a collection of five shot guns and five prisoners. Lugging the guns himself, he herded the captives to the squad car and took them to the station where the guns were held as bail for the court hearings Friday night.

● OTHER CASES

Other than hunters' cases were on the docket Friday evening. A young fellow from Arlington Heights, who had been doing some wild driving after drinking a few beers and had accused the officer of taking his billfold, was given a stern going over by the judge and assessed a $20 and costs fine.

The young man later found his billfold, looked up the officer and apologized for his actions. He apologized again Friday evening at the suggestion of the judge.

Several juvenile cases were also on the docket, where the youngsters' parents, the police chief, and judge got together to talk things over and try to reach some sort of an understanding that would straighten the youngsters out.

● A COMEDOWN

Just when we folks in Palatine had got to feeling that we had a real town here, that we had gotten out of the hicktown class and were on our way, along comes a bunch of city hunters and makes us feel that we really aren't even a wide spot in the road.

Those hunters had got so close to the center of town that they could have shot a sparrow off the flagpole and insisted that they thought they were out in the open country and didn't know they were in a town — Wow, what a comedown!

Judge Hartman shook his head in amazement at their story of thinking they were out in the [illegible] remarked. "Now we've heard everything." One hunter did admit that when he [illegible] the tracks and saw a big red barn he did get the idea that he might be coming to a town and so took the shells out of his gun.

Those stories of being in the country led the judge to a lecture on hunting, the rights of property owners and the ethics of hunting. He gave particular emphasis to the fact that this was a settled and civilized country out here and that open range was a thing of the past and that this was really a town in spite of the inability of the hunters to recognize it as such.

● NOT A PUBLIC DUMP

Palatine village authorities are wondering just what they can do to impress upon the public that the village dump is not a public dumping ground and is not to be used for promiscuous dumping. Despite signs which proclaim "No dumping," the dumping continues. One dumper had some evidence of who he was amidst his rubbish. He lived far out of the village but when contacted by the police, he said that he was a taxpayer and thought he had a right to use the dump.

It was explained to him that the dump was a village affair and that he was not a village taxpayer. Even if he had been a village taxpayer, he would have had to have permission to dump rubbish there personally, as the dump is for the use of the village pickup trucks during rubbish collections and that any other dumping can be done only by permission of the proper authorities.

● FROM FLORIDA

Tom Norman comes up with a letter from Bill DePue who is down there in Florida on the Indian river. Bill has sure got the Florida sands in his shoes for keeps. He says that country is too beautiful to have to pressure anyone to come down to see it. The weather was glorious, a neighbor had just come in with 26 fine big trout and he himself was busy planting flowers and a vegetable garden.

From the list of all the garden stuff he has planted, you'd think that he was going to be ready to feed his visitors plenty of fresh vegetables when the crops are ready. Well, if he gets a good crop of vegetables, he's got the fruit, oranges and grapefruit on his place and fish galore in the Indian River which runs past his front steps.

With glorious weather, plenty to eat right at hand and no big fuel bills to pay, why wouldn't the guy rave about that country. Some of Bill's friends are threatening to try that climate and that Indian River fishing after the holidays.

● NEW TAX LAWS

It seems that the school laws weren't the only laws that got changed around and made more confusing at the last session of the legislature—the tax laws also came in for some changes. Now a village has to pass an ordinance or resolution setting the rate of their tax levy for the next year.

The state law states how much can be levied for each fund, but an ordinance has to be passed just the same and no ordinance can exceed the statutory amount allowed except the corporate levy, which may be 10% more than the statutory limit.

The corporate fund is the fund used for the general expenses of running a municipality and amounts usually to somewhere near 10% of the total village tax. The total village tax is somewhere near 10% of the total tax bill so that a raise of 10% in the corporate tax rate would mean about a 1% raise on the total tax bill.

Most villages are expected to pass an ordinance raising the corporate tax rate the 10% . The public has the right to petition for a vote on the proposed tax raise after the ordinance is passed by the village.

If no election is called within a certain time, the ordinance stands and the tax raise goes into effect.

● WRONG TOWN

It isn't every fellow who is so loyal to his home town that he'd get all hot and bothered and boiled up about it when some newspaper article places him as a resident of a neighboring town, but some loyal fellows do get het up about such an incident and Arthur T. McIntosh, Jr. is one of them.

A recent city newspaper article telling about Mac's election as president of the Chicago Alumni club of Northwestern University had him as a resident of Barrington. "I don't know where they got that idea," said Mac; "I did live there once, but I've been a resident of Palatine for years; this is my home and I like to be identified with the town and the folks of the town who are my friends and neighbors."

Well, folks, how's that for loyalty? Mac is an alumnus of and a great booster for Northwestern, he's a great follower of the Northwestern football team and he's proved by the way he got boiled up about being identified with Barrington in that newspaper story that he is also a great booster for Palatine and a believer in his home town and its people. That's the sort of loyalty that can help do things for a community.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

I am thinking about the atomic bomb, and I am very sorry for myself, and all of you people, because I am afraid that if it ever explodes here, some of us will be going places fast, and will not have time to worry about transportation.

I am thinking that man is a sensible creature, or at least more so than any of the dear animals about us, and yet those dear animals have the edge on us in more ways than one. To begin with, they do not worry about the atom bomb. So far as they know, it does not even exist. And domesticated animals have made servants of us intelligent creatures, who look after their welfare, provide them with food and shelter, and take care of them when they are sick or in danger.

I am thinking it is often a great disadvantage to be intelligent and creative, because human beings are foolish, or even funny, in the application of that intelligence to life. We invent airplanes, perfect them, then use them as instruments to destroy ourselves and other peoples of the earth. We invented guns to aid us in hunting, and use them to shoot one another up on a grand scale. I could go on reciting all of the things we have invented and made into weapons of destruction. Just now, hundreds of our scientists are trying to find new and more deadly means of destroying our enemies, while in the meantime they are working day and night to find more terrible means by which to destroy us. All this with a clear knowledge of Christ's teachings, whereby all the world could live in peace and brotherly love.

I am thinking that man is not a good creature at all, far from being a good Christian. He is selfish and greedy, yet he goes around with an imaginary halo about his head, believing that he really is just a little lower than the angels, while he cheats in business, commits wholesale murder, lies, steals and defrauds, and in many other ways is still just an animal with a more highly developed brain than his more fortunate brothers who have not yet lost their fur and are therefore not capable of the higher degree of animalism that man has.

I am thinking that no creature whose only restraining control is fear, has much to brag about. Yet man can only be kept from murder, rape and theft by fear of the law, fear of the atom bomb, fear of what might happen to the two or three dollars worth of chemicals that comprise his body and brains.

I am thinking that man's only hope for salvation is through his ideals, which in many ways are commendable, but which he talks about and dreams of, yet never puts into practice except in isolated instances. I am thinking that it is high time for mankind to wake up and go all out to make these ideals come true!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That the recognition of God's creation as spiritual, perfect and harmonious, will solve all the enigmas surrounding man's origin and existence will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The title of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday, December 9, is "GOD THE ONLY CAUSE AND CREATOR."

The Golden Text is from Genesis (1:1) "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth."

Bible selections (King James Version) in the Lesson-Sermon include these passages:

"That which is born on the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit . . . Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh . . . For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God" (John 3: 6; Rom. 8: 12, 14).

Selections from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"The foundation of mortal discord is a false sense of man's origin. To begin rightly is to end rightly. Every concept which seems to begin with the brain begins falsely . . . There can be but one creator, who has created all . . . Divine Science rolls back the clouds of error with the light of Truth, and lifts the curtain on man as never born and as never dying, but as coexistent with his creator" (pp. 262, 263, 557).

Telephone dials now being installed

You'll be glad to hear that Illinois Bell's program for fast, accurate dial service for Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights is on schedule.

Our installation men are now placing dials on the telephones in homes and offices in these communities. It's a big job. More than 7,400 telephones in the area will get the new dial look in the next few months.

Meanwhile, installation of dial equipment is under way in the new telephone exchange building at 106 West Eastman Street, Arlington Heights. Thousands of intricate dial equipment installations must be made to handle the service. In all, the total cost of the project will be some $1,900,000. According to the present schedule, your modern dial service will be ready next summer.

For your protection, every telephone installer carries an Illinois Bell identification card

Place calls in the regular way

In the meantime, please don't spin the dial. It will interfere with conversation. Just place your calls the regular way.

We'll keep you informed of our progress and give you plenty of notice before the new dial service is ready for use. If you have any questions, your telephone service representative will be glad to answer them. Just call the Business Office, Arlington Heights 9981.

W. C. Lathen, Manager

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

We'll put it up to you! There must be plenty of good reasons why more people buy Chevrolets than any other car.

Here are some things to think about.

There's the way Chevrolet looks. Nice clean, curved lines—like cars in the high-price field! Chevrolet's Body by Fisher sets the pace among low-priced cars.

There's the way Chevrolet rides and handles. The smoothness and big-car comfort of Unitized Knee-Action. Bigger brakes—biggest in the field—for safer, surer stops. Finest no-shift and standard driving at lowest cost with Powerglide or Synchro-Mesh transmission.

There's the way Chevrolet saves. Chevrolet is the lowest-priced line in the field and the savings go on and on with low operating costs.

There are plenty more reasons why Chevrolet is America's favorite. Come in and let us show them to you.

Chevrolet's time-proved POWERGlide automatic transmission

Finest no-shift driving at lowest cost. Combination of Powerglide Automatic Transmission and 105-h.p. Engine optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

Every now and then there is a story of political decency that ought to be told. Such stories may not wholly mitigate the entrenchment and corruption of machine politics, but they suggest (what we all know) that there is some good in all of us.

It come to me that this story is about Joseph Gill, who is clerk of the municipal court, and has been almost since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary. Whoever he is, this story is about a man in a highly responsible position in the courts and a highly capable deliverer of votes for the Democratic party in Cook county. He has a position which carries with it a goodly measure of patronage.

THIS STORY came to me a few years ago, when there was a referendum to permit the court of which our man is clerk to set up a new civil service classification and to hire a dozen social case workers, primarily for juveniles who come before the court. Someone asked why a dozen. And Mrs. T. F. Ludlow, who was then legislative representative of the Illinois PTA, told us the story.

It seems that some years ago, when this man was first elected to the position, there were a number of jobs available in the office, among them twelve office clerks. He had called in Mary McDowell, as I recall the story, who was one of the great lights in the development of social service in our area and in the world, and made a suggestion to her.

Basically, those jobs were his, and he had no authority to conduct social case work with any defendant before the court. But he was giving twelve jobs to Miss McDowell; he was sorry that they only carried the title and salary of office clerks, but she could name twelve social case workers and he would appoint them, and they would never have to do ordinary office work.

FOR ALMOST twenty years an executive in the Council of Social Agencies carried, as the politicos put it, "those jobs in her pocket," until the man who gave them to her prevailed upon his party to support the new job classification before the public. He did that, not to get the jobs back, but because it was becoming too difficult to hire social workers at office clerks' salaries.

I don't intend to minimize the undesirable features of too long tenure of a political party, nor the dangers of political patronage. This is just a little story about a time when the laws and the courts and the public did not recognize the need for trained counselling service to those who violate the law.

At that time private agencies of good will did not see the challenge enough to offer more than a corporal's guard for counselling service. But a politician with nothing to gain by it turned good "Democratic" jobs over to a "do-gooder;" and he let her go ahead doing good with no questions asked, no loyalty demanded, just the best possible assistance for boys and girls who had gone wrong and needed help.

Squire shop secures Boy Scout franchise for uniforms, equipment

Securing of the Boy Scout clothes and equipment franchise was announced this week by Danny Lind and Jim Monroe, managers of the Squire shop in Palatine. Gaining the franchise was another step in the expansion of the Squire shop since moving to the Northwest highway in Palatine.

In addition to men's and boys' clothing, the shop has the Western Union telegraph agency, the Sportsman's Retreat, and a large toy selection.

Just when the actual Boy Scout merchandise, uniforms, insignia and equipment will arrive is not known, though Squire shop management hopes it won't be long.

Saves Nine

The modern version of "a stitch in time" is the use of cellophane tape to mend rubber gloves. Just run a strip of the tape on the inside of the glove where the hole appears. It will hold indefinitely.

In Korea

John E. Ihle, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ihle of 3 S. Albert, Mt. Prospect, was recently promoted to the rank of corporal while serving with the 7th Infantry division in rugged mountain terrain north of the 38th parallel.

Recognized as the most traveled division in the Far East, the 7th fought its way from Pusan to the Manchurian border earlier in the war.

Corporal Ihle, a squad leader in Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 17th Regiment, has completed 12 months service with the army. He has completed six months service in Korea and wears the Korean service ribbon with two campaign stars and the Combat Infantryman badge.

Prior to entering the army he attended Lincoln Hill high school in Osseo, Wis.

In France

Sgt. John F. Glass of the U. S. Air Force, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Glass of Wheeling, left the U. S. November 26 and landed in France December 5.

In Texas

Airman Gordon W. Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Allison, 828 North Dunton ave., Arlington Heights, has been promoted from private first class to corporal in the air force.

Allison is assigned to the air force human resources research center, San Antonio, Tex. He works in budget planning and preparation section of the Budget and Fiscal Division.

Working with Allison is a former Arlington Heights high school classmate. He is Cpl. Gordon E. Carncross, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Carncross, formerly of 403 N. Belmont ave., Arlington Heights. Carncross entered the air force in September 1950, and Allison joined him in the center's budget and fiscal division following his enlistment in April.

The center is manned by over 1000 military and professional personnel who conduct scientific research for evaluation of Air Force personnel and improvement of training. In addition to its headquarters and two laboratories at Lackland AFB, San Antonio, the center has 14 operating units at 12 Air Force bases in eight states.

Allison, a graduate of Arlington Heights high school, received the bachelor of science degree in business administration from the University of Denver, Colo., in January of this year. Carncross has a bachelor's degree from the University of Illinois.

In Korea

1st Lt. Richard D. Lowman, 608 Foundry rd., Mt. Prospect, has been awarded the soldier's medal for heroism, not involving conflict with the army in Korea.

Lowman distinguished himself on Sept. 21, 1951, while his unit, Battery B of the 8th field artillery battalion, was supporting a task force advance in the vicinity of Mongsa.

The citation reads, in part:

"When a sudden fire started in an ammunition pile, First Lieutenant Lowman quickly secured a fire extinguisher and, although exposed to the hot artillery rounds, attempted to put out the blaze.

"After emptying the extinguisher, he grasped a water can and continued fighting the blaze until it was under control. His valorous actions were instrumental in preventing damage to the howitzer and casualties to the men of the unit.

"First Lieutenant Lowman's inspirational courage and unwavering devotion to duty are in keeing with the great traditions of the United States Army."

From Korea

Cpl. Lester Zoellner, son of Mrs. Walter Schroeder and Henry Zoellner of Prairie View, is now home on 30 days leave from Korea. Among relatives he is visiting are his sister, Shirley Robb, and family, brother Don and family in Palatine, father in Prairie View, and others in Arlington Heights.

He is spending much of his furlough with his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schroeder of Fremont, Mich.

In Arkansas

Pvt. Paul N. Ellingsen has been graduated from the eight-week food service school at Camp Chaffee, Ark. He is now qualified for duty in an army mess hall.

Private Ellingsen is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Ellingsen of 115 W. Fremont ave., Arlington Heights. Prior to entering the army, he was engaged in work at the Arlington Heights rest home with his parents. He attended the University of Illinois, Champaign, for two years.

In Colorado

Pfc. Norman C. Spratt of Mt. Prospect has just completed a six months course in radar at Keesler A.F.B., Biloxi, Miss., and has been transferred to Lowry Field, Colorado, to continue his studies with the 3422nd Armament Sqd.

Norman enlisted in the Air Force January 9, 1951, and received his basic training at Lackland A.F.B. in Texas.

In Korea

Robert Camm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Camm of Wheeling on November 10, wrote from Korea as follows:

"Today is the Marine Corps' 176th birthday. You know what the marines did? They put up loud speakers on the front lines and told the "Chinks" that it was the marines' birthday and they were all invited to come over and celebrate with us. The boys on the lines even stopped shooting for two hours to let them come if they wanted to. And they promised that every "Chink" that gave up would get a piece of birthday cake but the ones who wouldn't give up they really gave a big present. Guess what that might have been?

"From all the racket that was going on up there, my guess is that a lot of them got a free ticket to the world beyond.

"Danny Kaye and Monica Lewis put on a real show for us. That Danny Kaye is really a card and Monica Lewis is a very pretty girl and she sings nice, too."

In Illinois

Capt. Patrick J. Rawlings, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Florence Pasino of Box 653, Bensenville, and husband of Mrs. Frances Rawlings of 3107 N. Elm st., River Grove, has reported for training at Chanute Air Force Base, Rantoul, Ill.

Capt. Rawlings, who entered the Air Force August 6, 1940, transferred to Chanute air force base from Lake Charles, La.

Before entering the air force, he attended Steinmetz high school in Chicago.

From Arkansas

Home for a week from Camp Chaffee, Ark., is Capt. Francis E. Kelly of Palatine. Kelly has been company commander of a training company the past eight months and will return to Arkansas next week.

What's Underneath

Collapsible antennas for automobile radios are usually made of Monel, a nickel-copper alloy, because of its good mechanical properties and excellent resistance to corrosion in a wide variety of atmospheric conditions. These antennas are thin chromium plated in accordance with the Society of Automotive Engineers' specifications.

In Texas

Cpl. Carl Skoog, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Skoog, 208 W. Fremont st., Arlington Heights, is now assigned to base radio station RVOL at Lackland air force base, San Antonio, Texas. For the past year Cpl. Skoog has been assigned to the 3718 basic military training squadron as a tactical instructor, training basic airmen.

Prior to enlisting in the air force, Carl was employed as a radio announcer. This recent shift assignment will enable him to further his radio experience as an announcer and newscaster.

RVOL, a part of base personnel services, provides music, news, entertainment and information, for the tens of thousands of airmen stationed at Lackland. His address is: Cpl. Carl Skoog, AF16357000, Hdg. Sqdn. 3700 ABG, Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

From Korea

Sgt. Robert H. Fiene, 937 N. Patton ave., Arlington Heights, is on his way home after serving with the 453rd engineer construction battalion along the 38th parallel in Korea.

He will be released under the army policy of phasing out reservists.

The 453rd engineers are the builders of the Han river high-level railroad bridge from Yongdungpo to Seoul, and other bridges, railroads and roads south of the 38th parallel.

He was a member of A Company and held the position of wheel vehicle mechanic.

During his current tour of duty he was awarded the Korean Service Ribbon with two campaign stars.

In Korea

Pfc. Edwin Mielkey Jr., of Route 2, Arlington Heights, is serving as a draftsman in the operation section of the infantry division's 15th regiment in Korea.

Mielkey, who has been in Korea since July, was formerly a jeep driver in the Intelligence and Reconnaissance Platoon of Headquarters Company.

He entered the army last January and received basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Prior to entering the service, he was employed by the Illinois Range Company as a draftsman.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Mielkey, live in Arlington Heights.

How to save time and money on Long Distance calls

"How to save time

"Here are some pointers that will make your Long Distance service better and faster.

"First, call by number whenever possible. It's the fastest way to get connected.

"The way you place the call's important, too. Suppose you're calling New York, and the number is CIrcle 6-0200.

"When 'Long Distance' answers, you just say 'New York City, Circle 6-0200.' (By giving the name of the city first, you will help the operator speed your call.) Then she'll ask you for your number.

"How to save money

"1 — Long Distance rates are lower after 6 P. M. and all day Sunday. The circuits are usually less busy then, so your calls go through faster, too.

"2 — When you're willing to talk to anyone at the other end, it's most economical to put your call through 'Station-to-Station.' You don't have to say 'Station-to-Station'— just give the operator the city and number you want.

"3 — When you want to talk to a particular person or extension telephone, tell the Long Distance operator you want to place a 'Person-to-Person' call. This costs a little more, but charges don't start until you begin talking with the person (or on the extension) you want."

"Here's one reason Long Distance calls usually go through fast. This new equipment enables the operator to dial your calls to distant places as quickly as you can dial a local call. Remember, the fastest way to get connected is to name the city you're calling, then give the number."

At Illinois

The University of Illinois men's glee club of 86 members will travel to Chicago Tuesday, Dec. 11, to sing at the 58th annual banquet of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association in the Hotel Conrad Hilton.

Conducted by Paul Young, professor of music, the glee club will present a half-hour program from the east balcony of the ballroom before some 2000 guests. Frederick J. Ottinger, baritone, of Rte. 4, Elgin, a senior in the School of Music, will lead in singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Singing in the glee club this year is Allan Peters, 403 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights.

At Cornell

Nancy Ayers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Ayers, Inverness Countryside, Palatine, a freshman, and Winifred Oswald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oswald, 333 W. Slade St., Palatine, a freshman at Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, Ia., have been named to the Cornell Oratorio society.

The Oratorio society is preparing Handel's "Messiah," under the direction of Jacques Jolas, professor of piano, for its annual Christmas presentation in King Memorial chapel on the Cornell campus, Sunday, Dec. 16 at 3 p. m.

At Florida Southern

Robert Phillip Teutsch, a graduate of Arlington Heights township high school, has accepted a bid to become a member of Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity at Florida Southern college.

Teutsch, a junior at Florida Southern, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Teutsch, 912 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights. His fraternity is one of nine national organizations on the Florida Southern campus.

At Lawrence

Roger Kennedy, 511 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, was listed in the Schola Cantorum at Lawrence college, Appleton, Wis., which sang Handel's "The Messiah" December 2. The chorus numbers 214 voices and will be directed by Dr. Carl J. Waterman, head of choral music at Lawrence for 41 years. For the last 27 of those years "The Messiah" has been a Christmas-time tradition in Appleton.

At Northwestern

Miss Betty Jo (Dusty) Hohmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hohmann of Arlington Hts. has been accepted for membership in Beta Beta Beta national biological honorary fraternity.

Miss Hohmann is a senior at Northwestern university in the college of liberal arts, majoring in zoology and chemistry, and pursuing a pre-medical course.

She is also a member of the American chemical society as a student affiliate, and of the Delta Zeta social sorority.

At Iowa Wesleyan

William Rehling, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rehling, 316 George st., Mt. Prospect, has been named treasurer of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Change scholarship rules for teachers

Changes in laws providing state scholarships for prospective teachers are encouraging more capable young people to prepare for teaching.

There now are 2,465 students holding such awards enrolled in the colleges operating under the Teachers College Board, an increase of 367 over a year ago.

Revisions in laws passed by the recent legislature made graduates of private as well as public high schools eligible for the scholarships; made them available to graduates of junior colleges; provided for the transfer of scholarships from school to school, and put them on a year-round basis. Formerly such awards were not valid in the summer when students used them throughout the year.

Illinois will produce about 12 million hogs

Illinois farmers will produce close to 12 million hogs and pigs this year, according to projected estimates of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, constituting an income of about $500 million.

Illinois produces about 11 per cent of the nation's swine crop, which is expected to top 106 million head this year. Hogs rank as the number two cash farm crop in this state, bringing in 21.8 per cent of the total farm income. Cattle and calves rate the top spot.

New bathroom makes farm home modern

About three-fourths of Illinois farm homes are not "modern in the sense that they do not have bathrooms.

Keith H. Hinchcliff, extension agricultural engineer at the Illinois college of agriculture, has some ideas to suggest if you don't have a bathroom in your farm home and are planning to add one.

The convenience of a bathroom is its main attraction, Hinchcliff says, but it will also "modernize" your house and make it more attractive to renters and for resale if that time comes.

BATHROOM location is a little different in a farm home from its location in a town house. It should be accessible from the bedrooms, and should be located downstairs if there are any bedrooms on the first floor.

Cleanup space for the men of the family as they come in from chores is especially important for a farm home, but most homemakers prefer that the bathroom not be used for this purpose. A washroom near the work area or in the basement is a good idea.

One thing you'll want to consider when you plan the location of your bathroom is the plumbing already in the house. However, don't give up a convenient bathroom location just to save a few feet of pipe.

IN SOME farm homes, an old closet might be large enough and located right for conversion into a bathroom. More often, a slice can be taken out of an oversized bedroom to provide both a bathroom and a short hall.

For more information on bathrooms, see your county farm or home adviser or write to the department of agricultural engineering, Urbana, and ask for USDA circular 638, "Planning the Bathroom," or the university of Illinois leaflet on "How You Can Remodel Your Model-T Farmhouse."

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS

NEWS FOR THE FARMER

Carl F. Mees — Adviser and Editor

Farm Facts

In its study of the Department of Agriculture, the bi-partisan Hoover Commission found flagrant examples of duplication, waste and inefficiency. Its report—made by leading farm experts—recommended ways and means of correcting the worst of these faults through reorganization of the department. At the beginning of the recently-adjourned session of Congress, bills were introduced in both the House and Senate by leading Democrats and Republicans that would enable these changes to be made. So far, neither body has voted on them. Consequently, hundreds of millions of dollars are being wasted at a time when every penny should be saved. The bills can be passed if the public wants them bad enough.

Bacitracin helps to control dysentery

Bacitracin, one of the newer drugs, may help to control costly outbreaks of swine dysentery.

Test results on the use of bacitracin were reported recently by four staff members of the University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine. They are Drs. L. E. Boley, G. T. Woods, R. D. Hatch and Robert Graham.

In the University of Illinois trials, bacitracin proved better than sodium arsanilate and far more effective than either sulfathalidine or sulfamethazine in treating four groups of infected pigs.

Treatment of pigs with 100,000 units of bacitracin for six days resulted in the recovery of 96 per cent of the pigs. Reducing the amount of the drug to 50,000 units resulted in 80 per cent recovery. Only 44 per cent of the untreated pigs recovered.

Pigs treated with sulfathalidine and sulfamethazine were only a little better off than untreated pigs. Sodium arsanilate treatment resulted in 83 per cent survival, but some of the pigs remained unthrifty even after signs of dysentery had disappeared.

State poultry program puts cash in pockets

By following the Illinois 6-point poultry program completely, one farmer in east-central Illinois earned an extra 70 cents per hen in egg sales alone last year.

Poultryman Sam Ridlen and egg marketing specialist E. E. Broadbent of the Illinois college of agriculture say this farmer made that much more than another man who followed only part of the program and who did not market his eggs efficiently.

Ridlen and Broadbent point out that for a flock of 500 hens, that 70-cent additional profit would boost your yearly earnings by $350, even when you sell on a nongraded basis. If both farmers had sold eggs on a grade basis, they could have doubled ... profits by early brooding and by keeping a pullet flock.

POULTRYMAN with the higher earnings replaced his hens on July 1 and kept a pullet flock. He sold 58 per cent of his eggs during the fall months when prices were high. In contrast, the other man kept a mixed flock of hens and pullets and produced only 40 per cent of his eggs when prices were high.

Here are four important steps to keep in mind in order to get the most from your laying flock: Ridlen says to brood early, keep an all-pullet flock, have your hens laying heaviest in the fall when prices are high, and market your eggs on a graded basis.

The Illinois 6-point poultry program includes improved stock, proved management, proper housing, good feeding, healthy flocks and efficient marketing.

Tell average of meat animals across country

"Number of meat animals per square mile in the United States amount to 15.4 head of cattle, 21.5 hogs and 10.4 sheep and lambs as an average for the nation," it pointed out editorially in the October issue of National Live Stock Producer, America's leading live stock journal.

"These averages are based upon total land area in the U.S. and the total number of animals on U.S. farms and ranches as of January 1, 1951—46,514,000 beef cattle, 65,028,000 hogs and 31,505,000 sheep and lambs.

TEN LEADING states in the average number of cattle per square mile are Iowa, 61.2; Nebraska, 44.1; Kansas, 35.9; Illinois, 30.4; South Dakota, 28.3; Missouri, 27.3; Texas, 27.2; Oklahoma, 25.2; Indiana, 22.1; and Louisiana, 20.9. These states contain 56.8% of total beef cattle population in the U. S. and have an average of 31.5 cattle per square mile.

"The 10 leading hog states with an average of 81.4 hogs per square mile are Ohio 236.7; Indiana, 135.9; Illinois, 123.6; Ohio, 83.2; Missouri, 70.4; Minnesota, 45.3; Kentucky, 41.3; Nebraska, 38.8; Wisconsin, 34.6 and Tennessee, 32.8. These states contain 69.8% of the nation's total hog numbers.

"Taking all meat animals into consideration—beef cattle, hogs, sheep and lambs—the following five states lead in average numbers of all meat animals per square mile; Iowa, 316; Indiana, 171; Illinois, 165.1; Ohio, 25.13; Missouri, 115.1.

Feed supplies look ample for coming year

The 1951-52 supply of high-protein feeds of nearly 14 million tons is the largest on record and is one-third larger than the amount fed 5 years ago.

So reports S. W. Terrill, University of Illinois representative on the feed survey committee of the American Feed Manufacturers association. This group recently reviewed the supply and demand for feeds for the period from October of this year through next September.

TOTAL SUPPLY of grains and other concentrates available for livestock feed for the 1951-52 feed year will be nearly 137 million tons. That's about 9 per cent more than the amount fed in 1950-51.

Supply of grains and low-protein by-products is 10 per cent larger this year than last; and the supply of high-protein feeds, on an oilmeal equivalent basis, is up 3 per cent.

The 1951 crops of corn, oats, barley and grain sorghums were about 6 million tons smaller than those of last year. But larger inventories on hand this fall brought total supplies of these grains for 1951-52 above last year.

LAW on the FARM

Farm Names

Several inquiries have come to our office lately from farmers and farm wives about the naming of a farm.

They want to know whether there is some legal procedure for naming a farm, whether it can be named without resorting to any legal procedure, and what effect naming has. Here are some answers to these questions:

Anyone can name his farm and use the name in any way he sees fit—on stationery, advertising, signs, bank accounts — without seeking legal permission of any kind. Furthermore, he can choose any name he pleases. If the name he chooses has already been registered with the county recorder as the name for some other farm in the county, then he cannot get it legally recorded, but it can nevertheless be used.

THERE IS AN Illinois law making it possible for an owner to register the name of his farm with the county recorder. This law says:

"The owner of any farm in the State of Illinois desiring to name his farm may have the name of his farm, together with a description of his lands to which said name applies, recorded in a book of registry kept for that purpose in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said farm is located, and such recorder shall furnish to such landowner a proper certificate, setting forth the name and description of such lands; when any name shall have been recorded as the name of any farm in such county, such name shall not be recorded as the name of any other farm in the same county."

The fee for recording a name is one dollar.

The law also provides that sale or conveyance of all or a part of the farm does not convey the name unless the deed so states.

A registered farm name may be cancelled for a fee of twenty-five cents.

The law referred to is in the Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 5, Sections 57-60. It was adopted in 1915.

Income tax hints on radio Tuesday

This time of year farmers, farm owners and employees of all concerns will be thinking about income tax reports. Ralph Jacobs, C.P.A. of Waukegan and K. R. McNamara of the Lake-Cook farm supply company will discuss changes of the income tax law, time of making reports and dates final payments must be made.

Farmers can listen in Tuesday, December 11, at 1 p. m. and learn of the latest changes in the income tax program on "Cooperation is Strength" over Radio Stattion WKRS for farm front news and discussions.

Milk payments

Cook-DuPage county dairy farmers received $12,783.71 for milk delivered to Bowman Dairy company receiving stations during the month of October, 1951. Monthly figures are sent to this newspaper as soon as they are compiled by Bowman's general office.

Plan dispersal sale of Markheim herd

The dispersal of the famous Rolling Woods Farm dairy herd of purebred Holsteins at the Fox Valley Livestock Center, one-half mile west of St. Charles, Monday, December 17, is expected not only to draw a large crowd from the nearby area but buyers from all parts of the United States.

A preview of the sale will be held Sunday afternoon, December 16, with refreshments being served visitors.

POULTRY INCOME

Hamilton county ranks highest in Illinois in percentage of farm income from poultry, according to the 1945 census, most recent available figures.

Clean furnace filters for best heating

When air filters on a forced air heating system become clogged with dirt and lint, the system may not keep you comfortably warm.

F. W. Andrew, extension agricultural engineer at the Illinois College of Agriculture, suggests that you take these filters out at least once a year and clean them with your electric vacuum cleaner.

However, if you use them without cleaning for more than a year they may become so clogged that it will be impossible to improve their operation for any length of time. In that case, you will need new filters, Andrew says.

WHEN YOU TAKE out the filters to clean them, it is a good idea to check the lubrication on the blower motor and put some oil on the blower bearings. Check to see that the belt from the motor to blower is neither too tight nor too loose, and be sure that the pulley on the motor is tight.

Most blower units have adjustable diameter pulleys so that you can regulate the speed of the fan to provide the correct amount of air. In general, the fan should operate as slowly as possible and still provide enough air movement to warm your house satisfactorily. The speed of the fan will depend on the size of your rooms and how many rooms you have to heat.

How to Hang Small Pictures

AN EFFECTIVE way of hanging small pictures is illustrated. Take a shipping tag, cutting and creasing it as indicated. Glue it to the back of the frame, taking care to fasten the tag so that the picture will hang straight. This is a simpler method than using eye hooks and picture wire and will be just as satisfactory. (Illustration courtesy Popular Mechanics.)

Schaumburg News

Married 25 years

Upwards of 250 guests gathered at Benhardt's hall in Roselle last Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pierce who were celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary. Music for the evening's festivities was furnished by Wilbur Straub's orchestra of Roselle.

The Pierces, who were married at Lincoln, Ill., on December 4, 1926, are the parents of four children, Marietta, Eugene, Edward and Robert.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierce were further honored Sunday afternoon and evening when an open house was held and a total of 75 guests were received during the day. Several persons who were unable to attend the open house visited the Pierces Monday evening.

Birthdays

Happy birthday to Wesley Flentge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Flentge, who'll be eight years old Sunday. Bill Rascher also has a birthday coming up Sunday. Bobby Peters has a birthday Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Moeller are making plans to leave December 15 for Oakland, Calif., where they will be the house guests of Mrs. Moeller's sister and family. The Moellers are planning on a three-week trip.

Eugene Pierce is leaving Thursday to enter the armed forces. He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pierce.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Meyer entertained Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Koelling of Arlington Heights last Sunday evening.

Wayne Nebel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nebel, who is stationed at Walker Air Force Base in New Mexico, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Slingerland Jr. are making plans to move into their new home which is nearing completion in a few weeks.

Mrs. Elmer Linneweh is under observation at St. Joseph's hospital since last Sunday. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Moeller.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Peters and family entertained relatives during the week end. The occasion was Mrs. Peters' birthday which took place Saturday.

MRS. MABEL LaMARCHE — Ph. Libertyville 2-1373

Long Grove Events

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Umbdenstock and Mrs. Emma Kruger accompanied by Mrs. Elmina Schley, daughter Mabel, Libertyville, attended the funeral of their cousin, George Quentin, in Chicago Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Potts and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Towner were Sunday visitors in the Charles Sladik home in North Chicago.

Sam J. Lee, Elgin, called on Mr. and Mrs. John Hans, Monday.

Misses Marilyn and Annette LaMarche, were Sunday afternoon visitors in the H. A. Laystrom home in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wulff attended the wedding of Miss Veeck and Eldon Krusnak at the Washburn church, Half Day, and later the reception at the Moose hall in Highland Park.

Mrs. Dorothy Wehrenberg took her niece, Mrs. George Bohr, to Milwaukee Sunday where she took the train for her home in Minneapolis, Minn.

Record cow

With 704 pounds of butterfat and 17,572 pounds of milk testing 4.0% to her credit, Florem Peerless Lucy, registered Holstein-Friesian cow owned by Ray E. Meyer, of Roselle, has completed a 365-day production test in official Herd Improvement Registry.

She was milked 2 times daily, and was 9 years 1 month of age when she began her testing period.

Testing was supervised by the University of Illinois, in cooperation with The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Forest River

William Stavros celebrated his fourteenth birthday last Thursday by treating his classmates to a large birthday cake.

Marie Schart was taken to the Evanston hospital in a serious condition last Thursday morning.

It is with deep regret we announce the passing of Mrs. Margaret Lude. She passed away after an illness of three weeks at St. Francis hospital Saturday at 10:40 p.m. Mrs. Lude had been a resident of Forest River for 15 years and always was active in all the civic groups. She was a member of the Forest River Ladies auxiliary, the Feehanville PTA and the Forest River church.

Mrs. Lude was laid to rest Tuesday after services at Sullivan's, at 6311 N. Clark st., to the Ridgewood cemetery. Mr. Lude preceded her in death six years ago. Mrs. Lude leaves a son, Frank, and a sister.

Just a great big hello to all the neighbors of our community. The new officers of the Community club for 1951-52 have now officially taken over the reins of the club. The biggest event for the new group is the annual New Year's eve party which is being planned. The price of admission is small, only 50c. There are to be all sorts of refreshments, favors and also music. For those who like to have an inexpensive New Year's eve celebration and still be with neighbors and friends, it is the club house for them. Everyone is welcome.

Members of the Community club are also for the most part the Volunteer Fire department. So remember you have a date to bring yourself and escort to the Community club for December 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Noehring left quite suddenly last Wednesday for Paducah, Ky., on a mercy trip. It seems Mrs. Noehring's sister, Betty Wilcox, called her as Mr. Wilcox was taken ill quite suddenly and in a serious condition at a Paducah hospital. Mr. Wilcox passed away unexpectedly late Wednesday night so the Noehrings made arrangements for the body to be brought to Haben's Funeral Home in Skokie, from where the funeral was held. The interment was at Ridgewood cemetery. The Wilcoxes are originally from St. Louis, but at the time of his death, Mr. Wilcox had been doing some government hauling for the Atomic division. For the present Mrs. Wilcox will be making her home with the Noehrings.

The three upper grades of the Feehanville school have been transferred to the Prospect Heights school as of Monday. Also it was deemed reasonable, by the school board, to accept Dwight V. Clark's resignation and, for the time being, Mrs. Cavett of Des Plainse will be teacher for the upper grades. It is hoped that these changes will all be to the best advantage of the children.

IDYL NIPPER — P. O. BOX 180, MT. PROSPECT

Feehanville School

School patrons feel that congratulations to the school board and the planning commission of District 26 are in order. The upper three grades, now consisting of 19 pupils, have started in the Prospect Heights school, where they will have the same advantages as other schools in this area. Manual training, sewing, cooking, speech classes, music, supervised gymnasium, etc., will be offered them. Moving these students to Prospect Heights will relieve the crowding of our present school so that the students will receive more individual attention. The primary room will now have the first and second grades which consists of 23 students. The upper grades, third, fourth and fifth, have a total of only 19 students.

This year has seen bus service started and an alleviation of the overcrowded condition. This, together with the hot lunch program which we have had for some time, assures our children of more adequate educational facilities, until our new building is completed.

THE PLANNING commission is pushing the plans for the new building. Mr. Klopp of Palatine has been chosen as an architect. The final contract is now being drawn up. Mr. Klopp has designed several schools, among them the Prospect Heights school addition. The features which were incorporated into the Prospect Heights plans have impressed the planning commission and the school board very favorably.

At the planning commission meeting last Thursday, Mr. Klopp gave a number of suggestions about plans for the over-all program of School District 26. When Mr. Klopp meets with the commission this week, he will have preliminary sketches for their consideration.

We are glad to welcome Mrs. Hanson back to our meetings after an illness of two weeks.

We are happy to welcome three new students this week.

Prospect Meadows

Introducing

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Getts have recently moved into their home at 404 Foundry rd. Mr Getts has his own business and has just opened a new plant at 5724 Diversey ave It is called the Getts Photo Finishing company. Two boys are also in the Getts family, Robert, who is 14 years old, and Donald, who is 10. The family spend their week ends together; every Sunday they all go fishing.

Parties

Elaine Johnson of Foundry rd. is entertaining a group of ladies from Prospect Meadows. The group meets every month on the first Tuesday. The choice of entertainment is up to the hostess.

Mrs. Richard Jenkins had a party last Thursday to show Avon products to her friends and neighbors. Wednesday night she also had a few friends in.

Child study

The Child Study group of Prospect Heights found a group from the Prospect Meadows community in attendance. The speaker, Dr. C. Umhau Wolf of the Association of Family Living, wa excellent. Afterward coffee and cake were served for the social hour.

Wilson Community

Approve new subdivision in Wilson school district

Cook County Board approved last week a plat for Stolley's subdivision adjacent to Rand rd., south of Palatine rd. in Wheeling township. The property is in the Wilson school district.

A potluck supper will be served December 14, from 5 to 7 p. m. for the members of the Wilson PTA. The monthly meeting of the PTA will follow the supper at 8 p. m. Plans for the Christmas party to be held December 21 will be discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Carlino are leaving the community this month when they move into their new home on S. Mitchell in Arlington Heights. Mrs. Carlino's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Freeman of Crystal Lake, will occupy the Palatine rd. house. The Freemans left this vicinity about four years ago and their friends welcome them back.

Guy Costellanos was 10 years old December 4, and celebrated his birthday with a party. Those attending were Leslie Miller, Randall Huebner, Dennis Rice, Billy Schneider, Eddie Natzke, Chuckie Simmonds and Robert Russo.

Happy birthday to Ronald Thompson, who was 11 years old December 5.

Ten-year old Andy Wallor shot two ducks at Grass Lake last Saturday; a 3 pound Mallard drake and a 3/4 pound Merganzer. The duck season was interupted by a week of bad weather, but last week's mild temperature brought many ducks and hunters out to the local lakes.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Magnussen gave a dinner party Sunday in honor of their daughters, Dorothy and Beverly, whose birthdays were December 2 and 3.

Public ice skating at Arena daily and nightly

Chicago area winter sport enthusiasts unable to find the time for visiting the gay resorts are making good use of a "Sun Valley" setup right in their own front yard. It's the beautiful Chicago Arena, located right off the lake at Erie and Ontario sts. and McClurg Court.

The Chicago sector's only ice rink, the Arena is a gay spot as young and old glide across the glazed surface seven days and seven nights a week and make use of the many other clublike facilities at their disposal.

Public skating sessions are held during the day on the 85 feet by 250 feet surface, from 2:30 to 5 in the afternoon and evenings from 8:15 to 11 p. m. Music for these sessions is provided by Mildred Fitzpatrick, talented artist, on the Arena's mighty $50,000 Wurlitzer organ.

Hockey and figure skates are permitted at all times and racing skates only on Monday through Friday afternoons except on school holidays. Free instruction for beginners is provided on Monday nights by the Arena's staff of competent instructors.

Bits o' business

A match industry spokesman estimates that United States companies produced over 508 billion matches in the year ended June 30, 1951; more than half of them were book matches . . . Commerce Department figures the government will run about $4 billion in the red for the fiscal year ending next June 30 . . . Good news for the consumer at last—the Office of Price Stabilization has notified soap makers that their price ceilings will be lowered . . . The nation's steel mills were scheduled to operate at 103.7 per cent of theoretical capacity last week, compared with 101.1 per cent the week before. (Real capacity at any given time exceeds 100 per cent because theoretical capacity takes into account need for periodic shutdowns).

Presenting the Younger Generation

Bright eyes

These big brown eyes miss very little that occurs in the Winkler household. They belong to young Tommy Winkler, 9 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Winkler of 1402 Euclid ave., Arlington Heights.

"Tommy has a good time watching the other children," replied Mrs. Winkler, "and he always likes to be with people."

Bonnie braids

Beverley Winkler is 8½ years old, has brown eyes, and brown hair worn in two pretty braids. She is in the third grade at the South school in Arlington Hts.

Spare time is spent playing with the boys and practicing the piano, stated her mother. Books and records are Beverley's requests for Christmas.

Middle man

And in between comes Jimmy, 4 year old member of the Winkler family. He has blond hair, blue eyes and a deep interest in tractors and trains. It would be fine with Jimmy if Santa brings him a train Christmas day.

"He likes to take care of Tommy," stated Mrs. Winkler when describing Jimmy, "and carries toys wherever he wants them."

Grandparents of the children are Mrs. R. A. Beverley of Park Ridge and Mrs. Frederick Winkler of Plainwell, Mich.

Daddy's girl

Wearing this sweet expression is Mary Catherine Deibel, 14 month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Deibel of 644 Newbury pl., Arlington Heights. Cathie, as she is nicknamed, has dark brown hair, brown eyes, and is a good natured, happy baby.

"She's a daddy's girl," laughed Mrs. Deibel, "and will not go to bed at night unless Daddy tucks her in. She hasn't shown much inclination toward dolls," she continued, "as she is surrounded by buses, tractors and trains." Owner of these toys is Paul Anthony, Cathie's brother, pictured next.

Little traveler

Blond and blue-eyed Paul Deibel has reached the 2½ year mark. "Paul loves to be outside and especially likes to travel," said Mrs. Deibel. "We have taken him on several trips and already he can name every car on the road."

This little fellow saturated with a fascination for trucks, cars and choo-choos, calls Santa Claus every day on his toy phone to tell him to be sure to leave some at his house.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is it proper for an unmarried woman to attach the title of "Miss" to her name when signing a letter?

A. Only if the title is enclosed in parentheses, as, "(Miss) Ruth Thompson." Generally, if the writer signs her name merely "Ruth Thompson," it is taken for granted that she is unmarried. However, if she wishes to be sure that the reply to her is addressed properly, she will include the title as above.

Q. Is it necessary to write anything on the card that accompanies a wedding gift?

A. No; the card is sufficient, as good wishes and congratulations are offered at the reception.

Q. Is it really all right for a woman to offer her hand to a man to whom she is being introduced?

A. Although this is not often done, there is really nothing improper about the gesture if the woman is sincerely pleased over the meeting.

Q. Is the fashion of "cutting in" at a dance considered in good taste?

A. To my way of thinking, it is rude and irritating to a couple who may be enjoying that particular dance. However, some girls like it as an indication of their popularity, and the custom is generally accepted by poilte society.

Q. If a man is walking with a woman and someone who is a stranger to him bows to his companion, should he also return the salutation?

A. Yes, always, by lifting his hat.

Q. When a bride has no family, near relatives, or guardian, who should defray her portion of the wedding expenses?

A. The bride must meet these expenses herself. And, of course, the size of her wedding depends upon the size of her purse.

Q. When the bride marries in a traveling dress or suit, what does the bridegroom wear?

A. Any ordinary dark business suit, or one that is appropriate for traveling, with perhaps a single white flower from the bride's corsage in his lapel.

Q. When there is an item on a restaurant or hotel menu which one does not understand, is it all right to ask the waiter about it?

A. Yes. Only a timid person would hesitate to do so.

Q. May one use the telephone to acknowledge receipt of a gift?

A. This is not the best form. Nothing can take the place of that personally written note of thanks.

Q. Is it proper to partake of water, tea or coffee at the table while there is food in the mouth?

A. No; the food should be swallowed before taking any liquid.
